United Church Opens Meeting

Two Highways Flooded; Rivers Rise Steadily

Monashee Road Closed; Rampart Raised at Moyie

WATER LEVELS

	Today	1953	1948
Trail	17.30	19.11	18.72
Revelstoke	14.39	15.11	15.70
Mission	6.40	11.30	9.97

VANCOUVER (BUP)—British Columbia's unpredictable flood situation appeared worse today following sporadic reports of flooding from the province's interior.

Steady warm rains falling over much of the province added a new worry to residents of low-lying valleys, and two highways were reported flooded at two points in the interior.

Rising water in the Moyie River flooded part of the southern trans-provincial highway south of Cranbrook, and flooding creeks in the Monashee Pass forced closure of the Vernon-Slocan highway between Vernon and Needles. The trans-provincial highway was kept open when bulldozers were used to erect a gravel and dirt rampart.

RIVERS RISING

The interior mining centre of Kimberley, which suffered $500,000 damage when Mark creek went on a rampage in 1948, set up an emergency flood committee to map plans to meet a threatened outburst.

A similar committee was set up at New Westminster, where Mayor Fred Jackson was empowered to take steps to help protect Lulu Island at the mouth of the Fraser should the river overflow its banks.

Steady rises also were reported on the Columbia, Kootenay, Thompson and Similkameen rivers. Officials warned that either prolonged heat or heavy rains will worsen the situation.

The rain, however, temporarily eased the forest fire picture—only two fires burned Tuesday in the Vancouver forest district.

EMERGENCY SESSION FOR BIG 3

Far East Talks Hold Pearson

GENEVA (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, today postponed his departure from the Geneva conference.

GENEVA (UP)—The western Big Three called an emergency strategy meeting today to discuss the Indo-China talks and the critical situation in the Far East.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith conferred at 1 p.m., two hours before resumption of Indo-China negotiations.

The three statesmen were confronted with these developments in the fast changing Far Eastern picture:

1. A French decision, supported by the U.S. to try to confine the Indo-China negotiations at this stage to ways of stopping the fighting and avoid getting bogged down in political discussions.

2. A scheduled vote of confidence in the French chamber of deputies on Premier Joseph Laniel's Indo-China policy.

3. Conflicting reports from Washington over a decision by the Eisenhower administration on southeast Asian policy.

SAME POLICY

Smith assured Bidault Tuesday night, after urgent telephone conversations with Washington, that U.S. policy on Indo-China had not changed.

French delegates to the Geneva conference had misinterpreted remarks made by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday to mean that America might write off Indo-China as a failure.

Rebels Within 6 Miles of Hanoi

Reds Step Up New Phase of 'Victory Drive' In Indo-China; Acts of Sabotage Feared

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—French bombers struck at Communist forces infiltrating the Red River "rice bowl" around Hanoi today and French troops strung barbed wire and dug trenches to protect delta cities against the second phase of the Red "victory drive."

A French military spokesman described the Communist threat to the delta—stepped up since the fall of Dien Bien Phu—as "serious but not desperate."

Hanoi observers placed an ominous interpretation on the spokesman's description, because it was in almost the same terms that Dien Bien Phu was described shortly before it fell.

American-supplied bombers and fighters operating off heavily guarded delta airfields smashed Red supply bases tunneled beneath ricefield villages within the delta itself.

At one point the Communists had closed to within six miles of Hanoi.

Twenty-six bombers struck at troop concentrations along the Red River southeast of Hanoi.

Extra sentries armed with submachine guns were posted by road and rail bridges to block attemtps at sabotage, particularly along the Hanoi-Haiphon road and railroad which funnel nearly all French war supplies into the delta, which is the key to northern Indo-China.

The 58-mile double artery has been the target of intensified Communist Viet Minh raids ever since the battle for Dien Bien Phu began two months ago.

The rebels command an estimated 100,000 regulars and "provincial" (guerrilla) troops within the delta. French and Viet Nam forces now total about 64,000 men, but many of these are scattered in isolated outposts, virtually encircled by territory under Red political control.

Plans to Evacuate Wounded From Fort

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The French high command ordered a French liaison mission today to prepare to fly to Dien Bien Phu for a dramatic meeting with the Communists to arrange the evacuation of 1,300 wounded French and Viet Namese soldiers.

The mercy mission will include doctors to look over the wounded, engineers to survey the wrecked airfield where ambulance planes must land and staff officers to work out actual details of the operations with the Reds.

Military sources said the group probably would leave by helicopter Thursday. Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap specified that the French use helicopters in the initial meeting and asked that the French high command give 24-hour notice of the flight.

The Communists reported earlier they had authorized "French medical services, from the nurses to the commander," to stay on at Dien Bien Phu and care for the wounded. The French dropped food and medical supplies earlier into the ruins, marked by a huge red cross made from red silk parachutes.

VIET NAM HEARD

GENEVA (UP)—The anti-Communist government of Viet-nam, Indo-China, today demanded a halt to the Indo-Chinese fighting under international safeguards, acceptance by the Reds of Emperor Bao Dai as the national leader and eventual free elections under UN supervision.

Vietnam also served notice it will never accept partition as a way to end the fighting and bring peace to the war-torn country.

The plan put forward by the Vietnam delegation strongly stressed the requirement for international supervision of any settlement reached and of any elections held.

In this position it was reported to be backed by the French cabinet which earlier today instructed its delegates that there must be international supervision of any settlement, rather than the local supervision proposed by the Communists.

Ont. Minister Of Highways Under Fire

MLA Says He Has 'New Evidence'

TORONTO (CP)—Albert Wren, Liberal-Labor member of the provincial legislature for Kenora, said today he has uncovered new evidence of irregularities in the provincial highways department and urged that Highways Minister George Doucett be called to give evidence under oath.

He said in a statement he will seek to have Mr. Doucett called as a sworn witness before the legislature's select committee investigating highway contracts.

Mr. Wren said he has uncovered "even more evidence of irregularities in the highway divisions outside of Fort William and Huntsville" where 11 men and three companies are now facing conspiracy charges.

He said he wished to swear in Mr. Doucett "because I've a lot of embarrassing questions ready for him to answer."

'DEATH BLOW' TO KOREA PEACE?

Rhee Rejects U.S. Vote Plan

GENEVA (Reuters)—The rejection today by South Korean President Syngman Rhee of a United States plan for all-Korean elections was regarded by many delegates at the 19-nation talks as almost a death blow to an already deadlocked conference.

Non-Communist delegations expressed immediate disappointment and concern at Rhee's action, announced at a press conference in Seoul by South Korean Premier Paik Too Chin.

Both United States and other non-Communist delegations here had understood that South Korea agreed last week in principle to new elections throughout Korea under United Nations supervision.

It had been believed by other delegations that this principle, involving a significant South Korean concession, was settled in talks here between Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the United States delegation, and South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

FEAR PROPAGANDA

Non-Communist delegates said they feared the propaganda effect of Rhee's refusal to compromise. They said the only firm proposals on Korea at the conference to date have come from Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean foreign minister, who suggested that both Korean governments appoint a joint commission to plan all-Korean elections.

This has been opposed by speakers on the UN side, who have criticized the fact that North Korea, with only one-seventh of the southern population, would have equal representation and the apparent right of veto on the commission.

Ottawa to Pay $400,000 on Marpole Span

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to pay up to $400,000 of the cost of a new bridge between Vancouver and Sea Island, site of the Vancouver Airport.

Works Minister Winters, making the announcement in the Commons today, said the amount will be one-third of the estimated cost of $1,200,000 for a span to replace the present Marpole bridge, which he said is inadequate.

Mr. Winters made his announcement after Tom Goode (L, Burnaby-Richmond) asked whether federal aid for the bridge will be given now that the Vancouver city council has agreed to sell Sea Island airport to the federal government.

CONFERENCE HEARS CHAIRMAN

Children Leading Parents Back to Church Says Ennals

A new swing toward religion is noticeable in Canada, and many adults are being led back to church by their children, Rev. B. F. Ennals, president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada, told delegates to the 13th annual meeting which opened today at Metropolitan United Church.

"People today are witnessing a children's crusade in the church," he said.

"Children are flocking to our Sunday schools, and bringing their parents with them."

Rival philosophies such as humanism and naturalism have left many people unsatisfied, he said. Troubled times have led people to seek the solace which religion can provide.

He outlined for the 400 clergymen and lay delegates participating in the conference the general situation of the United Church in B.C., and described some of the work needing to be done by local churches.

The president's report was delivered this afternoon. This morning, late arrivals to the week-long conference were registered, a communion and memorial service was held, and delegates met in a fellowship hour.

During the week, representatives of different church committees will deliver reports, conference members will hold numerous workshop periods, church officers will be elected and graduates of Union College will be ordained in a special service Friday night.

Chief speaker will be Bishop Gerald Kennedy of the Methodist Church in Los Angeles.

He will address a public meeting Thursday night at 7.30 and will conduct noonday devotional periods throughout the conference.

Members of the United Church of Canada general council attending the conference include Rev. George Dorey, secretary of the board of home missions; Rev. W. G. Berry, associate secretary of the board of evangelism and social service; and Rev. R. S. Christie, assistant secretary of the evangelism board.

Conference secretary is Rev. Franck G. Patterson and his assistant is Rev. S. L. G. Berridge. Rev. J. Lyn Clerihue is treasurer.

MAINLAND LAKES OPEN ON YEAR-ROUND BASIS

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia has enhanced its position as a sportsman's paradise by putting lake fishing on a year-round basis.

The provincial game branch announced today that a properly-licensed angler would be allowed to fish any lake on the B.C. mainland at any time of the year provided that the lake is not covered with ice. The liberalization of sport fishing regulations does not apply on the mainland to streams nor is it applicable to lakes or streams on Vancouver Island.

At the same time the game branch announced that the legal size limit for trout is being reduced to six inches instead of eight inches in a number of specified fishing waters.

Overdue Ocean Yacht Turned Away Here

Refused Berth After 42 Days at Sea; 2-Man Crew Hadn't Cleared Quarantine

By TONY DICKASON

A sleek 40-foot sloop of the North Sea lifeboat type, which had weathered nine months of Pacific cruising from New Zealand, sailed into the bay by Fisherman's Wharf today—and couldn't berth.

Canadian customs said the two men aboard would have to sail her to William Head to be cleared by the quarantine station.

The sloop Skyline, with her two-man crew aboard sailed into harbor shortly before noon, white sides glistening in the sun. The men jumped immediately to furling sails once anchor was cast 100 yards offshore.

A reporter on the wharfside to greet the vessel and crew couldn't shout questions into the wind from that distance.

Fortunately the fishing ketch White Hart was anchored there. Her master, Tony Reeve, was equally curious about the new arrival.

"Let's loose the scow," he said. . . . Minutes later we chugged quietly towards the vessel.

The White Hart got close enough to fire a couple of questions and get a look at the occupants of the Skyline.

They were bare-footed, in denims, one with a Jolly-Roger red beard and the other with full black whiskers.

"Names?" we bellowed.

"Dennis Ryan, from Calgary," hollered one.

"Rod Helmer, from Auckland," shouted the other.

"Where from originally?"

"New Zealand."

"Where arrive from now?"

"Honolulu . . . 42 days ago, we left."

The yellow quarantine flag was up on the mast, cracking in the stiff breeze.

The pair yelled they had also stopped in at Neah Bay, Washington, for a day's rest after the gruelling crossing.

Back at the wharf, Tony Reeve 'phoned customs about clearing the men. Customs replied they would have to go to William Head, a distance of about 20 miles, both ways another four hours' sailing.

"Is that the best Canada can do for them?" inquired Mr. Reeve over the 'phone, quiet but determined. The answer was "yes."

Dr. John Evans, aboard a yacht anchored nearby, said he had been cleared by quarantine on arrival from Honolulu without necessity of sailing on to William Head. He took the trouble to go up to customs atop the rise near the wharf to see what could be done.

"They'll have to go to William Head," said the customs official present.

Dr. Evans explained after that a doctor arrives at Fishermen's Wharf Tuesday and Friday. It was unfortunate for the vagabonds of sail that they arrived on a Wednesday, instead.

Socred Mathew Wants BCHIS Investigated

VANCOUVER (SP) — A. S. Mathew, Social Credit member of the Legislature for Vancouver Centre, told a constituency meeting Tuesday night that "a thorough investigation is imperative" into the hospital set-up in B.C.

He suggested a three-man board, consisting of a chartered accountant, a businessman and a medical representative conduct the inquiry.

"The difference in hospital costs between B.C. and Alberta is alarming," said Mr. Mathew. "They are double or more here. We should know whether this cost is due to overlapping of duties, waste, or any other cause."

Greek Earthquake

ATHENS (AP)—An earthquake rocked four villages in the Peloponnesus area today, killing at least one person and destroying more than 60 houses, according to reports.

Former UDL Directors Must Give Answers

Mrs. Nat Bell Wins Appeal Against Vancouver Trio in $3 Million Suit

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal has ruled that three Vancouver men, former directors in a distillery here, must answer pre-trial questions in the $3,000,000 suit of Mrs. Nat Bell of Calgary.

Mrs. Bell, widow of Nat Bell, one of the founders of United Distillers of Canada Ltd., is suing George Norgan, Albert McLennan and Isidore J. Klein, alleging fraud in the sale of shares.

The three were indicted in New York on Tuesday on charges of failing to pay $17,000,000 in taxes on profits made from the sale of Canadian whisky in the United States.

In the Vancouver case, the court ruled that the pre-trial questions of Mrs. Bell must be answered and that they must disclose documents needed in the case.

The court upheld the appeal of Mrs. Bell from a judgment of Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne in Supreme Court. He had ruled the men did not need to disclose the documents or answer pre-trial questions.

Counsel for Norgan, McLennan and Klein claimed the answers might incriminate them.

SLOAN DISSENTS

The Bell suit has been in the courts two years. Associated in the suit with Mrs. Bell are her son, Jack, and daughter, Angela.

The Bells seek an accounting and a share of huge profits alleged to have been made in the U.S. dealing of the distillery men. They seek $2,500,000 or, alternatively, ask for the return of 60,760 shares of UDL stock they sold to the directors in 1945 at $8.33 a share, and also seek $500,000 for dividends on the shares. They claimed the shares were actually worth $50 each.

UDL was sold last year to a subsidiary of Distillers Corporation-Seagrams.

Eisenhower to Sign Seaway Bill Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told his press conference today he will sign the St. Lawrence Seaway bill Thursday.

The bill authorizes United States participation with Canada in building a waterway to carry ocean shipping from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

BIGGER BOYS GRABBED ALL BUT FOUR

Youngsters Find Treasure Trove of Old Gold Coins

CLEVELAND (AP) — A group of youngsters hunting their ball in a Cleveland sewer Tuesday stumbled upon a treasure trove of gold coins.

John Schott, 11, Billy Dembie, 8, and John Cooper, 12, weren't dismayed when their ball rolled through a grating and into a catch basin. They crawled right down after it.

On top of a layer of mud in the bottom of the basin they found 13 gold coins. Under six inches of mud were many more.

The youngsters started digging excitedly, but before they could get away with their find, bigger boys heard their shouts, pushed them away and grabbed all but four coins John Schott clutched in his hands.

John's mother showed the coins, all $20 pieces, to Dr. John Gluck, a collector. They were dated 1860, 1880 and 1889. Gluck paid Johnny $36 each for them.

Police had no idea how the coins got in the sewer. The last gold coins were minted in 1933, the year they were withdrawn from circulation.

Bennett Unworried About Threat To B.C.-Alberta Gas Pipeline

Provincial government officials say they are not disturbed over a U.S. Federal Power Commission counsel's recommendation that the $130,000,000 Westcoast Transmission gas pipeline be scrapped.

Lands and Forests Minjster R. E. Sommers, who contacted officials of the pipeline firm in Washington, said they are "not worried" about the rejection recommendation.

The counsel advised rejection of both Westcoast and its rival applicant, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp., on grounds neither has proven sufficient natural gas reserves or finances.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said he is satisfied that Westcoast will be able to answer the objections raised by the counsel when it delivers its rebuttal brief before the federal commission on May 26.

The premier said the objections were not unusual.

Mr. Sommers said "the situation doesn't appear too bad at all." He said that according to Westcoast officials, "there is no question of gas reserves."

Last August, the company estimated reserves in the Peace River area gas fields at 3.5 trillion cubic feet.

Mr. Sommers said also that the firm is not worried about financing, but that this factor hinges on a "technical point." He said it was a matter of providing "equity."

The Westcoast has been hailed as the answer to any recession problems B.C. might encounter in the next few years. In addition to its initial $130,000,000 cost, it would spur industrial development throughout the entire province.

Final oral arguments on the power commission hearing will be heard on June 1, and then the commission will decide whether the pipeline is to be given the go-ahead.

Bear Raids on B.C. Oil Shares End Quickly

VANCOUVER (CP)—Panic selling of so-called Peace River gas shares dried up after an hour of heavy trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today.

BANK LOAN RATES WORRY COMMONS

Tangled Talk About Small Loans Uncovers Varied Interest Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—The plight of the little man of Canada, the one who sometimes must pay exceedingly high rates for a small loan, has struck the conscience of parliament.

But despite the pleadings of legislators for help, bankers cannot seem to agree on a line of action that would provide the thousands of small borrowers with loans at acceptable rates.

Neil McKinnon, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, outlined before the Commons banking committee Tuesday a proposal for providing bank loans for the first time on television sets, radios and other chattel mortgages. The maximum loan would be $3,500.

But the point some parliamentarians found hard to accept was that lending rates would be doubled to 12 per cent a year from 6. Mr. McKinnon said small loans companies charge up to 24 per cent a year and that his own bank, despite the Bank Act's 6 per cent lending rate ceiling, has been charging an effective rate of about 10.46 per cent for the last 18 years.

OPERATIONS LEGAL

And though C. F. Elderkin, inspector-general of banks, assured the committee that the Bank of Commerce method is legal, Solon Low, Social Credit leader, suggested the justice department be called to make a final ruling on the legality issue.

Adding to the entanglement was the view expressed by T. H. Atkinson, president of the Canadian Bankers' Association, that the establishment of two lending rates, one at six per cent and one at 12, might make it a little tougher for Canadians to get loans at the lower rate

Some bank managers had discussed Mr. McKinnon's proposals and there had been varying opinions on their merits, he said. But his own view is that some branch managers might boost customers who formerly got six per cent loans into the 12-per-cent bracket.

Chairman David Croll L, Toronto Spadina) said he was "shocked" by Mr. Atkinson's remarks. It meant that the public could not expect a fair deal from the managers.

Mr. Atkinson in turn said he was "shocked" by Mr. Croll's inference from his remarks. He was merely trying to give the committee a "realistic" appraisal." His own bank, the Royal Bank of Canada, provided small loans at six per cent.

Mr. McKinnon said his bank had obtained a legal opinion that loans at 10.46 per cent were legal, but counsel for the Royal Bank had given a contrary view.

Portuguese Warships Salute Royal Yacht

ABOARD THE GLASGOW (CP)—Three Portugese warships met the royal yacht Britannia 60 miles northwest of Lisbon today as she sailed for Britain through a thin drizzle.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, with Prince Charles and Princess Anne, watched from the afterdeck as one of the ships, the Nuno Tristoa, fired a royal salute of 21 guns.

The Queen will reach London Saturday at the end of her six-month global tour.

Russian Chess Team Invited to Canada

WINNIPEG (CP)—A team of Russian chess masters has been invited to visit Canada next month for a tournament in either Montreal or Toronto and the Chess Federation of Canada's invitation "probably will be accepted."

This was reported today by Abe Yanofsky of Winnipeg, British chess champion and co-holder of the Canadian chess championship.

The Russian team is due to arrive in New York in June for a tournament with American chess masters.

Eric Gibbs, Time Bureau Chief, Dies at Geneva

GENEVA (CP)—Eric Gibbs, 43, chief of Time Magazine's Paris bureau and former Canadian newspaper man, died early today in his hotel room apparently of heart disease.

A graduate of the University of Alberta, Gibbs worked for newspapers in Edmonton, Toronto and Windsor.

During the Second World War he held the rank of lieutenant-colonel as deputy director of public relations at Canadian military headquarters in London. He enlisted in the Canadian army overseas and was commissioned as a lieutenant in June, 1940.

In 1944 Gibbs received the OBE and he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal by the U.S. government in 1945.

His widow survives.

Gibbs was among the Time Magazine staff covering the Geneva conference. Hotel employees forced the door to his room this morning when there was no answer to a telephone call.

Police and the Geneva coroner investigated the death.

All Farmers Not Prosperous Council Tells Commons Group

OTTAWA (BUP) — Any impression that all farmers are financially well off is completely erroneous, the Interprovincial Farm Union Council said today.

The council said in a brief prepared for submission to the Commons agriculture committee that the assumption was sometimes based on individual cases or a small percentage of more prosperous farmers. The picture was further confused by references to gross income, the union said.

"It is admitted that the gross income to the agricultural industry has been increasing like that of all other major economic groups in Canada. However, the fact remains that the net income to agriculture has been decreasing," the brief said.

"This situation has been given further impetus by a higher-than-average production in certain areas in recent years."

The council said the effect of the decrease in net income was reflected in declines in certain lines of business and slowdowns in others.

"A more recent development has been that a large number of towns in the prairie provinces are going on a cash basis," the brief said. "They already have large outstanding accounts with farmers for operating supplies and they have now reached the point where they are unable to carry them further."

Cohn Cried 'This Is War' Adams Testifies at Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army counsellor John Adams testified today that Roy M. Cohn became "extremely" angry when Adams advised him that G. David Schine would be treated "just like any other soldier."

Adams also quoted Cohn as saying "this is war" when Cohn was barred from a secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., last Oct. 20.

Telling of the incident from the witness chair of the McCarthy-army hearings, Adams said:

"He became extremely upset. He said 'this is war,' and 'we'll really investigate this place now.'

"He said 'they let Communists into this place but they keep me out—I've got security clearance to go any place in the world.'"

Adams was supporting the army's contention that Cohn, 27-year-old counsel to Senator Joseph McCarthy's investigations sub-committee, made threats against the army.

The army charges also that Cohn used the sub-committee's power in seeking preferential army treatment for Schine, an unpaid consultant to the sub-committee before he was drafted last fall.

Before today's public session began, the seven senators investigating the controversy decided to add an hour and a half to the regular day hearings. They voted against night sessions at this time.

Chairman Karl Mundt (Rep., SD) asked that senators refrain from making speeches at the opening of the sessions or during their 10-minute period of questioning witnesses.

Greater Industrial Research In Canada Urged by Tory

OTTAWA (CP)—A Progressive Conservative member has proposed that a Commons committee launch a study of ways to boost industrial research in Canada.

J. W. Murphy (PC, Lambton West) said in the Commons Tuesday night that a government bill to amend the Research Council Act is a pitiful answer to the crying need for an accelerated research program.

He moved that the bill be referred to a select committee which would study the whole field of research.

Speaker Rene Beaudoin said the motion was out of order, but postponed his ruling at the end of the day's sitting when Opposition Leader Drew asked for an opportunity to discuss the ruling later.

Mr. Murphy said a study of industrial research is needed in the face of rising unemployment, lost markets and increased foreign competition. The committee should meet regularly and recommend ways of promoting research activities and assuring a steady supply of scientists.

The government should offer tax inducements to industry to extend research. Improved methods which lowered production costs would help Canada compete in world markets.

Gary Corbett Tops College With 94.3 Per Cent

1953 Medalist Leads Freshmen; Sandys-Wunsch Heads Second Year

Gary E. Corbett, 18, last year's leading high school student for the whole of B.C., is this year's leader of the first-year class of Victoria College.

Results announced by the college show Mr. Corbett topped the first-year class with an average of 94.3.

Marilyn J. Bassett was second with a mark of 91.2.

Highest marks among second-year students went to John W. K. Sandys-Wunsch, of Duncan, who posted a mark of 92.

Runner-up in the second-year class was Ann Coleman, 1953's first-year leader, whose average grade was 90.8.

Two hundred and four students wrote first-year exams, of whom 144 received pass marks. Eighty-eight wrote second-year exams and 55 passed. Those who did not pass may write supplementals.

Mr. Corbett, who holds the governor-general's medal for last year's achievement, is currently in Kingston, Ont., taking summer training as an officer cadet with the RCAF.

Although not yet set on a definite career, he is considering the field of accountancy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. "Olie" Corbett, 1180 Oliver Street.

ATTENDED OBHS

Both he and Miss Bassett, the runner-up, are graduates of Oak Bay High.

Miss Bassett, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bassett, 877 Newport, is working for the summer as a student lab assistant in the forestry biology division of the federal department of agriculture. She may specialize in commerce studies from now on.

Mr. Sandys-Wunsch is the son of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Sandys-Wunsch, Maple Bay Road. His father is a retired assistant commissioner of the RCMP. He intends to finish his studies at UBC and then enter the ministry.

Miss Coleman, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Coleman, Ferndale Road, Gordon Head, is employed for the summer by the provincial department of education, tabulating examination marks of high school students. She will attend UBC next year but is undecided between a course in honors English and mathematics.

She hopes to make a trip to Europe after completing university.

Vets Ask PM For Interview On Allowances

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Legion's executive council today requested an interview with Prime Minister St. Laurent before Friday to discuss war veterans' allowances.

The Legion wants WVA included in the terms of reference of the special parliamentary committee on veterans' affairs.

The Legion, which has long been seeking higher allowances for 40,000 "burned-out" veterans and their dependents, said it considers the "inadequacy" of WVA to be the most urgent matter in Canadian veterans' legislation.

Present basic allowance now is $50 for a single veteran and $90 for a married veteran. The Legion wants these rates raised to $60 and $120, respectively.

Vancouver Man Charges Youths Beat, Robbed Him

VANCOUVER (BUP) — Police said today a young man reported he was dragged into a car, gun whipped and robbed of his unemployment insurance money by four youths.

Jack Savage told police he received $17 in unemployment benefits Tuesday and then went to a downtown hotel.

After leaving about 5 p.m., he said, a car approached him at an intersection and four youths, including two Chinese, dragged him in and robbed him.

Savage was treated at a hospital for lacerations to the head.

JAPANESE CLAIM

Red Teachers Organizing 'Goon Squads'

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese legislators were told today that Communist teachers in a Kyoto high school added arson, general destruction and rock throwing to the curriculum.

The school was taken over by a group of Communist teachers this week and anti-Red teachers are holding classes in the city auditorium. Education Minister Shigeo Odachi branded their action tantamount to "revolution by force and violence."

Yoshinosuke Ishida, chairman of the Kyoto municipal assembly, said the children were organized into "stone throwing squads," "destruction squads," and "fire starting squads" by their teachers.

Younger students became members of "crying squads" which go into action if a Communist teacher is arrested or any other time tears might be effective.

Guild Officials Rule Against Aid To Ousted Editor

NEW WESTMINSTER (BUP)—The New Westminster local of the Newspaper Guild has no power to act on behalf of Dorothy Taylor, ousted editor of the British Columbian, officials of the local have decided.

Miss Taylor, one-third owner of the newspaper, was dismissed from her post last week in a dispute with other shareholders.

The New Westminster local of the guild was told by Dan Radford, western director of the Canadian Congress of Labor, that the Labor Relations Act prevents the guild from supporting Miss Taylor because she was a director of the company and sat as a company representative in arbitration with the employees.

Navy Continues N.S. Hunt for Lost Fliers

HALIFAX (CP) — The navy continued the search today for an Avenger aircraft which disappeared off western Nova Scotia last Thursday with four men aboard. Ten planes and about a dozen ships are involved in the hunt. The plane was en route from Bermuda to Summerside, P.E.I.

8-Year-Old Deaf Lad Found Dead

TORONTO (CP) — Steve Pacholok, 8, missing from his east end home since April 29, today was found dead on the eastern waterfront.

The boy, who was deaf, was last seen playing in a lane near his home with his brother, Joseph, 9.

Police said that when two workmen spotted the body, a rope was looped loosely around the waist. However, investigators said they had no suspicion of foul play.

Two Men from Quebec

MANY BRITISH COLUMBIANS imagine, no doubt, that their affairs are not involved in the recent taxation dispute between the Federal and Quebec Governments. Actually every taxpayer in Canada is involved.

If Mr. Duplessis succeeded in his present campaign (backed by Mr. Drew) and all provincial income taxes were made deductible from the federal tax, then all provinces would be encouraged to levy such taxes. The Federal Government would then lose huge sums of revenue and would have to make it up otherwise from the national taxpayers. Soon the existing federal-provincial tax agreements, by which all provinces, including British Columbia, receive large federal subsidies, would collapse. No provincial government and no taxpayer could escape the consequences.

Mr. Duplessis says that the existing agreements infringe the sovereignty of the provinces and threaten the whole federal system as devised at the Quebec conference of 1866. He says that the basic rights of the French Canadian people are thus endangered.

In Parliament the other day another son of French Canada replied to Mr. Duplessis. Prime Minister St. Laurent, one of the nation's leading constitutional authorities, said he could see in the tax agreements no "danger or threat to either federal or provincial constitutional rights." Nor can the nine provincial Governments which have voluntarily entered these agreements and thus avoided the double taxation on income now imposed in Quebec.

Mr. St. Laurent refuses to open the doors of the federal treasury to a raid by Mr. Duplessis. To open them might be good short-run politics in Quebec. It would sacrifice the long-run interests of the nation's taxpayers at large.

The Federal Government, Mr. St. Laurent says, will not give preferential treatment to Quebec by allowing its provincial income tax to be made entirely deductible from the federal tax without granting the same treatment to other provinces. If Quebec taxes are to be made deductible so must any income tax imposed in any other province. But the Federal Government cannot afford such revenue losses.

"No one, I hope," Mr. St. Laurent added, "would suggest, in order to give Quebec taxpayers more generous deductions than those now provided for in our income tax law, that we should either increase the tax rental payments to the other provinces or agree that they, too, may impose their own taxes and get for their taxpayers, at the very substantially increased expense of the federal treasury somewhat more general deductions. The federal treasury just could not stand either of these courses."

In other words, Mr. St. Laurent will not play politics in Quebec at the cost of the national taxpayers, which is precisely what Mr. Drew is doing in his support of Mr. Duplessis.

The Federal Government, says its leader, is willing to consider any suggestion from Quebec which might solve the present dilemma but there has been no suggestion. Quebec imposed its income tax without any reference to the Federal Government. Mr. St. Laurent is still ready, however, to discuss with Mr. Duplessis any practical method of avoiding double taxation. Mr. Duplessis has made no reply because he is not primarily interested in his own double-taxed taxpayers. He is interested in making votes for himself by raising what he hopes will be a popular Quebec cry against the Federal Government.

He says that the Canadian constitution "concedes to the provinces priority in the field of direct (i.e. income) taxation." Anyone who has read the Confederation debates and the British North America Act which implemented them knows that this statement is not true. The Federal Government is entitled to collect any taxes which Parliament approves. Under its present load of defense costs it cannot possibly abandon income taxes on individuals and corporations. It could not finance its costs if all or most of the provinces collected provincial income taxes of unlimited amounts and these taxes were deductible from the federal tax.

Mr. Duplessis knows that as well as anyone but he is not concerned mainly with finance. He is concerned with local politics. He is trying to tell the people of Quebec that they are being betrayed by Mr. St. Laurent, one of their own sons.

For Temporary Use Only

POWERS ASSUMED BY GOVernment in time of crisis have a habit of being retained long after the need for them has passed. Emergency powers, like emergency taxes, die hard.

There will therefore be general approval, and a certain amount of relief, following the recent decision of the Federal Government to permit the Emergency Powers Act to expire on May 31.

The legislation was passed shortly after the outbreak of the Korean war posed the possibility that quick decisions to cope with sudden dangers might be forced on the country. Although there was not a formal state of war there was certainly a practical recognition of it, with Canadian troops in combat overseas as part of the United Nations forces. There was an obvious risk that problems of national defense might have to be settled secretly and rapidly, without giving Parliament time to assemble or discuss them.

Secret authority, of course, can have no permanent part in the democratic system. The whole basis of our way of life is rooted in free and open public debate and decision. For this reason the Act was made operative for only one year. It received several extensions while the Korean fighting was in progress and the world was in a general state of suspense.

If that suspense has not appreciably diminished, at least we have become more used to it. There appears no reason why special wartime methods of conducting public business should be retained.

If war did break out, the War Measures Act would cover the necessary governmental actions. In the meantime, retention of undemocratic procedures appears unwarranted. The special powers will be well abolished, until more extreme circumstances may dictate their temporary revival.

Still No California Wines

NO CALIFORNIA WINES MAY yet be bought at the Government liquor stores. The list of brands available, made public yesterday, discloses no change in the policy which has kept the American production from the shelves.

This announcement follows earlier reports that submissions by agents for California wines were receiving cordial and attentive hearings by the board.

Lack of action on this matter assumes increased importance to Victoria. Within the near future, citizens of this community will be able to purchase wine with their meals. They will not, however, be given unrestricted choice as long as the liquor board—acting obviously on Government instructions — refuses admission of palatable and inexpensive California imports.

Until that attitude is changed, the Government must accept the indictment passed upon its predecessors—that vested interests are sufficiently strong to deny the public freedom of choice in what it wants to drink.

Car Accidents Reduced

FEWER AUTOMOBILE ACCIdents have occurred in British Columbia during the first quarter of this year than last. Fewer people have been hurt and fewer killed.

That is the improved highway accident picture drawn by the provincial motor vehicle branch, which also reports a larger number of cars on the road.

The trend is encouraging, but there is no room for complacency. Despite the decrease in mishaps, 27 people have been killed, 1,223 have been injured and 4,963 accidents have been listed.

That is an alarming toll in itself, particularly when it is noted that the heavy driving season has scarcely begun. Within the next few weeks, the volume of traffic on the highway will increase as the tourist season gets under way and as more of our citizens begin their week-end outings.

Some progress has been made in cutting down death and destruction on the highway. That is all to the good, but the record is still far from satisfactory.

The injunction still goes out to the motorists: Drive in such a manner that you and others who share the highway will return home safely.

Hard to Keep Your Eye on the Ball

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

LAST month there died in Vancouver a well-known eccentric named "Professor" Francis. He went to every concert and most other entertainments. I don't think he ever paid to get in. The door-keepers, like the audiences and the performers, accepted him as local color. He wore a distinctly odd costume . . . it is many years since I last saw him, but I think he usually wore a mouldy frock coat. He seldom washed his face, so that he looked like death-warmed-up, but it was a very noisy and cheerful death-warmed-up . . . like something out of Stanley Spencer's picture "The Resurrection." His applause and shouting gave one the impression that every performer was his own son or daughter.

Brock

At times he awarded marks, as if he were adjudicating. "97 per cent for you," he would yell. He marked rather high, so it was a great insult to me when he yelled "85!" at me during an amateur concert, long ago. I was a shy kid, and I nearly walked off the stage, both for the low mark (on the Francis scale) and for the interruption. In which case I might have got 99 for temper and primadonna-ism.

OLD Francis had the habit of dropping into my father-in-law's office to see what he could borrow in the way of reading matter. He usually took away a big pile of musical magazines . . . "Etude" and so on. One day my father-in-law asked him what he did with all these papers, and Old Francis said "I keep them in the bathtub." At which my father-in-law said "Why don't you fill them out one day and jump in yourself? Just as a novelty." He spoke both as an old acquaintance and as a doctor. But Old Francis paid little attention, I fear.

HIS general get-up, including his complexion, must have been very like that of Oscar Wilde's father, the great surgeon. Even after old Wilde became a knight and was world-famous, he kept himself in a state of waterless grubbiness that would have been astonishing in a coal-heaver, let alone a surgeon. One evening at a party in Dublin a guest came in out of a great storm and said "I never saw such a dirty night." Whereupon somebody said "It must be Wilde."

Well, Old Francis would have been quite a character whatever his costume and his ablutions. But it would be idle to deny that a good deal of his local color, especially that which impressed strangers at first sight, was his contempt for any sort of slickness, either of the wardrobe or of the human skin. Many nations and many ages have shared his views. It's just that he was unusual for the time and place in which he found himself.

WHEN he died, however, not one of the many articles about him saw fit to mention this. Indeed, one sob-sister went so far as to praise his neatness! You don't believe me, those of you who knew Old Francis? All right, then, here are her exact words: "His shabby but always well-brushed and erect figure." Wouldn't a stranger picture some form of neatness there? Several writers said what a great character he was . . . they had to say that, because there was no other reason for writing about him. But having denied (by their silence) his unusual appearance, and having lightly skipped over his nightly gate-crashing, they couldn't think of anything to back their statement with. One chap did mention the fact that Francis carried a walking-stick. How's that for queerness? (I must leave my own stick at home for a few days, to fool my psychiatrist.)

IT is one thing to refrain from being spiteful about the dead. It is, or seems to me, quite another thing to call a man a character and then to deny his most obvious characteristics, either by suppressing the truth or suggesting the false. Even in a portrait of an average man we want the warts left in. If the warts have an importance of their own, to ignore them is even sillier. Speaking for myself, when I miss Old Francis (as I do, and as I will) I shall miss his characteristic appearance. And I don't think I am speaking for myself alone. Quite a few of us are here to deny that externals do not affect a public figure one way or the other. Down with all sob-sisters who would ruin everything!

TALKING of funeral speeches which overdo the "suppressio veri" and the "suggestio falsi," I hope you have not forgotten Irvin Cobb's little story about the Irish widow and her daughter who were listening to the priest praising their late husband and father at his funeral. The old man had been notable for nothing except his folly and weaknesses, but here was the priest calling him wise and noble and great, with every other sort of contradiction of the facts. At last the widow could bear this insanity no longer, and she whispered to her daughter, "Honoria, just nip up and have a look in that coffin, will you? I think we're at the wrong funeral."

SPORTING EVENTS

"CITY Police Prepare to Fight Pickpockets at Empire Games," says a Vancouver headline. It sounds very sporting. Reserve me a seat. But will it be boxing, wrestling, or fencing? Well-known fences are hoping for the last.

PROTECT LOCAL WINES

I noticed a letter to the editor of the other day advocating California wines.

Does our friend Tom Tom realize the terrible strain wine growers and others are going through right now with high cost of production? Does he want to kill a young Canadian industry struggling to get on its feet? If you let California wines in here they will drop the price untill they kill our young industry. Then you will pay what California wants you to pay.

I would suggest right now a look at the strawberry trade. What is happening today? Strawberies not fit to eat against our strawberries at 40 cents a basket. Why not make the people wait till ours come in? But no the Americans get the cream—we take what is left at 15 cents a basket for twice as good a fruit.

Our white wine that is made here is equal if not better than any California wines. I think the Americans are taking too much of our own trade out of our hands. You don't think so? Well read the import and exports. May be the times would give you the figures for 1953 and that might help you to think before you write Mr. Tom Tom. All we ask is fair play. Then we can beat all the umpires including you Tom Tom.

APPRECIATION

On behalf of the Junior Auxiliary to the Protestant Orphanage I would like to express our gratitude to all who helped to make the new playground at the home.

A large number of Victoria firemen, in their off duty hours, spent many hours in preparing a level and safe enclosed play area. Several local construction firms also very kindly made donations to this project.

With sincere thanks to all for a job well done,

CYANIDE GUN FOR COUGARS

In the Victoria Times of May 4, there appears, as front page news, an article in which it is stated that the Provincial Government Department contemplates the use of cyanide guns for the destruction of cougars on Vancouver Island.

Surely this must be incorrect. The cyanide gun is deadly—deadly to every carniverous or semi-carniverous animal within miles. Not only the cougar, but bear, martin, mink, coon, ermine or any other fur bearing animal, and of course any hound or gun dog would be endangered.

The use of poison in any form is to be regretted. Not only the immediate victim is killed but every animal which happens along and finds and feeds on the poisoned body will surely and slowly die, and so ad infinitum. Thus whole districts will be denuded of the native fur bearers.

This happened some years ago in the Nanaimo Lakes District where an attempt was made to poison wolves. Practically all the martin in that district and also in the Shaw Creek Game Reserve and in the upper National Valley—10 miles away—almost dissapeared. The only things which did not take the bait were cougars and wolves, for neither of these eat carrion except their own kills. Only in extreme cases, such as the hydrephelia epidemic in Northern B.C. and Alberta last year, is the use of the cyanide gun warranted.

One realizes that the Game Board takes its orders from the politicians, and that the politicians are pestered to death by numerous societies and associations who appear to do most of the yapping nowadays; otherwise I find it impossible to believe that any member of the Board or certainly no game warden could have ever thought up such a senseless and cruel idea.

Few seem to realize that in the cougar, we have the finest sporting trophy on the North American continent and that he has the added advantage of being the only one of the big cat family which can be hunted in the most exciting and most sporting way, i.e. with hounds.

Answer to Mr. Blackmore

I refer to the submission of Social Credit MP John Blackmore, as printed in Victoria Times, dated April 15, in which he proposes to ask three questions in our Canadian Parliament regarding Chiang Kai-shek's Second World War record. Because of this, I humbly submit my analysis to his three questions.

Mr. Blackmore's Question 1: Is it not a fact that throughout the Second World War Chiang Kai-shek held a powerful Japanese army of 2,000,000 men engaged along the coast of eastern China, thereby enormously contributing to our victory?

Answer: No. Firstly, Chiang Kai-shek was virtually a prisoner of war himself, surrounded as he was, day and night, with an armed bodyguard of his own troops. Secondly, he was obliged to move from Shanghai to Nanking, and from there, from port to port, until he reached the remote city of Chungking, some 1,400 miles from Shanghai, up the Yanktze River. I might add, that whilst Chiang Kai-shek was at Chungking, my duties took me up and down the whole of the China coast, which made me a personal witness to what was happening in the Japanese-occupied ports. From what I saw and learned, it is my opinion that it was the guerrillas, directed by Mao Tse Tung, who really were mainly responsible for bogging down the Japanese in China.

Question 2: Is it not equally a fact that Chiang successfully held at bay Russia's Chinese Communist fifth column armies right up until the close of the Second World War?

Answer: This is the first knowledge I have received such an army existed. If it had, I certainly would have heard or seen something of it; so would my Chinese workmen and high ranking foreign superiors in the Chinese customs service I was working for.

Question 3: Is it not furthermore a fact that Chiang was driven from the Chinese mainland, largely, if not entirely, through the meddling and treasonable manoeuvring of a conspiracy of Communist spies, operating in the United States of America through agents infiltrated into the United States administration?

Answer: I would say definitely not. According to my knowledge, this is what took place. During the Japanese hostilities in China, influences were brought among the Chinese themselves, for Mao Tse Tung and Chiang to unite efforts, to overcome the common enemy. When hostilities ceased, it had been prearranged for Mao and Chiang to form a kind of coalition government. But Chiang's American advisers, plus his jealousy and fear of Mao, and more particularly the fear of losing his fabulous fortune invested in the United States, persuaded Chiang to desert Mao and join forces with powerful greedy American interests, who with Chiang's help hoped to capture and control for themselves the staggering wealth of the Chinese market.

Surplus American war materiel was given to Chiang, to equip his army, to defeat Mao's forces. But they were unaware that Chiang's prestige, among his men and followers, was at an all-time low; so much so, that the weapons supplied to his own troops by the Americans, were promptly turned over or sold to Mao's forces by Chiang's troops, who deserted him almost wholesale. Therefore, it was Chiang's former troops, reinforced with Mao's army, and equipped with American-supplied arms, who chased the remnants of Chiang's rabble from the mainland to Formosa.

This submission is made as an attempt to counteract the influence of minds who can only think in terms of prejudiced hate regarding the Chinese people and their new established form of government.

Friendship on Both Sides

New York Times

IT was a warm and eloquent speech that the Governor-General of Canada, Vincent Massey, delivered before the joint session of Congress in Washington.

One hundred and sixty years ago, he reminded us, the first formal treaty between the United States and Canada sought to "promote a disposition favorable to friendship and good neighborhood."

Since then the ties of friendship, acquaintanceship and comradeship have grown ever stronger, particularly in this century when Canadian and American soldiers have three times fought side by side against common foes.

With typical modesty the Governor-General concentrated his remarks on Canada's debt to the United States in scientific, cultural and other fields. Our debt to Canada is at least as great a debt arising from such varied benefits—to name but two—as the security of having a great and good friend along a continent-wide northern border and the strength accruing to us from Canada's great contribution to the free world's atomic power and knowledge.

Canada's is a complex and rich culture, differing from ours in many ways, resembling ours in others.

People of two cultures and two traditions, British and French, live amicably side by side in Canada. Canada is a Commonwealth member whose loyalty to the Queen is surpassed by no nation in the great family of nations acknowledging that allegiance.

We here can and do respect these and other differences. Along with Governor-General Massey "we believe that each man should lead his own life; that each group of men should preserve its own customs."

As the Governor-General remarked, Canada is now in the midst of an enormous expansion, and no man can forsee the heights of economic and cultural progress our northern neighbor will yet scale.

Blessed with rich natural resources, populated by a variegated, hardy and intelligent amalgam of peoples, and inspired by the same ideals of freedom and dignity of the individual as we treasure, the perspectives before Canada are rich indeed.

As Canada forges ahead in the days and years to come, we of the United States can both help and be helped by this progress. With no nation, certainly, are our ties of sentiment and mutual interest stronger and more durable.

DISPLEASURE

The Queen was displeased that her son and grandson (later King Edward VII and King George V) should have acted as pall-bearers (at Gladstone's funeral), and she could not be persuaded to announce in the "Court Circular" her regret at Gladstone's death. The Queen telegraphed to the Prince of Wales to ask what advice he had taken and what precedent he had followed when he engaged himself to act as pall-bearer. The Prince, who was then aged 57, replied simply that he had sought no advice and that he knew of no precedent.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Two Governing Rules

THESE weeks of the crisis of decision about Indo-China have thrown a lot of light on the peculiar congressional relations of the Eisenhower administration.

A minor but typical incident arose from the French need for more American air force mechanics to service their planes at the Indo-Chinese air fields. Long before, after much heart-searching, the administration assigned a little more than 200 mechanics of the Far East air force to this duty in the Indo-China battle zone. This action, first reported in this space, caused much congressional concern.

Joseph

A fortnight or so ago, the word came that the 200 mechanics were not nearly enough to keep all the French bombers and transports in the air. The need was for about twice as many, or the same number the French had originally asked for. Before dealing with this problem, administration representatives conferred with bi-partisan groups, of House and Senate leaders.

According to reports, the senators opposed sending any further Americans in uniform to Indo-China. For the House, however, doughty Minority Leader Sam Rayburn seems to have voiced the general view, when he said that there was no difference in principle between 200 American mechanics and 400 American mechanics. On this ground, Rayburn argued that the administration ought to do whatever seemed advisable.

Rayburn's logic was not easy to refute but his advice was rejected. Despite its negative ending, the episode has special interest. It strikingly illustrates the extreme deference which the Eisenhower administration has been paying to congressional opinions.

It shows, particularly, how the present time of danger has driven the administration to revive the old system of bi-partisan consultations.

From the day that President Eisenhower took over the White House, there was no serious bi-partisan consultation on foreign policy until the Indo-China crisis began. But as soon as the administration learned that we could not just luck through in Indo-China, rather continuous consultations began to be held. The Senate leaders, Knowland, Ferguson, Wiley and Saltonstall, and Lyndon, Johnston, Russell and George, have been called in most often.

From these discussions with the congressional leaders have emerged the two rules that have thus far controlled the administration's handling of the crisis.

Rule one is that the president will not act without asking for congressional authorization. Rule two is that this country will not attempt armed intervention in Indo-China except in the context of the "united action" of our allies.

The second rule has proved particularly significant. On the one hand, anyone familiar with the international picture knows that neither the British nor any other Western ally has large troop contingents available to be sent to Indo-China. The "united action" that the senators have so strongly insisted upon will always be a token affair, if it ever materializes at all.

On the other hand, the highest American policymakers concluded about a fortnight ago that we ought to intervene in Indo-China immediately, to give air aid to the Dien Bien Phu garrison. This, they considered was vital to American interests. But when the project was put up to the British, they rejected it.

Thus the congressional insistence on token united action in effect prevented the American government from doing what the American government believed desperately needed to be done.

It will surprise many people that the congressional chiefs were so willing to discuss intervention in Indo-China in any context, whether that of united action or any other. Yet in practise as well as principle, the administration's silent deference to congressional opinion in this world-shaking crisis raises the very greatest constitutional issues.

Imagine the pilot of an air transport, in which three engines go dead with the Rocky Mountains straight ahead. In the cabin are the passengers. The passengers are equipped with parachutes to be sure, but untrained in parachuting and certainly not desirous of learning by doing.

Does the transport pilot say: "Of course, most of the passengers could save themselves if they jumped, but they won't like parachuting, so I won't ask them to do it. We'll just take our chances on running into a mountain." Or does the pilot say: "I'll tell them how matters stand, and then they can save themselves unless they positively prefer running into the mountain."

Stewart

The government position in the Indo-China crisis is exactly like the position of the pilot with three dead engines.

The Congress and the country are the passengers. Of course the country and the Congress do not want to intervene in Indo-China. Nobody does. But if the administration believes—as it does believe—that the loss of Indo-China will involve far greater disasters, is there not a duty to offer the country and the Congress a clear choice? Or is it proper to say, as is now being said, "The country and the Congress won't stand for anything being done," so, in effect, we must just run into the mountain?

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

Placebos or Sugar Pills

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

Years ago, when I was a lad, doctors used often to use what they called a placebo. This might be, first, a diagnosis in Greek or Latin which sounded good but did not mean anything; and second, a harmless pill made of sugar or bread crumbs. The word placebo means "I will please." In other words, the old idea was to give a talkative and time-wasting woman something that would get her quickly out of the office in a satisfield frame of mind.

Dr. Alvarez

When, 50 years ago, as a student of medicine, I asked one of my professors why doctors did this sort of thing, he said there were several reasons. Often they had to do it because patients demanded it. For instance, he said he had just heard from a fussy woman who, a month before, had come into his office full of nervous aches and miseries. He had spent 45 minutes getting the long history of her many annoyances with her husband and her disliked daughter-in-law, together with the long account of all her worries and fears.

The next day he had spent a half-hour examining her, and the day after that he had spent 45 minutes trying to explain to her how her many annoyances and worries and aggravations had produced her headaches, backaches, stomach-aches, palpitations and insomnia. He then told her truthfully that there was no medicine that was likely ever to make her over, and advised her to cut down on her worrying, to try to get along more peacefully with her relatives, and to take a little rest.

HONESTY DIDN'T PAY

Later, she wrote him that she was disgusted with his incompetence, and she was not going to pay his bill because he hadn't found out what her trouble really was and hadn't done her any good. She said she had gone to another doctor who was so keen that in three minutes he had made the correct diagnosis which everyone previously had missed. He saw that she had "neurasthenia" (then a new and fashionable diagnosis, but now rather out-moded); he had given her a little sedative, and she was sure she was "cured." She was going about town singing his praises.

"Then," said my professor, "I wondered if I had been a fool to be so honest and idealistic as to spend hours trying really to help the woman and put her on the path to better health. Perhaps I was a fool not to see quickly that a scatter-brained person, such as she, was not likely ever to understand what I was trying to do for her; she would be pleased only with some hocus-pocus.

"Perhaps I, like the other doctor who pleased her, should make a practice of saving time by quickly giving all my stupid patients placebos of diagnosis and treatment. Then I could go home at four o'clock, like the other fellow does; no longer would I have to stay in my office working until six or later, as now I have to do."

Another teacher of mine, who had been listening said, "No, you will never do that type of practice because you are an idealist; you love medicine too much, and you are too devoted to your patients; you will always be trying to help them, often against their will. You can't change your spots; you can't be dishonest, and I am glad you can't be, because if you were to start using placebos to get your patients quickly out of your office and to save yourself from thinking and diagnosing and trying really to help them, you'd soon lose your scientific soul; you'd become, to some extent, a crook, and that would be sad."

GUARDIANS SATISFIED

"True," said another teacher in the group, "But one must often give placebos in order to keep people from taking worse things. For instance, yesterday, when I was called to see a child with a mild case of chicken-pox I saw no need for giving any medicine, but from past experiences with that overly worrisome mother and that fussy grandmother, I knew that I would have to prescribe something to satisfy them, and to keep them from doing something that might be harmful to the child. I had to keep them from giving him perhaps a purgative or some other home remedy that might upset him and prolong his illness. Accordingly, I gave him a little syrup of wild cherry with a trace of bromide in it. This would give him better sleep that night, but mainly it would make the mother and grandmother happy and satisfied."

"Well," said my professor, "I guess placebos are all right in some cases, and just so long as the doctor knows what he is doing, and why he is doing it. Their use is unfortunate only when a doctor gets to using them frequently, and simply because he is lazy, or too busy or tired to think, or to attempt a diagnosis, or to talk long enough to his patients."

Dr. Alvarez regrets he hasn't the time in which to read or answer requests for information.

Canadian Civil Defense Wants Part In 'Under-Fire' Exercise in Arizona

Canadian civil defense officials may be invited to take part in test exercises with their U.S. counterparts when an A-bomb is exploded at Yucca Flats test grounds in the near future.

Delegates at a two-day conference here of the Far Western Association of Civil Defense Directors, moved Tuesday for such participation.

A resolution was passed asking the Federal U.S. Government to invite Canada to take part in all major exercises on civil defense below the border.

The association is composed of civil defense directors from the western states of the U.S., Alaska and Hawaii. The three western Canadian provinces have associate memberships in the organization.

Maj.-Gen. W. M. Robertson, California CD director, was re-elected a vice-president of the U.S. Federal Civil Defense Administration as representative of the western region.

Col. A. M. Sheets, CD director for Oregon, was elected president of the Far Western association, and Col. Alvin Sessions, Salt Lake City, director of civil defense for Utah, was elected vice-president.

Red Hunt Remains GOP Issue

WASHINGTON (UP) — Republican senators were told in a staff memorandum today that "Communism remains a serious and fundamental issue" in the 1954 campaign.

The statement was made in a 3,000-word document, "the Republican pursuit of American Communists," from the staff of the senate GOP policy committee which is headed by Sen. Homer Ferguson (Mich.).

Although President Eisenhower has emphasized that his legislative program provides the overriding issue in the 1954 congressional campaigns, he has not barred discussion of his administration's record on the Communist issue.

And of this issue, the GOP staff memo said:

"If the Communist threat was compelling in 1952—and it was—it is even more compelling now."

Salvationists Choose New World Leader

LONDON (AP) — The world's Salvation Army leaders Tuesday elected as their new general a grey-haired "son of the regiment," 61-year-old Commissioner Wilfred Kitching of Britain.

This white-mustached officer who has 40 years' service behind him succeeds Gen. Albert Orsborn, who retires June 30 after eight years in the army's highest post.

In the final vote after 12 days of secret deliberation and balloting, the army's high council chose Kitching by 32 votes to 14. The 14 votes went to Commissioner Norman Marshall, 61, commander for the eastern United States.

Dirty Linen Disappears Before Coldwell's Eyes

OTTAWA (CP)—CCF leader Coldwell thinks the Canadian housewife should be told about some of the findings of the government's National Research Council.

Cleaning products are a case in point, he told the Commons Tuesday night during a debate on research.

Mr. Coldwell said that members of Parliament, visiting the NRC a few years ago, saw various cleaners tested. Some products actually destroyed clothes during extended use.

One wash-day product, which advertised that no rinsing was required, was especially harmful.

"If you didn't rinse it out, there would be no clothes left to rinse," Mr. Coldwell said.

Per Pupil Education Costs Double in 7 Years—Holmes

Home owners are bearing the brunt of zooming school costs in B.C., Major H. Cuthbert Holmes told Chamber of Commerce civic affairs group Tuesday afternoon.

On a per-pupil basis, education costs doubled between 1947 and 1953—from $80 seven years ago to $175 last year.

Only $1 of the increase was borne by B.C. government, he claimed. In School District 61, for example, government grants in 1947 represented $48 per pupil; last year the government paid $49 per pupil.

Taxes at the municipal level are crippling owners, Major Holmes implied when reporting on a survey he had made of income-producing properties in Greater Victoria.

In Victoria city the rental-revenue for four months was needed to pay current year's municipal taxes on the property. In Esquimalt one month's rent go for taxes; in Oak Bay one and a half months.

Analyzing the property owner's position from a long-term viewpoint, Major Holmes figured municipal taxes would absorb about one-third of yearly rental revenue.

Following Major Holmes' review, the civic affairs group recommended to Victoria Chamber of Commerce directors that a special committee be formed to study the incidence and effect of education costs. It also was suggested there should be conferences with provinical government and with municipal and school officials.

600 SPANISH WORKERS BARRED FROM 'ROCK'

GIBRALTAR (UP)—After the Royal Family ended the two-day visit to Gibraltar and sailed for home, Gibraltar Police Chief A. L. Abraham announced 600 Spanish workers will be refused permission to return to their jobs on "The Rock."

Although there were no incidents, despite the controversy between Britain and Spain over ownership of Gibraltar, Abraham was reported to regard the Spanish workers as security risks.

"We regard them as having abused our hospitality," Abrahams was quoted.

Abraham did not disclose the nature of the abuses.

REDS NOT SPYING MALIK TELLS LLOYD

Russian Ambassador Rejects Reasons For Asking That Reds Go Back Home

LONDON (UP)—Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik today rejected British charges that two air attaches at the Russian embassy here attempted to engage in espionage.

Malik called on British Minister of State Selwyn Lloyd at the Foreign Office and told him that Soviet Union could not accept the British spy charges against Maj. Ivan Pupyshev and Maj. Andrei Gudkov.

Lloyd summoned Malik to his office last Saturday, declared the two officers persona non grata and ordered the two officers to leave the country within ten days. Malik did not indicate today exactly when they would be leaving.

The Russians must observe the expulsion order.

Malik, however, rejected the British reasons for the order.

Informed sources believe the two Soviet majors were caught red-handed by Britain's MI-5 (intelligence service) attempting to obtain the secrets of Britain's new jet fighters, bombers and perhaps Britain's super-secret guided missiles.

$100,000 Project Boost to Salmon In Stamp River

PORT ALBERNI — Tenders will be called shortly for construction of a new fishway at Stamp River, near here, that will cost close to $100,000.

The 400-foot fishway, longest ever planned by the federal fisheries department, will have 37 baffles and two tunnels.

The river is recognized as a prolific but erratic producer of sockeye, cohoe, and other species of salmon. The proposed fishway is expected to stabilize and improve runs by minimizing heavy losses now incurred by changes in water levels.

Hanging Basket Ideas Spreading

WINGHAM, Ont. (CP)—Council approved installing double flower pots on 22 street posts in the business section. The plants will be part of decorations for the 75th anniversary celebrations opening July 31.

Half-Way Through 3,200-Foot Letter

BAMBERG, Germany (UP)—Pvt. Daniel A. Reiss of New York reached the half-mile mark today in reading a 3,200-foot long letter from his fiancee.

Miss Louise Gordon of Brooklyn sent the letter to Reiss in honor of his 21st birthday. She wrote it during her lunch hours and spare time on a number of adding machine paper rolls.

Hospital Week Visitors Tour Veterans' Wards

An "open house" was observed at Veterans' Hospital today in accordance with National Hospital Week, which concludes Saturday.

Visitors were taken on guided tours of the institution up to 4.30 p.m. and a "Dogwood Tea" was held in the recreation room by the Women's Auxiliary to the hospital.

NOTORIOUS RECORD

LIVERPOOL, England (AP)—Mary Ellen McGregor, 74, appeared in court for the 500th time here today on a drunk and disorderly charge. The magistrate gasped when Mary Ellen's record was read out by a court official, then commented sternly: "We have no flags to put out here, but I am going to discharge you in commemoration of your notorious record."

ADRIFT THREE WEEKS: Suffering from exposure, George A. Ramsdell lies in a Portsmouth, N.H., hospital bed after being adrift in his 22-foot sloop for nearly three weeks. The 30-year-old Medford, Mass., skipper had lost 20 pounds during the period he had been given up for dead.—NEA Telephoto.

Safety Lessons for Truckers Set for Up-Island Centres

RCMP and B.C. railway department officials will tour up-Island points to organize free safe truck-driving courses similar to the one recently conducted at Colwood.

Chief inspector Robert Swanson of the department was conferring today with RCMP at Duncan and Nanaimo. Thursday he will visit Port Alberni and Courtenay detachments. He will be accompanied by an officer from the Colwood detachment who shared in organization of the first course.

More than 200 bus, truck drivers and mechanics took the free course at Colwood.

Evening classes are held for from four to six weeks, and exams are held on such subjects as air brakes, gas and Diesel engines and electrical circuit theory.

Government certificates are awarded at the conclusion of the course.

Registration now is under way at Saanich where the course will be held in co-operation with the Saanich police force.

NOTHING BUT TROUBLE

CNE $200,000 Grandstand Show May Be Blacklisted

TORONTO (BUP) — The Canadian National Exhibition's $200,000 grandstand show featuring cowboy Roy Rodgers faced a threat of blacklisting today by the American Guild of Variety Artists.

The CNE, and a number of hotels in Toronto, Hamilton and London, Ont., will be placed on the guild's "unfair" list unless they come to terms on a new contract by May 19, the entertainers' organization said.

Jack Irving, national AGVA director, said the contracts were mailed from New York Tuesday. He said it was a "distasteful" step to take but that he had to take a stand against the rival AFL musicians' union.

Walter Murdoch, head of the Toronto local of the Musicians' Union, has refused to allow members of his union to accompany AGVA performers.

The development is the latest in a series of troubles which have plagued the CNE show. Last week Mayor Allan Lamport of Toronto was blasted by the Canadian comedy team of Wayne and Schuster for saying the pair had refused the show's top spot because they "were afraid" of playing before such a large audience.

Wayne and Schuster replied that they had refused the spot because they were "second choice" after trouble had been encountered in lining up American talent. The comedy team also charged that they had been offered the spot at a much lower fee.

ISLAND DIGEST

Council Will Launch Liquor Plebiscite In Central Saanich

First Chance for Residents to Vote As Self-Contained Unit, Says Reeve

SAANICHTON—Central Saanich Council will initiate a liquor plesbiscite to decide if residents favor the sale of beer, wine and spirits in the municipality, it was decided Tuesday night.

Central Saanich is the first municipality of south Vancouver Island to initiate a liquor plebiscite. In Victoria the plebiscite was initiated by citizens who raised a petition requesting the government for a vote on the issue.

Reeve Joseph Casey, Saanich, said he was against the council initiating a plebiscite unless voters requested one by a petition.

Reeve Sydney Pickles of Central Saanich said the council was initiating a liquor plebiscite because "it was to difficult for citizens to raise a petition in the municipality."

DIFFICULT TASK

"The residents live too far apart," he said. "In the city it is quite an easy thing to raise a petition. It is just a matter of going from door to door."

The reeve also said Central Saanich is only part of a larger electoral district and had never had a chance to express it views as a self-contained unit.

The cost of the plebiscite would be about $200, he added, and since this would be borne by the provincial government, the municipality had nothing to lose.

The plebiscite question came up when council received a letter from Capt. Donald McKay, owner of Brenta Lodge. Capt. McKay informed the council he intended to apply for a dining lounge license.

Chamber Backs RCMP Use Of Ghost Cars

Against Present Clear Marking

LADYSMITH—A resolution the use of "ghost cars" by RCMP highway patrols will be submitted by Ladysmith Chamber of Commerce to the annual convention of the Vancouver Island Associated Chambers of Commerce in Parksville next month.

The resolution was moved by Reg. Pringle at the regular meeting of the local chamber and approved by a large majority.

Bringing the problem of accident prevention close to home, Mr. Pringle said that one in five of those present at the meeting would be injured in a motor vehicle accident during their lifetime.

2,500 KILLED

He added that 2,500 persons had been killed in highway traffic accidents in Canada last year.

"If we knew that the entire population of Ladysmith was going to be wiped out by accidents, would we not take every possible step to prevent those accidents?" he asked.

He went on to say that because highway patrol cars are so plainly marked, "a person has to be pretty stupid to be caught."

Malcolm MacKenzie, president of the chamber, Mr. Pringle, John Cochrane and Harvey Wallace, secretary, were appointed as official delegates to the Island convention.

GARBAGE DISPOSAL

The problem of finding a satisfactory method of disposing of cartons, waste paper and other similar store refuse was referred to the retail merchants committee of the chamber.

At present merchants carry such refuse to the city dump in their own trucks or burn it behind their own buildings.

There have been complaints that uncontrolled dumping at the city dump leaves the dump in a state of disorder and creates a fire hazard, while burning behind business buildings also creates a fire hazard.

Mayor Len Ryan told the meeting that the city at present assumes no responsibility for picking up refuse other than domestic garbage and that merchants actually have no right to dump refuse on the city dump.

Central Saanich Fears Garbage Disposal System

SAANICHTON — Central Saanich Council will oppose Sidney's proposal to dump garbage at a location on the Central Saanich-North Saanich boundary.

Reeve Sydney Pickles called for opposition to the plan at a meeting of Central Saanich Council Tuesday night on grounds that drainage from the dump site might cause pollution of the water in wells located in lower ground nearby.

Campbell River Student Wins Ottawa Trip

CAMPBELL RIVER — Miss Maureen McCormack of Campbell River is one of 150 Canadian school students who will make a four-day tour of Ottawa in the annual "Adventure in Citizenship" sponsored by Ottawa Rotary Club.

She will leave Vancouver tonight via CNR in company with three students from Vancouver.

Rotarians at the capital will introduce them to Governor-General Vincent Massey, Prime Minister St. Laurent, members of the cabinet and opposition leaders.

Other Rotary clubs in Canada support the annual tour.

Executive Chosen By Canadian Club

QUALICUM BEACH—Elected to the executive of the Qualicum-Parksville Canadian Club at its meeting at the Island Hall, Parksville, were Miss M. Moffitt, Mrs. F. W. Riddell, Dennis Taylor, Frank Swallow, Ernest Rushton, James Innes, J. M. Utteridge, R. Thorstenson, Mrs. A. McWilliams, Mrs. C. G. Dixon and Mrs. M. Sutherland.

The president and others officers will be elected from the directors at the next executive meeting.

Ministers Active in Safety Week

Lands and Forest Minister R. E. Sommers adjusts safety hat worn by Labor Minister Lyle Wicks, who displays sticker announcing Forest Products Safety Week May 10-14.

Mill Accident Mars Record Of B.C. Timber Industry

A compensable accident in a plywood mill Tuesday marred the record of Forest Products Safety Week May 10-14.

The annual week, sponsored by the B.C. lumber, logging and pulp and paper industry, is designed to reduce the industrial accident rate to a minimum. About 12,000 loggers and 20,000 lumber and mill workers take part.

Shingle mills, sawmills, logging camps and pulp and paper plants still boast perfect records as they enter the third day of safety week.

It was inaugurated in 1951 by the B.C. Lumber Manufacturers' Association in conjunction with the Workmen's Compensation Board and International Woodworkers of America (CCL), and highlights year-round accident prevention.

Participating firms fly an "accident free" flag at the beginning of the campaign, and keep it flying until a compensable accident occurs. Some firms' flags have not been struck since safety week last year.

Radio-Phone Link For Port Hardy

Port Hardy and Alert Bay have been linked by a new radio-telephone circuit that replaces the existing submarine-overland route.

The move will link Port Hardy with the radio-telephone chain that extends from Vancouver to the northern tip of Vancouver Island. It will insure good communication between the important air base there and Vancouver.

Announcement of the development was made by officials of of the Northwest Telephone Co., which recently took over the up-coast territory from the federal government system.

City Boy's Racing Car 'Real Gone'

DUNCAN—A trip from Shearing Speedway at Cobble Hill to Victoria cost a Victoria youth $60 in fines and additional court costs.

Appearing before Magistrate A. C. Sutton in Duncan police court, he was fined $10 and costs for being a minor and having liquor in his possession March 27.

He was fined $25 for driving a motor vehicle that did not meet legal license requirements, and another $25 for driving the car while being the holder of a restricted license.

According to police evidence, the car had neither license plates, muffler, nor headlights, and was completely stripped down for racing. The youth was arrested at Mill Bay.

Garbage Dumps Held Cause of Rat Infestation

NANAIMO — Ratepayers' Association is anxious for a report from health officer Dr. E. Best on the rat situation here.

A report that a rat infestation came from Nanaimo Indian reserve and Chinatown was branded as incorrect. Real source is the various garbage dumps started by indiscriminate dumping by individuals, it is believed.

Meanwhile, the spectre of water contamination and resulting epidemic is real here with contamination in parts of Harewood and the South End being confirmed. Last week at a Harewood commissioners meeting, ratepayers were told that the test of its water supply for contamination showed a maximum reading on testing equipment.

They were warned to boil all water before using. Meanwhile, a report Monday was received from Dr. Best, but not in time to include it in the city council's agenda Monday night. Aldermen decided to study the report in committee and plan action necessary.

Unique Charm of Island Spring Found by Off-Season Vacationers

By TOM MERRIMAN

First blush of sunny weather to follow a delayed spring has been greeted with enthusiasm by up-island tourist resorts as hundreds of city dwellers are taking to the road to see Vancouver Island at its best.

A preview of things to come in highway construction is obtained by the road equipment and clearings made at many different stretches between Victoria and Courtenay and Alberni.

Road construction as it is proceeding, however, is taking none of the pleasure out of traveling.

HIGHWAY IMPROVED

Distance between points will be shortened by scores of miles when the work is done, but travelers are not disturbed by detours or the need to travel over road under construction. The present main highways are in good condition as they await to be linked with the new construction or to be widened.

Many trees have fallen in the path of the bulldozers and at some points huge piles have been made for slash burning.

Some trees have been leveled in MacMillan Park but the great guardians of Cathedral Grove are untouched. Behind those felled to widen the road other stately sentinels stand to preserve the beauty of the famous drive.

NATIVE DOGWOOD
. . . now in bloom

WEALTH OF SCENERY

Those who feared miles of scenic driving had been eliminated as a sacrifice to straight highways and speed will find their fears groundless.

What have now become second-choice roads are being maintained in good condition, and those who prefer traveling winding miles for the sea view approaching Ladysmith and Nanaimo for instance or traveling through the peaceful Cowichan Valley or by Cowichan Bay will find the old roads in perfect shape.

As the greenest part of the Island the Cowichan Valley is now at its best.

Growth is ahead of any part of the Island. Its dogwood trees are in full bloom. In many other parts of the Island they are approaching full bloom. North of the Island they are in the budding stage.

There are vacancies at every hotel and tourist resort.

Fishing is not at its best.

Except at places like Qualicum and Parksville where the water warms as the tide creeps over the sun-soaked expanse of sand, it is too cold to swim. But for a relaxing holiday, before the summer rush, May stands out as the month for city dwellers to see Vancouver Island.

BY-LAW APPROVED

SIDNEY — Approval of the Sidney $275,000 sewer loan by-law was granted Tuesday by the provincial cabinet. It will be financed by an issue of 20-year 3¾ per cent bonds.

Nanaimo in Gala Dress For Empire Day Fete

NANAIMO — The city will take on full scale gala dress when colored lights are turned on May 19 to start Empire Day celebrations.

City council has given approval to a request from the celebrations committee for the burning of colored lights along Commercial Street starting May 19, and continuing until after May 24.

Luxton Teen Club Finishes Season

LUXTON—The Teen Club, sponsored by the Happy Valley PTA, held its last dance of the season at Luxton Hall, where music was supplied by the Belmont High School orchestra under the direction of D. Kerley.

Musicians played for modern dancing with the assistance of Miss B. McCrae and J. Fraser at the piano. Old-time and square dancing music was supplied by records through a public address system operated by G. S. Johnson.

Mrs. J. Moseley, in charge of youth welfare for the PTA, who has made great strides in the past season in teaching the various dances to the youngsters, acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

A number of parents and friends of the members attended. Refreshments were served by the committee.

Longshoremen Fined, Jailed For Contempt

NEW YORK (UP)—The mob-ruled International Longshoremen's Association and eight of its locals were fined $93,000 Tuesday and three of its officers given prison terms for contempt of court.

The blow was the most severe to fall on the union since a state investigation disclosed its close ties with the underworld.

The union, its locals and officers were convicted of failing to obey a federal court order March 4 to call off a strike that lasted 29 days and cost the port of New York $500,000,000.

Inspection by Sea Island CO For Kin Cadets

Wing-Commander D. C. S. MacDonald, DFC, CD, commanding officer of Sea Island Air Force base, will inspect the No. 89 (Kinsmen) Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets, at 7.30 p.m. Friday on the Work Point Barracks parade square.

Accompanying him will be officials of the provincial committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Following the inspection, the party will visit the cadet headquarters at Macaulay Point.

New Yorkers Urged To Boycott Coffee

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP) — Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today called on New Yorkers to battle skyrocketing coffee prices by drinking milk.

He said "the perfect answer" to high coffee prices is increased consumption of milk. It's "healthier, cheaper and more plentiful," he said.

DEFECTIVE WINDSHIELDS EXPLAIN 'MISSILE MILE'

LONDON (Reuters)—The two-year mystery of Britain's "missile miles" was exploded Tuesday.

A spokesman for the Automobile Association announced that engineers have discovered the reason more than 100 car windshields have mysteriously shattered on the stretch of highway between the nearby villages of Esher and Cobham.

The windshields disintegrated on the hilly road because they were made of an inferior type of glass and couldn't stand up to severe jolting, the spokesman said.

Ont. May Follow B.C. Lead And Let Trains Serve Liquor

TORONTO (BUP) — Ontario may follow the lead of Quebec and British Columbia in permitting the sale of liquor aboard passenger trains crossing the province.

Applications from the CNR and CPR to the liquor license board for dining lounge and lounge licenses will be heard here June 4. Should both licenses be granted, liquor will be sold with meals in dining cars and without meals in club cars, railway officials said.

Quebec has permitted the sale of liquor aboard trains for several years. British Columbia granted licences to both railways April 22. Drinks now are sold in the CPR station at Vancouver.

Provisions for the sale of liquor on trains have been on Ontario statute books for more than five years, but the railways made no application until now.

Wicks to Address Building Exchange

Labor Minister Lyle Wicks will be guest speaker at Victoria Building Industries Exchange's annual meeting and dinner in Pacific Club Friday, May 28.

The business meeting is scheduled for 4 p.m., the dinner for 6. President Ed McKinty will be chairman. Reports and election of officers are on the agenda.

Angry Nehru Denies India Has Africa Ambitions

NEW DELHI, India (UP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today angrily denounced as "totally false and misleading" charges made by South African Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan that India had ambitions in Africa.

(Malan, in a speech before the South African Assembly last week, attacked Nehru as "the enemy of the white man." India had its eyes on Africa and wanted the white man ousted, Malan said.)

Nehru, in a brief statement to the House of the People, said that "some authorities in South Africa are suffering both a complex and guilty conscience and they seem to have a higher regard for my capacity to inspire others than I actually possess."

Newfoundland Wins Adjudicator's Praise

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — The second-night audience at the Dominion Drama Festival Tuesday night gave a rousing welcome to Newfoundland's Northcliffe Drama Club that competed in the festival for the first time with the entry, "Juno and the Paycock."

Adjudicator Hugh Hunt, associated with the Abbey Theatre in Dublin for four years, found the performance convincing. The actors had caught much of the mercurical Irish character.

FOR $1 MILLION

Ottawa Buys Vancouver Airport

VANCOUVER (CP). — Transport Minister Chevrier, in a letter to Vancouver city council, has accepted the city's offer to sell to the federal government International airport here for $1,000,000 on November 1, 1955.

"In purchasing the airport," the letter said, "I should like to make it clear the department of transport accepts no responsibility for the construction or maintenance of highway facilities, including bridges, giving access to the airport.

"With particular reference to the Marpole bridge, I would greatly appreciate being advised of the plans which the city, in conjunction with the province, has for its improvement."

B.C. Court Shatters Precedent; Mountie Can Appeal RCMP Trial

The B.C. Court of Appeal Tuesday granted a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police the right to appeal to civil courts against the findings of an RCMP tribunal which dismissed him from the force for alleged breaches of discipline.

The court's judgment said Corporal John Robert Cunningham White has the right to bring his case for review before the B.C. Supreme Court which refused him a hearing on the grounds that there was no precedent for such action.

White's appeal is the first of its kind to appear before the Appeal Court. The court's decision means that any member of the RCMP has the same rights as civilians to seek redress before civil courts if he believes he has been wronged by the force's tribunal.

The same right of appeal was granted to members of the armed forces some time ago.

White, a former special branch corporal stationed at Prince Rupert, was discharged from the force in 1953 after he was tried by an RCMP tribunal on four charges under the RCMP Act. The act governs the discipline of the force.

White, claiming the charges against him were wrong in law and in fact, sought a writ of certiorari to bring the case before the Supreme Court. He asked Mr. Justice H. S. Wood to review the proceeding of the RCMP tribunal.

Mr. Justice Wood refused to hear the case, claiming he had no authority to do so.

White appealed the lower court's decision which was allowed by the Court of Appeal.

OLYMPIC TORCH FLAME TO BE BORNE ALOFT

ATHENS (UP)—The Olympic torch will make one of the longest journeys in its history for the 1956 Olympiad in Australia, and the trip will be made by air despite the strict naked flame regulations for commercial aircraft.

Instead of a naked flame, the light from Olympia, Greece, will be carried aboard plane in a miner's lamp from the Saar.

The air trip will carry the symbolic flame from Athens to Cairns in Queensland, where relays of runners will take it overland to the Olympic stadium in Melbourne through Brisbane, Sydney, Canberra, Ballarat and Geelong.

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

Of people and things:

Elsewhere on these pages will be found a small news item telling of a soccer film to be shown at the Oak Bay Junior High School this Friday . . . the film is of the England-Rest of Europe soccer match which ended in a 4-4 tie and is described as one of the best of its kind . . . the play of the Europeans has been described as amazing with the inter-changing of positions of the players being the predominating factor . . . the film runs for about on hour and three-quarters with first the match highlights and then the match proper. . . . It is one that minor officials and coaches especially should see . . . on the same theme ticket sales for the Glasgow Rangers' match here on May 26 augur well for a good crowd and much better than last year's turnout to the Irish contest. . . . Halfback John Pickburn of New Westminster Royals has only been named a substitute locally for the Rangers' match, but John has found a new field to conquer. . . . He was honored recently with a plaque for having the most-improved average of any tenpin bowler in Victoria. . . .

Phil Matson

And word comes from Washington State College of the feats of another Victorian. . . . Phil Matson, the former Oak Bay High School star, has been placing well in mile meets this season and has a 4.18 to his credit. . . . His old running mate from Oak Bay, Bob Hutchison, returns home this week from University and will set about attempting to gain a place on the British Empire Games sprint team. . . . Bob was an Olympic runner in '52. . . . While Roy Barnes, once a baseball catcher of note and now a Little League coach, would like his son Bill to follow in his footsteps, there appears to be a move afoot to turn the young fellow into a pitcher. . . . Built like a catcher, and big for his years, young Bill can throw that ball hard ,and that's the stuff of which pitchers are made. . . . (Still, he's been well grounded in the fundamentals that made his pa the scourge of base runners a few years ago). . . .

* * *

In answer to a query, Steve Mesner, Eddie Lake and Dain Clay all played in the major leagues. . . . Clay's best bat mark in the majors was .280 with Cincinnati in 1945. . . . Lake, too, pitched on occasions while with Boston, and may take a turn on the hill for the Tyees if the need arises. . . . Lake is 37 and Clay 35. . . . For interesting reading we can recommend the current issue of Sport magazine with an excellent article by Eric Whitehead on Tommy Burns, the former heavyweight champion. . . . Rocky Marciano is also featured, as is Terry Brennan, the new Notre Dame football coach. . . . Al Weill, Marciano's manager, says he'll keep Rocky champ for 10 years. . . . And thank goodness the B.C. Amateur Boxing Association rectified one of their many mistakes. . . . Earl Vance, former Island Golden Boy and originally from Honeymoon Bay, has been added to the B.C. team which will compete in the British Empire Games' trials. . . . And there's a strong possibility too that Bill "Dusty" Mair will qualify for a position as one of the B.E.G. boxing officials. . . . Shamrock lacrosse fans shouldn't lose sight of the fact that Arnold Ferguson's No. 14 is still reserved for him on the program from game to game. . . .

Top City Tenpin Bowling Team

League and city champions, Shaw Sheet Metal trundlers were recently presented with trophies won during the season. Team captain Chuck Bennett, left, holds Arcade Perpetual Trophy captured in the annual city champion ship tournament, which the team won by posting highest three-game total. Right, Fred Shaw displays the Phoenix Challenge Trophy, symbolic of championship in Gibson's Commercial Tenpin League. Shaws took first in the post-season roll-off, with Tillicums placing second, Cigarette Vending Service third and Ransons fourth. Other members of the winning team in back row are, left to right, Connie McBeth, Pat Graham, Dick Bowles and Len Parsons. (Times photo.)

Bears Bottled Up But Tyees Blanked

Bottler Gives Three Hits

Yakima 3, Victoria 1

Pitchers expect to lose games, and they expect to lose tough games. But . . .

Bill Bottler gave up only three hits on behalf of the Victoria Tyees Tuesday night. John Carmichael gave up only three hits for Yakima Bears. Victoria's three hits were singles as were Yakima's.

The big difference was that Carmichael and the Bears beat Bottler and the Tyees, 3-0.

Bottler pitched one of his best games since becoming a Tyee two seasons ago but a bad and unlucky first inning was his undoing.

Yakima's first two batters, John Popovich and Mike Catron walked. Then Bottler struck out Herman Lewis. However, Len Noren singled to right field and two runs scored when the ball squirted through Dain Clay's legs.

As if that wasn't bad enough, Joe Joshua then dropped a fly ball in left field to let Noren score.

After that, it was just a matter of playing out the string of innings.

Carmichael, in holding the Tyees to three singles by Eddy Lake, Steven Mesner and Joshua, allowed only two runners as far as second base and was never in serious trouble. He whiffed seven and walked three.

Bottler also stopped Yakima cold after the first inning, giving up two more singles and walking eight. He struck out five.

The loss tumbled Tyees out of first place and dropped them into a three-way tie for second.

CAPS EXPLODE

Yakima surged into the co-ownership of the league lead with the hard-hitting Vancouver Capilanos who blasted Wenatchee Chiefs, 13-10, on the strength of a seven-run rally in the last two innings. Caps sent 10 men to the plate in the ninth inning when they scored five runs.

In other games around the circuit, Lewiston edged Salem, 6-5 as the Senators suffered their first home loss of the season and Spokane Indians sank Tri-City deeper in the league cellar with a 9-6 victory.

Wenatchee reported the signing of slick left-hander Larry Richardson, who has drawn his outright release from Tri-City after originally being signed by the Chicago White Sox for a reported $40,000.

NANAIMO HERE

By Any Other Names, Rocks To Meet Sons

If you're interested in nicknames, Bendy, Sibbs, Minnow and Swede will be in the Victoria Shamrock line-up tonight.

Jack Bionda, Jack Sibbald, Bob Monaghan and Norm Baker, the respective owners of those pseudonyms, will be seeing their first action of the season when Shamrocks take on Nanaimo Native Sons at Memorial Arena at 8.30.

For Bionda and Sibbald, it will be a debut in Shamrock uniforms while Baker will be back after missing a season due to a leg injury. Monaghan missed the first game of the season because of university exams.

Baker will be centring a new line with Bionda and Sibbald, the Hamilton imports, on his wings. Monaghan, the shifty, long-striding stylist, will take over a defensive position with Tommy Druce as his partner. Nip O'Hearn and Jackie Thompson are listed as the other defensive pairing but the units will likely be substituted one man at a time as defenseman Len Scott will be utility man.

The first forward line will be the Whitey Severson-Larry Booth-Archie Browning power trio while Jackie Northup, Al Gill and Harry Irwin team up on the third line.

Geordy Johnston will be in goal with Jim Hetherington ready to back him up.

Native Sons will have Fred Fulla in goal with Lisle Scott, Earl Bennie, Spud Morelli and Johnny McKay, late of Vancouver, on defense. Forward lines will have Jim Heffernan pivoting Arnie Duggan and Barney Welch, Vern Vanatter setting up Bob and John Lumley, and three Nanaimo boys, Reg Dorman, Norm Fulla and Don Sherry forming the third trio.

Vids Hand Copleys Second Loss

Ruth Oster and Marie Cooper hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel at lower Central Park Tuesday night with Mrs. Oster's Individuals collecting two runs in the seventh inning to edge Miss Cooper's Copley Bros. team, 2-1.

The loss was the second straight for Copleys in the Senior B Women's League.

Mrs. Oster gave up only two hits in the game, both of them coming in the sixth inning when Copleys scored their lone run.

In the seventh, with Miss Cooper working on a no-hitter, Flo Pickering rapped a single to break the spell and Individuals went on to get two more hits and their two runs.

Braves Equally at Home In Dodgers' Ball Yard

The Brooklyn Dodger ball park, graveyard of many National League pennant hopes last season, is proving surprisingly friendly to Charlie Grimm's Milwaukee Braves.

They won six of 11 games there last year. Their 1954 edition is trying to do the job even better.

Milwaukee invaded Brooklyn Tuesday night for the first time this season and walked off with a 2-0 triumph. However, they lost one of the most prolonged arguments of the season. A seventh-inning drive by Eddie Mathews bounced off a railing atop the centrefield fence and fell back on the field.

Umpire Bill Engelin ruled it a double. Umpire Bill Summers called it a home run and waved Mathews in. The Dodgers screamed. The four umpires huddled. The Braves screamed. But in the end Mathews was sent back to second. Despite the ruling, the drive scored Danny O'Connell from first base with Milwaukee's second run.

Elsewhere in the National League New York Giants defeated Cincinnati 5-4 and Philadelphia Phils edged Chicago Cubs 8-7 in 10 innings.

In the American League Joe Coleman of Baltimore allowed his former Philadelphia teammates only two hits, both singles, as the Orioles beat the Athletics 2-0.

New York Yankees defeated Cleveland 5-3, Chicago White Sox shaded Boston 2-1 and Washington beat Detroit 5-3.

A double by Yogi Berra with two on and two out drove home the runs the Yankees needed to beat Cleveland for the first time this season. The Indians had won three in a row.

Bob Keegan won his fourth game against a single loss and scored the winning run for the White Sox against Boston after he tripled in the seventh.

BASEBALL UMP LINGUIST TOO

GEE, Okla. (CP) — In his choicest Spanish, Raul Fundora told Western Association umpire Rocky Sgro what he thought of his decision.

Shortly afterwards, the Muskogee shortstop, a Cuban found himself under a shower and $5 poorer. Sgro, he learned, has an excellent knowledge of Spanish.

FIFTH GAME

Stamps, Aces Resume Puck Final Tonight

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampeders and Quebec Aces meet tonight in the fifth game of the best-of-nine series for the Edinburgh Trophy, and the contest looks as a big one for both clubs:

Stampeders, enjoying a 3-1 edge in games, could move within one game of the silverware with a victory tonight.

Sixth game will be played here Thursday night with the seventh contest, if necessary, at Edmonton Saturday night.

Aces, after dropping the opener by an 8-1 count, showed promise of making a real fight of it when they took the second game 2-1 to tie the series 1-1. Then in the third game, they were edged 6-5 in a contest that could have gone either way, and dropped the fourth 7-4 Monday night.

Kerry McDonald Big Show Here

Kerry McDonald pitched and batted Eagles to a 10-6 victory over Speedway in a juvenile baseball league game Monday night.

From the mound, McDonald gave up five hits and struck out 10. At the plate, he picked up two hits in four tries.

HILL TO STAMPS

WINNIPEG (BUP) — Winnipeg Blue Bombers have released their defensive end, Dr. Normie Hill. He will line up with his old team, Calgary Stampeders, this season.

Player Openings Still Available In Boxla Leagues

Openings are still available for players on Peewee and Bantam teams in the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association.

As well as players, the association needs help in the form of coaches and referees, willing to devote a few hours a week to the sport.

Revised schedule of games and practices at Stevenson Park for GVBLA teams follows:

Thursday—6.30, Senior B League, Peul Bay vs. Navy.

Friday—6.00, Juvenile practice.

Saturday—9.00 p.m., Peewees, Saanich vs. Fairoaks; 10.30 p.m., Bantams, Fairoaks vs. Saanich.

Monday—3.30, Diaper, Cougars vs. Blue Bombers; 4.15, Tigers vs. Young Shamrocks.

Oil Kings Two Down In Memorial Cup Final

TORONTO (CP) — Western Memorial Cup hopes dwindled today as the east rested with considerable confidence after taking a two-game lead in the best-of-seven series for the Canadian junior hockey championship.

St. Catharines TeePees, battle-worn but still sharp after a heavy schedule since last fall, turned opportunists long enough Tuesday night to defeat Edmonton Oil Kings 5-3 in a fast-skating, hard-checking game that had the 3,680 fans roaring.

But Tuesday night's story was a different one from Sunday, when TeePees walloped the Kings 8-2 in easy fashion. Coach Ken McAuley of Edmonton was more convinced that his team will not fold in the minimum of games.

Bantam Bowlers Yet! Newest Pin Wrinkle

By RON COULTER

Have you ever heard of bantam fivepin bowlers? That's right! bantam fivepin bowlers!

Interested parties in Victoria have commenced forming a king pin club, which is composed of boys and girls under the age of 21 interested in the game of fivepin bowling.

The club is divided into four sections: juniors, juveniles, midgets and bantams. Youngsters between the ages of six and nine are classed as bantams, from 10 to 13 as midgets, from 14 to 16 as juveniles and from 17 to 21 as juniors.

The youngsters roll each week-end at Gibson's Bowladrome, and special prices have been arranged for league play.

A spring league is now in operation to establish individual averages so proper groups can be formed for the winter league. The spring league concludes June 27.

Rigid rules concerning good bowling habits have been drawn up and are strictly enforced. Any youth guilty of misconduct in connection with the club is immediately suspended and his case is dealt with by a committee, which decides if the suspended member shall be reinstated.

For those just starting out in the game, instructors are on hand throughout league play to assist the youngsters.

Instructors are Eric Smith, Percy Riddle, Dick Jewsbury, Dot Jewsbury and Len Hobliss.

And to keep the youngster's appetite appeased, hidden score winners will be treated to free hamburgers and soft drinks, while those who roll 300 games will receive special benefits.

The club is open for youngsters any week-end. Inquiries should be made at the alleys.

Most local tenpinners will usher out the season by competing in Gibson's annual merchant's singles sweepstake this week-end. They will roll five games across 10 alleys.

Fletchers Edge Navy, Share Softball Lead

Fletchers 6, Navy 5

Cec Fletchers moved into a tie for first place in the Senior A Men's Softball League Tuesday night at Central Park by sweating out a 6-5 win over Navy.

Fletchers and Arrows share first place, while Navy is two points back in third place. Mayo Lumber of Duncan and Chinese Students' trail in the five-team loop.

Fletchers were almost jolted Tuesday, as the Navy staged a rally in the bottom of the ninth and had the winning run at the plate when the game ended.

Fletchers opened the scoring in the second inning when Verne Evans' ground ball was bobbled and he went to second when the Navy infield messed up a force play at second.

With two runners on, Ed Dorohoy beat out a bunt single and Ken Higgs lofted an outfield fly that scored Evans from third. Ken Gunter doubled to score another run and Gus Hilton's single chased in two more, giving Fletcher's a 4-0 lead.

Fletchers scored another run in the top of the third when pitcher Ab Wiebe singled to score Jimmy Morrison, who had doubled.

In the last of the third the Navy cut the lead to 5-2, but in the top of the fifth Fletchers got what proved to be the winning run.

Evans hit a Texas leaguer to right field and ended up on second when the ball was dropped.

Evans went to third when shortstop Rod Hallam elected to play to first on Wiebe's ground ball.

Dorohoy then picked up his second hit of the night to drive in Evans.

LATE RALLY FAILS

In Navy's half of the ninth, Jack Allen opened with a walk and went to third on Norm Haskell's single.

Jef. Worrall hit a soft grounder to second and all hands were safe when the throw to the plate was late.

Pinch-hitter George Kinch drove in another run by grounding out, and with two away, Mel Padgett singled to drive in Worral. Navy now were only down one run at 6-5 with a runner aboard, but Jack McCormick ended the rally when he grounded out.

Action resumes at Central Park Thursday night when Duncan meets the still winless Chinese Students at 6.30.

All-Star Puck Club Mooted For Future World Tourneys

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian amateur hockey is going "all out" to recover the world hockey title in 1955.

The decision was reached here Tuesday by the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

The future, 1956 onward, was left indefinite when the best-for-'55 decision was reached. It could include withdrawal from the world tournament.

CAHA delegates voted to give the executive the job of selecting a team of "the highest possible calibre" to represent Canada in 1955.

Executives will chose one club that wants to go, then build around it a solid senior A club. Reinforcing players would be picked from CAHA branches anywhere in Canada.

The final Canadian team would then be essentially an all-star squad playing under the name of the "backbone" club. It would work out a month or six weeks in Canada before going overseas, then play a European tour before the championship.

What will happen in 1956 and later is only conjecture. But delegates felt they had a "hot potato," and hot potatoes are often dropped.

The convention also asked that negotiations be started with the National Hockey League, under the NHL-CAHA agreement, to have the old icing-the-puck rule restored.

The change would make players carry the puck over the blueline, rather than shooting it into the corners from the centre-ice zone as at present.

NINE RUNS MEAN LITTLE WHEN OTHER TEAM BATS

Nine runs mean nothing in the Senior B Men's Softball League.

The Dons, a new entry in the league, formed from the Civil Service soccer team, had a 9-0 lead after just two innings Tuesday night at Heywood Avenue Park.

However, nine were not enough and Dons went down to a 20-17 defeat at the hands of Federal Fire fighters, another new entry.

Rod Turner, who relieved Ed Taylor, was the winning pitcher for the firemen.

Charlie Constable hit a home run for the losers while Stu Rhodes banged one for the firefighters.

Rainiers Edge Bevos In Home Run Barrage

Seattle weathered four-hit pitching and survived a home run barrage Tuesday night to edge Portland 5-4 in their first 1954 Pacific Coast League encounter.

The win boosted Rainiers into a sixth-place tie with Portland, three games out of first place, and gave them a 1-0 edge in the seven game series at Seattle.

In the first inning Ray Orteig unloaded a four-bagger for Seattle with Nany Fernandez and Al Zarilla on base.

Rocky Krsnich slapped a homer for Portland in the second, with none on. Fletcher Robbe socked another with Walt Judnich on base in the third and Joe Rossi, the Port catcher, knocked one in the same inning.

Kiwanians Score Early And Often

OAK BAY KIWANIS 14, ELKS 7

Oak Bay Kiwanis scored runs in four of five innings at Little League Park Tuesday night and went on to post their first American League victory by trimming winless Elks, 14-7.

Tonight, National League defending champion North Kiwanis will be looking for their first victory when they meet Odd Fellows at Little League Park at 6.30.

Kiwanis scored two runs in each of the first and third innings, broke loose for a six-run second inning and counted four in the fifth for the easy victory.

Bob Thornber was the big man at the plate for the winners, clubbing two doubles to drive in four runs. Catcher Ritchie Kerns singled twice. Brian Hitchens and Terry Rindle each clubbed two hits for Elks.

Penticton 6, Sudbury 5

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—A switch in strategy Tuesday night paid off as Penticton V's kept their Allan Cup hopes alive with a 6-5 overtime win over Sudbury Wolves.

Wolves lead the best-of-seven series, 3-2, with the sixth game set for Kelowna, B.C., Thursday.

Sudbury only had to hold Penticton within the margin of three goals for 15 minutes to win the game and the cup that goes to the top senior amateur hockey club in Canada.

Playing-coach Grant Warwick mapped the pattern of his team's victory when he reverted to defense, where he and Kevin Conway played nearly the entire game.

Twice, once in the second period and once in the third, Warwick apparently lured Sudbury players into penalties that paid off with Penticton goals.

COSTLY PENALTY

In the second period, he deked Pete Horeck into a rough cross-check which cost the Wolves' player two minors, allowing Jack McIntyre to score while the easterners were short-handed.

His master stroke came in the third, when with V's three goals behind, Warwick badgered George Defelice into taking a swing at him.

Defelice turned on Bernie Bathgate, earning a major which kept him off for five minutes and allowed two Penticton goals. RCMP had to restrain him when, under the needling from nearby fans, the Wolves centreman began to lash out at spectators.

Ed Harrison, Frank King, Yacker Flynn, Nick Tomiuk and Gordie Heale scored the Sudbury goals, with Jack McIntyre for two, Grant Warwick, Doug Kilburn, Jim Fairburn and Dick Warwick finding the range for Penticton.

PENTICTON 6, SUDBURY 5

First period—1, Sudbury, Harrison (Defelice) 2.30; 2, Penticton, G. Warwick (D. Warwick) 2.40; 3, Sudbury, King (Heale, Speck) 6.03. Penalties: G. Warwick 7.10, Kauppi 17.05.

Second period—4, Sudbury, Flynn (Kauppi, McClellan) 2.55; 5, Penticton, McIntyre (G. Warwick, D. Warwick) 8.05. Penalties: Horeck (2) 5.15, G. Warwick 5.15, McDonald 15.59.

Third period—6, Sudbury, Tomiuk (Heale, King) 1.28; 7, Sudbury, Heale (Kraigie) 4.31; 8, Penticton, D. Warwick (G.Warwick, Bathgate) 11.28; 9, Penticton, Kilburn (McDonald) 14.40; 10, Penticton, Fairburn (McIntyre, D. Warwick) 15.45. Penalties: Defelice (major) 10.09, Horeck 11.47.

Overtime—11, Penticton, McIntyre (G. Warwick, Conway) 9.45. Penalties: none.

May's Clutch Single Gives Vic Van Victory

Jack May drilled a single with the bases loaded in the last inning Tuesday night to give Vic Van Storage an 8-7 victory over Esquimalt Eagles in a Bantam League baseball game at Beacon Hill Park.

Victory was the third in a row for Vic Vans. They gave Eagles four runs in the top of the final inning and were forced to come back with two in their half of the frame to pull the victory out of the fire.

In a juvenile game that was not so close, Saanich pasted Esquimalt 23-2 with Larry McKinty pitching two-hit ball for the winners. Saanich collected 23 runs on only five base hits.

Athletic Park will be the site of the opening of the three-team junior league tonight when Central Cartage meets Skylark Cafe at 6.30.

Schedule follows:

Tonight, 6.30—Central Cartage vs. Skylark Cafe, Athletic Park.
Thursday, 6.30—Eagles vs. Farmer's Construction, Athletic Park.
Saturday, 6.30—Skylark Cafe vs. Eagles, Athletic Park.
Wednesday, 6.30—Eagles vs. Central Cartage, Athletic Park.

Triple Main Event Latest Mat Gimmick

It started out with the main event. Next came the double main event and now wrestling promoter Larry Marshall has concocted a triple main event.

He will present this three-decker Thursday night at Victoria Ballroom, featuring six grapplers, each of whom usually gets main event billing.

In a one-hour time limit bout, Roger MacKay, Pacific coast heavyweight champ, will meet Vancouver's Bud Rattal. McKay is soon to meet world champion Lou Thesz.

The second bout will be an all-Canadian feature, with Claire Robinson of Vancouver meeting Luigi Micera of Montreal. Theirs is a best two falls of three bout with an hour time limit.

Third bout pits 295-pound Bob Hannan, the Washington Giant, against ageless Chief Thunderbird. The Chief has still yet to carry out his threat of retirement.

First bout starts at 8.30.

Bannister Flies Again—By Air to U.S.

LONDON (AP)—Roger Bannister, the medical student who broke the four-minute mile barrier, left for New York by plane Tuesday night, where he will tell North Americans about the race on television and radio.

Bannister is making the trip at the request of the British Foreign Office. The 25-year-old runner said he would be back home Saturday "for the Royal homecoming."

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh return Saturday from their around-the-world journey.

Bannister's plane was expected in New York Tuesday night.

Two foreign office men, who accompanied Bannister to his plane, said U.S. television interests were paying the trip's costs.

"We thought it a good idea and a good publicity undertaking. He will talk on how he ran the 3.59.4 mile."

Bannister will do no running while in the U.S.

Tennis Dates Set

MONTREAL (CP)—Dates for major Canadian tennis tournaments were reported Tuesday night.

The dates for the Canadian championships are July 19-25 at Toronto, it was learned. The championships will follow the Canada-Chile Davis Cup tie, scheduled last week for Toronto, July 15, 16 and 17.

Ottawa will be the venue for Canadian open and closed junior championships running Aug. 13 to 22.

You Can Stand on Your Head If Your Putter Is Behaving

NEW YORK (UP) — The touring golf professionals insist that "you drive for fun but you putt for money" and the answer seems to be that there is no easy way to become a financier of the fairways.

There is no secret to good putting, according to what I can discover. You either put in the hole or you don't.

If you do, you're a winner.

But there isn't any one way to do it. Line up a few professionals and ask them about it and that's the answer you'll get. They use a wider assortment of putters, stances and grips that Heinz every heard about and most of the time they're all screaming except the guy who winds up winning the tournament. He won because he was putting.

S AND E CLUB

Sammy Snead is one of the chief moaners and yet a fellow like Jimmy Demaret calls the slammer president of the "S and E" Club."

"All you can see after Sam putts is his seat and elbows as he bends over to lift the ball out of the cup," Demaret grins.

Consider former National Open champion Julius Boros, as example. Big Jay has three methods of putting wristy, not-so-wristy and firm-wristed. He simply changes from one to the other as he loses his "touch."

On the other hand, Lew Worsham uses the same method practically all of the time but he solves the problem by using two different types of putters. In the winter, on slower greens, he strokes with an aluminum-headed mallet. On the faster summer greens he favors a brass-bladed putter.

You get an argument between Jackson Bradley and young Wally Ulrich. Bradley holds out for experimentation of all types while Ulrich contends you face utter ruin with too much wandering.

"I was a good putter but by trying to get better I racked myself up," Ulrich complains.

Bradley's rebuttal is that after "trying everything" he has come back to "essentials" and is concentrating on stroking the ball correctly.

But, actually, there is no one type of putter or putting stance which is regarded as the best. It's strictly up to you.

British Racing Urged To Adopt U.S. Methods

LONDON (Reuters) — Pressure is being put on the conservative British Jockey Club to adopt American race-track methods to improve racing standards in this country.

The jockey club here is nearly as blue-blooded as the thoroughbreds it controls, and is jealous of its traditions and wary of change.

Some time back it imported from the United States, with some misgivings, the photo-finish, now standard equipment on British tracks.

But owners, sports writers and punters now are clamoring for more improvements from across the Atlantic.

Main target of the critics is the starting system on British tracks, where runners are manoeuvred into line behind a set of "tapes," which are lifted automatically by the starter.

It is claimed no starter can get a big field away perfectly under this system, with one or more horses possibly broadside to the field as the tapes are lifted. Horses which draw a position close to the rail also have an advantage on Britain's rolling and erratic courses.

The critics got a boost recently from British-born jockey Johnny Longden, who sounded off gently against the starting system during a visit here.

He suggested bad starts could be eliminated by employing the stall-starting gate as used on American tracks. Other Britons claim the "draw" advantage could be prevented by staggering the stalls.

One turf writer said: "When a short head can decide the fate of thousands of pounds, it is illogical that these same horses can start in a single line. There is no doubt that the stall starting gate is much fairer."

Another sore point is the fact that British horses have no official identification marks. Thus it is comparatively easy to run a "ringer," as is believed to have been done in the recent Francasal case, which still is before the courts.

There consequently is a demand here for adoption of the American system of tattooing racers. There also is a demand for a quicker and more efficient method of testing horses for drugs.

Most of these developments probably will be adopted here in time. At the moment, they are held up by the lack of ready money and the caution of the jockey club.

Justice Minister Garson Reviews Death Penalty Laws

OTTAWA (CP)—Justice Minister Garson said Tuesday automatic commutation of the death penalty when juries recommend mercy for murder in effect would give juries the discretion to impose or withhold capital punishment.

At present, hanging is mandatory for persons guilty of murder and other capital offenses, unless the sentence is commuted to life imprisonment by the cabinet.

Some witnesses have urged that juries decide whether the death penalty should be imposed. This procedure, they said, would lead to eventual aboliton of capital punishment. Others have said the death sentence should remain mandatory.

The procedure and factors entering automatic consideration of commutations of the death pentaly in murder cases were described by Mr. Garson to the Commons-Senate committee on capital punishment.

The committee, studying whether the Criminal Code's sections on capital punishment should be amended, was informed at the same time that the only executioner in Canada is willing to appear as a witness under certain unnamed circumstances. His identity is secret.

The offer will be considered today at a meeting of sub-committee which prepares the 27-member committee's schedule.

F. D. Shaw (SC, Red Deer), urged the sub-committee attempt to bring the executioner before the committee after Sheriff J. D. Conover of Toronto described some executioner's work.

F. Blakeney Opens Campaign For Disabled Citizens' Club

Fred Blakeney's campaign to create a social club for Greater Victoria's 800 physically handicapped citizens will be inaugurated Thursday night when he addresses the Cosmopolitan Club meeting in Pacific Club. He also is scheduled to talk to Multiple Sclerosis Society at 8 p.m. May 27 in Red Cross House.

Mr. Blakeney, confined to a wheelchair because of an attack of muscular dystrophy, is pushing plans to form a club aimed at providing a social centre for handicapped people, and eventually providing vocational training for them.

"Primarily," said Mr. Blakeney today, "the club will give handicapped persons a chance to gather with their own kind —with people in the same boat as themselves."

"It would serve to make the infirm feel that they belong, that they have a place in the community."

"Too many handicapped persons feel that they are useless, and their morale sinks far too low."

"The club," he said, "will break down that despondent feeling, will create a feeling of comradeship amongst the handicapped. Eventually, when that has been accomplished, we will be able to start equipping members for jobs within their capacities.

"It can be done. As a handicapped person myself, I know. You may be down a bit, but you're never beaten."

An organizational meeting will be held in the Health and Welfare Centre, Cook Street, at 7.30 p.m. Friday, May 28.

Mr. Blakeney, who will be chairman of the meeting, has invited anyone interested to attend.

"If you are in a wheelchair, don't stay away. The centre has an excellent ramp leading into the building," he said.

Comets Will Fly Again Says Chairman of BOAC

LONDON (BUP)—Sir Miles Thomas, chairman of British Overseas Airway Corporation, said Tuesday he believes its Comet jet airliners, grounded following two recent accidents off Italy, would be returned to service soon.

"The two recent Comet accidents and loss of a Constellation at Singapore are major setbacks to our progress, and we must not minimize their impact," Sir Miles said in a message to BOAC staff throughout the world.

Despite a "very substantial" reduction in earnings because of the cessation of Comet services, he also announced the biggest profit in BOAC's history.

MAKE MILLIONS

"Our gross profit for the financial year ended March 31 will be in round figures just over £2,000,000 ($5,600,000)," he said. He added that after meeting all charges for interest on capital the corporation would show a net profit of £1,070,000 (about $3,000,000).

Withdrawal of the Comets from service cost BOAC the use of seven aircraft, Sir Miles said.

"The Comets must, of course, be got into the air again," he said, adding that until the investigation discovers what caused the accidents, BOAC will not put Comets in the air again on scheduled services.

Nene Jet Engine To Be Displayed Here for 3 Days

For three days starting Thursday, Victorians will be able to peer at and ask questions about a Rolls-Royce Nene jet engine, the type which powers the RCAF Shooting Star jet conversion trainer.

A special cut-away engine, mounted on a three-ton truck, will be on display Thursday in front of the Douglas Street entrance of the T. Eaton Co. store, Friday at the Hudson's Bay Company's parking lot and Saturday at the Douglas Street entrance of Woodward Stores Ltd.

The jet engine is being brought here by the retail merchants' section of the Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the RCAF, as a public education feature.

Following its Victoria showing the jet will be exhibited up-island at Lake Cowichan, May 17; Duncan, May 18; Ladysmith May 19; Nanaimo, May 20; Parksville, May 21; Qualicum and Cumberland, May 26; Courtenay, May 27; and Campbell River, May 28.

It will be a feature of the Alberni Valley May 24 parade.

Later in the year Victorians will see the famous engine in action, a fly-past of Nene-powered planes being planned.

'ONE-WAY' SEEMS WRONG WAY

Traffic Artery, Shopping Area? Fort Street Doesn't Know Which

By TONY DICKASON

"Round and round she goes, and where she stops nobody knows" — that's almost any driver in Victoria trying to stop and shop on Fort Street.

This is what Fort Street merchants believe, laying the blame for curtailed sales to the "one-way" street setup in existence three months.

Many say that the one-way system is tantamount to cutting traffic, which has a strong bearing on trade, exactly in half.

Others say there has been no derogatory effect from the new system.

Thus the picture appears somewhat confused.

The police department says the setup has cut traffic congestion.

Taxi drivers who patrol the area say it has not, and also that the area presents "confusion and delay" in transporting passengers. "We go in circles," say the cabbies.

Delegations of merchants recently met City Council to protest the regulations, but so far no action has been taken to appease them.

GO WRONG WAY

While the police department had no immediate comment on the number of violations of the directed traffic, one merchant said that in the last week he had seen "at least 25" American cars going down Fort against traffic.

But this was to be expected, he said, as Fort Street was the first main artery leading from the boat to city centre.

Police say they usually warn tourists, point out the error of their ways, then let them go.

Missing a parking spot on Fort Street, a car must swing down Government, up View which is also one-way, down Douglas and back to Fort — a four-block cruise which might ordinarily be expected. But swinging south a particularly long haul is forthcoming as left-hand turns from Douglas onto Fort are prohibited as they are all the way up to the City Hall.

THEY GIVE UP

Thus many cars just sort of ramble around, looking for an opening and eventually, say merchants, drivers give up in disgust.

There has been more than one grumble about this.

But fundamentally, merchants aren't primarily worried about traffic except as it effects business.

Miss E. B. Elworthy of Peggy Page Candies says business is "just horrible." Not only are car-customers off, but walking-buyers also. This also is so, she explains, because the Uplands bus used to stop at Fort and Government, but no more.

"We are feeling it terrifically. People are avoiding the street. To get here via car they draw a plan before leaving home."

CIVIC RUN-AROUND

Things had reached such a state, she says, that "we just can't carry on. City hall gives us the run-around. We met with city officials twice, and the second time they wouldn't even talk with us."

Her shop has been established since 1939, and had "always enjoyed a wonderful business."

Mrs. E. E. Burr of the Stork Shop calls the one-way street idea "awful . . . stupid." Customers didn't get upset about parking before, but they are now. Business was down compared with last year.

The streets "even kept out pedestrians . . . like a keep-off-the-grass sign," she says.

TENANTS MOVE OUT

In the Castle Building, two or three tenants had already moved out and this she blames directly on lack of easy access to Fort Street.

Concensus was it is still a little early to tell the direct effect of the system on tourist purchases.

But among merchants contacted, there is a distinct feeling that Fort Street should be retained as a shopping centre and "not a traffic artery." One store head said it was noticed some cars parked on Fort all day, adding to the already trying situation regarding parking space for customers.

Many drivers were merely avoiding the entire area.

Fort Street was first laid out in 1859 in "Fur Trade Reserve No. 1" map, which still hangs on a wall in city hall. In those days Fort was 60 feet wide—and it still is from Douglas to Wharf. From Douglas east it measures 76 feet.

One taxi driver had an immediate solution to the difficulty—helicopters.

Food, West's Best Weapon In South Asia

The peoples of southeastern Asia are not essentially communistic in thought, according to Dr. William Newton of the Dominion Experimental Farm in Saanichton.

Recently returned from a UN post in Ceylon, where he made a study of plant diseases, Dr. Newton, in an address Tuesday before the Victoria Kiwanis Club, outlined the system of agriculture employed in Asiatic countries, and discussed the outlook of easterners in general.

He gave a brief history of agriculture in Ceylon, India and China, describing the backwardness of these nations before the advent of Western ideas.

"In the past," said Dr. Newton, "Asia suffered terribly from droughts, disease, plagues of insects, and regular crop failures. With the influence of the western world as an aid, a lot of that has been stopped, and food production is increasing."

FOOD BEST WEAPON

Warning Kiwanians of the Communist threat, he said: "Food is the best weapon we have in these countries with which to fight the Reds. If the southeastern Asian peoples have a comfortable amount of staple foods, they will not go Communist or become Red satellites.

"These days, western influence in the nations bordering Red China is waning, but as long as those areas have food, we need not worry too much. They will not become attached to the West, for they value their newly-found independence too much, but neither will they go Communist.

"We in the free nations," he said, "must help these countries all we can, in their agriculture, in their independence, and above all, in respecting their traditions.

"If we serve these people well, they will not forget us!"

Dr. Newton was introduced by Archie Gibbs, MLA, and thanked by Judge J. B. Clearihue, both First World War comrades of the doctor.

FBI Nab Pair In $200,000 Extortion Plot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Two brothers were arrested and charged Tuesday in a bizarre extortion plot to collect $200,000 from 20 leading Jewish families here.

The plot backfired when agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation swarmed upon one of the brothers as he skidded down a muddy railroad embankment toward a package supposedly containing the $200,000.

Those charged are James Hollis Jones, 49, former oil driller and lease broker of Dallas, and Ralph Franklin Jones, 42, former oilfield worker of Houston.

The Dallas man, the FBI said, tried to shoot his way out of the trap. They said he fired one shot, which went wild.

The younger brother later surrendered voluntarily, officers said.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

"I don't fee' very well," I told My Favorite Wife yesterday. "Don't think I'll do a column for tomorrow."

"Poof," said My Favorite Wife. "Just like a man. Slightest little ailment, and you want to take six months off, with doctors and nurses and breakfast in bed."

"I don't want doctors and nurses or breakfast . . . well, breakfast in bed would be nice . . ."

"See what I mean?" said My Favorite Wife. "Men always want to be pampered. No wonder they call men the weaker sex."

"But they don't," I protested.

"Don't what?" asked My Favorite Wife.

"Call men the weaker sex."

"Well, they should," said My Favorite Wife. "Here you have the tiniest sniffle, and you want to quit work forever."

"Not forever," I said. "I only remarked, I didn't feel like doing a column for tomorrow."

"That's the first sign," said My Favorite Wife.

"First sign of what?"

First sign of hypochondria." My Favorite Wife explained. "Next you'll be asking me to send for the ambulance, then the inhalator squad, then you'll wind up in an oxygen tent."

"Aaaakachew . . . kernffff," I said.

"Just trying to get my sympathy," My Favorite Wife sneered. "Why, all you have is a little summer cold."

"Summer cold?" I exclaimed. "How can I have a summer cold? Have you looked at the thermometer lately?" I asked. "If this is summer, I would hate to be here in the winter."

"There is no winter here," My Favorite Wife said, "there are only two seasons. Summer and January."

"Haakaa-kahfkachawzxzxz," I remarked. "Where did you get that idea?"

"From George Warren," My Favorite Wife said.

"Well, if George says it's summer, I guess it's summer," I conceded. "So I have a summer cold. So that doesn't make me feel any better."

"Just ignore it," My Favorite Wife advised, "and maybe it will go away."

"I ignored it yesterday," I said, "and harooshkachew!"

"Really?" remarked My Favorite Wife.

"Really," I said. "I do not feel like writing a column."

"On the other hand, if you wrote a column today, perhaps you wouldn't have to go to the office tomorrow," My Favorite Wife cajoled me.

"You have a point there," I agreed. "But what to write about?"

"Why not write about a summer cold," My Favorite Wife suggested.

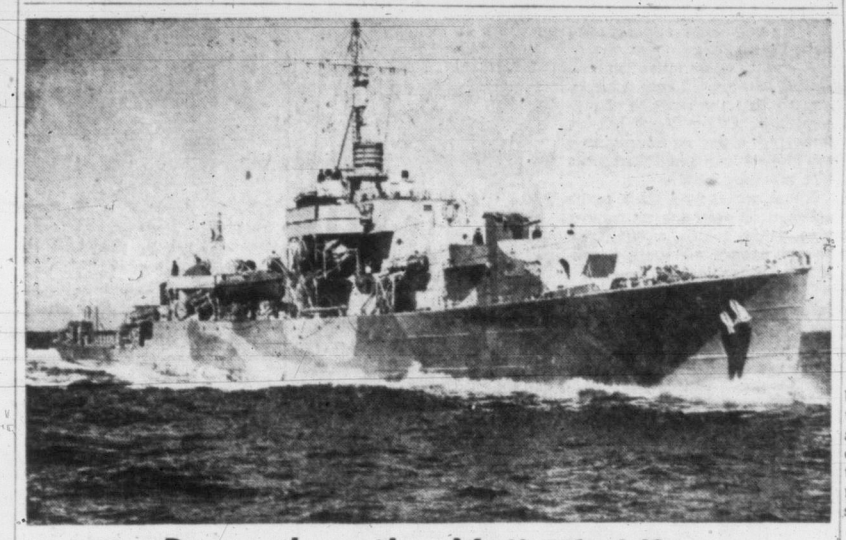
"You mean, summer cold but few are frozen?" I said, brightening.

"On second thought," said My Favorite Wife, "perhaps you'd better not write a column. I think you're delirious," she said.

"I think you're sweet too," I said. "Ah-ka-CHEW herschmer-snrrf."

Many Nationalities at Meeting

Clergy and lay delegates from all parts of the province are attending the 13th annual B.C. conference of the United Church of Canada which opened today at Metropolitan Church, and many nationalities are represented. Shown in picture is Rev. W. W. McPherson of Oak Bay United welcoming Kim Yow, Vancouver; Rev. Chow Ling, Vancouver, and Roy Sutherland, Ahousat, West Coast, Vancouver Island.



Remember the Valleyfield?

This was the frigate HMCS Valleyfield when she ploughed the North Atlantic helping to keep Britain's lifeline open in the Second World War. It was 10 years ago this month the ship was torpedoed and 115 of her crew met cold death. Six Victorians were among them, and their memory will be honored at Battle of Atlantic services Sunday.

Island Pulpmill Decision Soon

B.C. Cabinet Holds Fate Of $25 Million Project

The fate of a proposed $25,000,000 pulp mill for Vancouver Island will be decided by the provincial government within a month.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers said today he expects to reach a decision on B.C. Forest Products' application for a forest management license within 30 days.

The bleached-pulp mill would enlarge the firm's 3,549 person payroll at Victoria, Port Renfrew and Cowichan.

If the forest management license is rejected, the proposed mill is doomed to die on the planning boards.

Mr. Sommers would give no indication as to which way the decision would be made. However, other forestry officials said the application would be decided only on a "policy basis."

UP TO CABINET

According to these officials, all technical difficulties concerning the application have been ironed out, and now it is a matter for the cabinet to decide.

They said anything concerning the forthcoming decision is of a "confidential nature." Several officials in the department refused to make any comment on the application.

Application for the management license was made January 22 by B.C. Forest Products' chairman, E. P. Taylor. At that time, an immediate decision was asked for.

Vancouver BCFP manager, H. G. Munro, said the management license was needed to provide "stability of employment to the companies' employees."

Over 1,000 persons are employed by the firm in Victoria alone.

The management license is required to supply the firm's plants and the proposed mill with a long-term stock of timber.

$1 Million BCE Station Planned For Cedar Hill

Nearby Residents May Block Project

Saanich council will hold a special meeting on Monday to discuss an application of the B.C. Electric Co. for the rezoning of property for the erection of a $1,000,000 power sub-station near Cedar Hill Cross Road.

The meeting was called by Reeve Joseph Casey after the Saanich Town Planning Board submitted to the council a 32-page brief dealing with the company's re-zoning application which was made early in March.

Details of the board's report will not be made public until Monday's meeting, but it is understood that residents in the Cedar Hill districts are strongly opposed to the company's proposed project.

ON OPHIR STREET

The proposed sub-station is to be erected on Ophir Street, near the Twilight Homes for the aged. It will take two years to construct and will be radio-controlled and similar in size to the recently opened Langford sub-station.

B.C. Electric officials said the sub-station woulld mainly serve residents in the Gordon Head area.

"We anticipate an increased population in the Gordon Head area within the next few years," said a company official. "If this happens we will need the sub-station to keep up a steady voltage."

The Gordon Head area is presently served by the Bay Street power station.

WINNER NAMED IN CITY LEAVE CENTRE CONTEST

R. H. Dettrich, 1437 Vining, has won the $50 naming contest for a proposed servicemen's centre staged by a committee of Victoria businessmen.

Mr. Dettrich's entry, "Armed Services Leave Centre," was picked from more than 500 entries.

The new name will be used for a service centre designed to aid in arranging recreation for servicemen, and to act as liason between the armed forces and the public. An initial budget of $8,000 is being set up by the committee.

Directors of the plan are Brigadier F. N. Cabeldu, W. Arnott, Tom Denny, Gordon Grant, W. Gilmour, and Logan Mayhew, chairman.

Woman Jailed Six Months; Bilked City Shops for $264

A young Nanaimo woman was sentenced to six months in jail when she appeared in city police court today following a shopping spree in which she admittedly passed $264 in worthless cheques to five city merchants.

Norma Lewis, 23, alias Norma Geary, pleaded guilty to bilking two women's wear stores for $84.75 and $39.94, a shoe store for $63.84, a photo studio for $50 and an imported woolens shop for $30. The cheques were issued May 4 and 6.

In passing sentence, Magistrate H. C. Hall recalled that the accused had been convicted on the same offense previously.

"You were placed on probation, which you did not obey. Your conduct did not change . . . and now all these additional charges."

He sentenced the woman to six months on the first charge and six months on each of the others, sentences to be concurrent.

Employee Problem Seen Solved by Insurance Plans

Company - employee retirement plans reduce unnecessary turnover which can be costly to industry and business, Isaac Kibrick, Boston, Mass., today told a one-day sales congress here of the Victoria and Island Life Underwriters' Association.

More than 80 insurance men were present for the meeting, opened by Attorney - General Robert Bonner.

Alex W. Lingard, secretary, Life Underwriters' Association of Canada, said underwriters should be as interested in what clients think of them as in the service rendered.

John M. Utter, Seattle, said underwriters to be successful, must develop the conviction life insurance could solve client needs.

Oratory Finals Set for Thursday

The finals in the Victoria Optimists Club annual public speaking contest will be held in the Salvation Army Citadel at 7.45 p.m. Thursday.

Six youths, picked last week from 18 entrants, will compete for a chance to represent Victoria in the Pacific Northwest finals in Yakima and a possible trip to Houston, Texas, for the North American championship contest.

Top prize in Houston is $1,000.

Entrants in Thursday's oratorical contest will be Andrew Stokes, Ronald Cook, George Megaw, Roland Hawes, Barry Gelling and Michael Long.

FUN WITH FIGURES

By J. A. HUNTER

"How old are you, Uncle Frank?" asked Tim, as his uncle entered the recreation room where the three boys were playing. "Tom says you're 56, but I think 46." Their uncle smiled: "And what does Tam say?" he enquired. Tam took his time and then answered with deliberation: "You're not bald like dad, but mum says that doesn't mean anything. I guess you're 49," he replied. "Well, you're all wrong, but Tom is nearest," laughed their uncle. "Tam's guess is one year worse than his, and Tim's is as much out as Tam's and Tom's errors combined. But now here's a dollar for the right age." Tam won the dollar, of course: he's always the bright boy. But what do you make of it?

Tuesday's answer: Ken bought 12 oranges at 6 cents each.

New Town Planning Commission Formed

NANAIMO (BUP) — A new town planning commission has been appointed by city council because of recent criticism of passage of a rezoning by-law which takes in the new areas of Brechin and Acacia.

The six-man commission includes Frank Wilforth, T. B. McArravy, Russell Malpass, Mrs. Ferris Neave, Rae Leslie and Norval Wheatcroft.

School trustee John Souchuk and parks board commissioner Ed Blackburn were named advisors.

VALLEYFIELD'S SINKING RECALLED

Tribute in Cathedrals Sunday To Battle of Atlantic Dead

By ROY "CAP" THORSEN

Sunday has been chosen as the day when naval men and merchant seamen across Canada will pay tribute to the hundreds of heroes who gave their lives in battle to keep the Atlantic life-line open during the Second World War.

More than 1,500 officers and men of ships and establishments of the Royal Canadian Navy's Pacific Command and representatives of other organizations will attend memorial services in Victoria churches to commemorate the Battle of the Atlantic.

Included in those to be saluted will be 115 officers and men aboard the frigate Valleyfield who perished in the icy waters of the North Atlantic when their ship was torpedoed 10 years ago this month.

SIX VICTORIANS DIED

Six Victorians were lost when the gallant ship went down in the fight to keep the sea lanes open from North America to England.

There were 38 Valleyfield survivors.

Services will be held Sunday morning at Christ Church Cathedral and in the afternoon at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Invited to attend the services are families of naval personnel, and representatives of the merchant service, the Navy League, veterans' organizations, the Naval Officers' Association of Canada and seamen's institutes.

Royal Canadian Navy chaplins H. Ploughman and B. A. Peglar will conduct the service at Christ Church. The service will be preached by Chaplin H. R. Pike, RCN. In St. Andrew's Cathedral Rev. Father J. P. Farrell, RCN, will preach the sermon, and the benediction will be given by Rev. Father J. A. Eves, RCN.

Both services will be outside of the regular Sunday services. Times will be announced later.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will have a special program commemorating the memorable battle period. Entitled "Tell Your Children," the program will be heard here at 7.30 p.m. (daylight saving time), Sunday.

Alberta Minister For Fairfield

Rev. T. R. (Tom) Haythorne of Blairmore, Alta., has accepted a post as minister for Fairfield United Church, it was announced today.

Rev. Haythorne, whose appointment needs only final approval now by the Victoria Presbytery of the United Church, will take up his job on August 1.

Painters' Union Hits 'Slipshop' Licensing

Official of the local painters and decorators' union today charged a "slipshod" method of issuing city trades licenses was the cause of a flood of complaints from home owners about unscrupulous operators.

Don Bushell, secretary of the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators' Union, Local 1163 (AFL), said today every person issued a trades license should be forced to put up a bond to ensure satisfactory work.

Mr. Bushell said he has received many complaints of home owners being cheated by unqualified painters "and some just plain crooks."

"The victims include old-age pensioners and people on fixed incomes, which is an intolerable situation," said the business agent.

He urged citizens to ascertain the qualification of individuals before employing them.

The union secretary said cases have been reported of jobs left unfinished when prepayment or part payment had been advanced, and of promised two-coat paint jobs that were finished with only a single poor coating.

Mr. Bushell said he would like to see the Edmonton system put into effect here. Painters in the Alberta city have to post a $1,000 bond to get a license as a guarantee they will do good work.

Mr. Bushell says the union hopes to have a conference with the Victoria Building Industries Exchange to go into the whole matter.

Q.—What altitude did we reach when we traveled over the "road" from Shawnigan west to Bear Creek?—F.O.H.

A.—Contours of that region in the geographic branch of the B.C. government show it lies between 1,600 and 1,700 feet above sea level. The little waterway now is known as Blakeney Creek. It was renamed after the surveyor of the Malahat Logging Company. There are still some signs along the road pointing the way to the Bear Creek camp of the company.

Q.—With MGM's "Julius Caesar" occupying the attention of many theatre goers here this week, can you tell us when last a major touring company played that Shakespeare tragedy in Victoria?—O.S.

A.—Times records show it was the John E. Kellerd Company. During a week of Shakespeare at the Pantages Theatre, "Julius Caesar" was presented on the evening of Dec. 29, 1921. Kellerd played the part of Brutus.

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

By JACK BEASTALL

Web Caterpillars Back; Watch New Growth

Web caterpillars are increasing in numbers this season.

Roadside trees, and shrubs on vacant lots, show evidence of an approaching peak of this pest.

In gardens a close inspection of plants, especially fruit and ornamental trees, will reveal webs built around the new growths.

Inside each webb there may be from 50 to 100 small caterpillars devouring the buds and foliage which is now developing.

The caterpillars make rapid growth at this time of year and will soon be leaving the webs for new sources of food.

Once the webs are vacated, the gardener will find the pests on all manner of garden plants, and the chances of making a mass killing will have passed.

The webs form a protection for the young caterpillars until they are large enough to fend for themselves. Within the web they are safe from attack by birds, and no poisonous spray can penetrate their waterproof home.

A spray containing a stomach poison c[illegible]d as a partial safeguard should any of the caterpillars get away from the web, or wander into the garden from adjoining property.

The best way to safeguard the rest of the garden is to remove the webs together with their swarming contents, drop them into a paper bag while making sure none escape, and then burning the bag in an enclosed fire.

Try Unusual Canned Soups For Special Entertaining!

By PENNY SAVER

Entertaining? Every woman knows that special dinner parties take a lot of preparation . . . every detail must be planned ahead, and when the big day arrives, she's got to work on a routine to have the "spread" ready on time. That's why any time-saving suggestions should be welcome.

Here's one: Don't waste time concocting a fancy soup when you can buy it ready-made in a tin. Now, just one moment! Don't shrug and say:

"OH, but I couldn't possibly serve canned soup at THIS party!" Because I know that if you do, you won't regret it.

* * *

I'll tell you why. The canned soup, I am about to describe, is not the kind you open for lunch every day. No, indeed . . . this soup, although it costs a little more, is extra fancy, and meant for serving on special occasions.

Don't you agree that cream of almond soup sounds tempting. You must admit it's different and when you taste it I can almost guarantee it's better than any you'd have time to whip up in a hurry when you've a hundred and one other things to think about.

* * *

How about some cream of cucumber soup made with sherry? Or cream of broccoli soup? Or cream of watercress soup? Or cream of artichoke soup? (Slurp!)

Let me tell you some of the ingredients of the onion soup! Besides the basic vegetables, there's wine, tomato juice, potatoes, arrowroot and vegetable stabilizer. Sounds good.

Then there is shrimp bisque, oyster bisque or crab bisque . . . take your pick!

All these soups come in extra large tins which sell at 59 cents each.

Hope you like 'em!

How Can Mother Help Unhappily Wed Daughter?

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

When a mother sees that her daughter's marriage is not happy, she faces a strong temptation to interfere. This mother can help most by giving her daughter a break. She writes:

Hurlock

(Q) "My daughter married against the advice of my late husband, who was a very clever man and saw many personality defects in our son-in-law. He is 45 years old and my daughter is 35. Before they were married, seven years ago, he was drinking and leading a wild life. He was even then very set in his ways—old-fashioned, and intolerant. But my daughter claimed she loved him and married him. Two weeks after they were married, trouble started and it has gotten steadily worse. Just now, my daughter is nursing her child through a serious illness. She is very run down and nervous. My son-in-law told me on the phone, when I was worried about my daughter's looks, that he does not care about her. How much can a mother take without interfering?"

(A) I think you and your daughter have taken quite enough from this man. Surely by now she must realize what her father meant when he disapproved of the marriage, and she doubtless wishes that she had listened to him.

It is time for you to step in and do what you can to improve the situation. As her husband claims he does not "care for her" and has shown throughout their marriage that he means what he says, she should feel no further obligation toward him.

The final decision must, of course, be hers. However, you can certainly help her regain her health.

Why not ask her to come to visit you as soon as the child is well enough to be moved? You could assume some of the burden of caring for the child and do the necessary housework so your daughter could rest. This would give her a chance to get a better perspective and to decide what she wants to do. Don't interfere with her decision on her marriage.

As a special service to our readers, Dr. Hurlock has written a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15c in coin with a self-addressed stamped envelope to this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Too many people have the hurried coffee and toast breakfast habit. This is not a good health habit for many reasons. In the first place, we are such creatures of habit that unless we get cereals and eggs at breakfast we are likely to miss out on them entirely or at least to get much less than best nutrition requires.

Then, too, by breakfast time we have been without food for a dozen or more hours. We usually do some of our hardest work in the morning and those who go to work with an inadequate morning meal are certain to become victims of the late morning slump.

It is thought that a low blood sugar level leads to fatigue, nervousness and inability to concentrate. In the normal person the blood sugar reaches a low level during sleep and is apt to remain there until the next meal.

Some very interesting studies have been carried on at one of the great universities in the United States. These demonstrated that the amount of protein eaten at breakfast has an important effect on maintaining the blood sugar level during the late morning hours.

Therefore if you wish to be efficient on your job, as well as give your health a lift, you should eat an adequate breakfast as a habit.

It seems that animal and vegetable proteins are equally efficient in promoting adequate blood sugar level. Fruit, cereal, milk and eggs are fine health foods. Don't neglect your breakfast!

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 37, "Vitamin Defense," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

TODAY'S RECIPE

MOLDED CORNED BEEF AND CABBAGE

Cabbage Layer: One envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, ¾ cup hot water, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ cup vinegar, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper, 2 cups finely chopped cabbage.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add hot water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt, sugar, lemon juice and vinegar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Mix in green pepper and cabbage. Turn into an 8-inch square pan and chill until almost firm.

Corned Beef Layer: One envelope unflavored gelatin, ½ cup cold water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, ¾ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, ¼ cup minced onion, ½ cup chopped sweet pickle, ½ cup diced celery, 1 12-ounce can corned beef, finely cut.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt and lemon juice; cool. Gradually add to mayonnaise; mix in remaining ingredients. Turn on top of almost firm layer and chill until firm. Unmold on serving platter. To serve, cut into squares. Yield: nine servings.

District Council Meets in City

Mrs. A. Norman presided at meeting of the South Vancouver Island District Council Ladies' Auxiliaries to Canadian Legion, held recently in Esquimalt Legion Hall. Mrs. E. Jarvis, Legion day convener, reported 335 veterans in hospitals visited. Another visit is planned for this month. Gifts have also been sent to veteran patients in Colquitz Mental Home. Plans were completed for the tea to be held in Naval Veterans' auditorium, Broad Street, on Saturday at 2.30, with Mrs. E. Swan, convener. Proceeds will be used for comforts for veterans in hospital.

A North Vancouver Wedding

Announcement was made in Vancouver recently by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cowley, 3300 Chaucer Road, North Vancouver, of the engagement of their younger daughter, Amy Felicia, to John Arthur Napier-Hemy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert J. Napier-Hemy, 1606 Wilmot Place, Victoria. The wedding will take place on June 19, in North Vancouver.

To Adjudicate in Interior

Mrs. Audrey St. Denis Johnson, Times music and drama critic, will leave tomorrow for Kelowna, B.C., where she will act as adjudicator at the South Okanagan Drama Festival. Mrs. Johnson will return to Victoria on Tuesday.

Friends Honor Bride-Elect

Mrs. E. Sisson, 1746 Lulie Street, assisted by Mrs. C. West and Mrs. Charlie McGregor, entertained last evening at a shower for bride-elect Miss Lois McGregor. The guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. T. W. McGregor, received corsages. Her grandmother, Mrs. E. McGregor, who was celebrating her 77th birthday, also received a corsage. A hand-made lace cloth covered the refreshment table, which was centred with a spray of lilacs, flanked by candles in silver holders. A wishing well held the gifts. Guests were Mrs. A. Hinde, Mrs. L. Pierce, Mrs. D. Donaldson, Mrs. J. D. Baird, Mrs. F. Durick, Mrs. J. Oldnall, Mrs. E. Oldnall, Mrs. W. H. Russell, Mrs. H. Russell, Mrs. F. Russell, Mrs. C. Hickman, Mrs. W. T. Pearson, Mrs. W. J. Winners in Musical Festival Aid OES Free Cancer Dressing Station

Victoria Masonic Male Choir, winners of the recent musical festival, will give a concert in Victoria High School on Tuesday at 8.15 p.m. in aid of the Order of the Eastern Star free cancer dressing station. Assisting artists will be Mrs. Ruth Champion, soprano soloist, a winner in the 1953 musical festival, and Miss Carol Wootton, pianist, winner in this year's festival.

Proceeds from this concert will be used to further work of the cancer dressing station where members of the Order of the Eastern Star gather each Thursday to make dressings for cancer patients.

During the year just completed a total of 54,636 dressings were made and distributed free of charge. Forty-six patients during the year received dressings regularly, some requiring as many as 1,000 dressings a month. To keep a continuous supply for those who need them requires the work of many hands. It is to this service the members of the Order of the Eastern Star have dedicated themselves.

Anyone wishing to see the work being done by this group of women may call at the station at 1417 Broad Street any Thursday afternoon.

Garden Fete—At a recent meeting Mrs. Edna Hadfield reported on final plans for the garden fete of Royal Bride Chapter, IODE, to be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Brown, 1055 Foul Bay Road, in June. Tea will be served and there will be many attractions for youngsters, including pony rides, a puppet show and a lady of a thousand pockets. There will be stalls of candy, home-cooking and needlework.

Annual Tea—At a meeting of St. Andrew's Cathedral Subdivision, Catholic Women's League, it was reported annual membership tea will be held May 20 in Douglas Room, Hudson's Bay Company, from 2.30 to 4.30, under convenership of Mrs. W. J. Sullivan. Tentative plans were also laid for summer fete to be held early in July. Conveners' reports included social action by Mrs. Rivers and spiritual by Mrs. Budd. First vice-president, Mrs. E. Payne, was in the chair.

Gifts Presented—It was reported at meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans, that the semi-annual visit has been made to the Aged Men's Home and that gifts of cigarettes and candy were distributed. Mrs. M. Carver presided and two new members were initiated, Mrs. R. Noble and Mrs. E. Whitehead. Hospital convener, Mrs. V. Barry, reported 280 patients visited in hospitals and homes. Plans were discussed for a tea to be held on May 19 in the auditorium and for a sewing tea in aid of the fall bazaar this Thursday at the home of Mrs. R. Jones, 1042 Monterey Avenue.

Free Course—Colwood Women's Institute is sponsoring a short course in home decorating and meal planning and preparation of food for home canning and freezing. The course will be held at Colwood Hall with Miss Larissa Denchuk and Miss Orene Ross of University of British Columbia giving the lectures on Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 12 and from 1 p.m. to 3. Courses are free and anyone may attend.

Auxiliary Tea—A sum of $70 was realized by Langford United Church Women's Auxiliary through a recent tea. Mrs. K. Dillabaugh, auxiliary president, received guests. Tea was served at tables arranged with low bowls of garden flowers. At the head table, which was centred with tulips, Mesdames D. Flatman, W. Miller, H. Schultz and M. Cade presided. General conveners were Mrs. David Mathias and Mrs. J. C. Nimmo and Mesdames E. Le-Quesne, J. Jackson and L. Mathias sold home cooking.

PTA NOTES

James Douglas—General and annual meeting of Sir James Douglas PTA will be held on tonight at 8 in the school auditorium. George Grant, director of physical education, will be guest speaker.

Radio — On Sunday, May 16, at 10 a.m., on the parent-teacher radio program, Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director of the World Health Organization, will talk on world good-will. The program has been arranged to coincide with world good-will day on Tuesday, May 18.

Wedding Day Announced

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. G. Biddle, 824 Condor Avenue, have announced the engagement of their youngest daughter, Muriel Anne, to Mr. Ramon Frederick Farmer, only son of Mrs. C. Davis, 315 St. James Street. The wedding will take place on May 22 at St. John's Anglican Church, with Canon George Biddle officiating. Miss Biddle will be attended by Mrs. Joan Crossfield as matron of honor, and Miss Janet Grant as bridesmaid. Little Lynda Shearing will be the flower girl.

Bowling League Supper Dance

Second annual supper dance of the mixed bowling league of Evans, Coleman & Johnson Bros. and members of Women's and Loyal Order of Moose, Chapter 25 and Lodge 1390, was held recently. Following supper, the president, Alec Robinson, introduced secretary Miss D. Guelpa and treasurer Miss T. Stewart, who presented prizes. B. Toller, captain of the Sparkies, this year's winning team, received the silver cup from Mrs. H. Kellett, captain of last year's winners. Among individual prizes were Mesdames Toller, H. Kellett and M. Kelly, ladies' high game; Jock Shearer, high three; A. Craig and B. Toller, high game, high three and high average.

Other prizes were awarded to Mesdames D. Giles, L. Walsh, R. Jones, Miss L. Barker, Messrs. E. Ilott, G. Crooks and L. Stade.

GIRL GUIDES

Cordova Bay—To raise money to purchase a tent and camping equipment for the guide company, Cordova Bay local association is presenting a Tent Fund Nite on Friday at 7.30 in St. David's Church Hall. Dr. C. Carl of the Provincial Museum will show films with accompanying commentary. Judy Adrian will perform dances and Ron Chisholm will give accordion selections. Refreshments and home baking will be on sale.

Happy Valley — A Mothers' Day tea at Luxton Hall was held recently by Happy Valley Brownie Pack. Each Brownie presented her mother with a corsage of spring flowers and the group performed a play under direction of Brown Owl, Mrs. E. Middleton and Tawny Owl, Mrs. R. Osterlin. An enrollment ceremony took place when Sandra and Peggy Chidlow and Sheila Benish were welcomed into the pack. Heidi Wohlers, Gloria Hiscock, Leigh Hiscock, Judy Peree, Linda Heaslip, Sheila Middleton and Irene Lamb received golden bars and second year stars were awarded Judy Baxter, Joan Montgomery, Alison Gardner and Linda Pollock.

Marigold—At recent meeting of First Marigold Company, the following badges were presented: Dorothy McLellan, homemaker, woodman, needlewoman, swimmer, woodcraft, hostess and little house emblem. Second class badges were presented to Doris Watters, Lynne Snowsell, Maureen Dack, Patricia Bowden. Doris and Lynne were hostesses for the afternoon, planning the meeting and serving refreshments. This enables them to pass part of their hostess badge. Division Commissioner Mrs. F. King introduced Area Commissioner Mrs. F. Midgley to the company, and Captain Mrs. A. Watters and Mrs. Midgley presented Dorothy McLellan, one of the original Guides when the company was formed nearly two years ago, with her gold cord, first one received in the company.

The first violinist in British orchestras is called the "leader," but in North America he's the "concert master."

Mrs. Jarvis Honored

A social gathering was held recently by the executive of the Afternoon Branch, Woman's Auxiliary, St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. The event especially honored Mrs. George Victor Jarvis, who was presented with a diocesan life membership in the Woman's Auxiliary, Church of England in Canada.

Restoration of Price-Setting By Manufacturers Being Asked

The federal government has been asked by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Association of Radio and Appliance Dealers to rescind legislation forbidding manufacturers setting retail prices.

At the association's recent annual meeting the 60 dealers present ordered preparation of a request to Ottawa to this effect. The resulting brief, signed by Col. M. Aubrey Kent, will be presented to the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission.

It reads in part:

"Abolition of price maintenance . . . has thrown all lines of business into a most chaotic condition, with drastic results to retail trade and very dubious benefits to the consumer."

Merchant services had been curtailed and "the gyp and racketeer, who cares nothing for service, is in control."

The brief said the abolition of price maintenance was the worst type of class legislation enacted for years as it made it an offense for businessmen to meet and discuss various problems if price was mentioned.

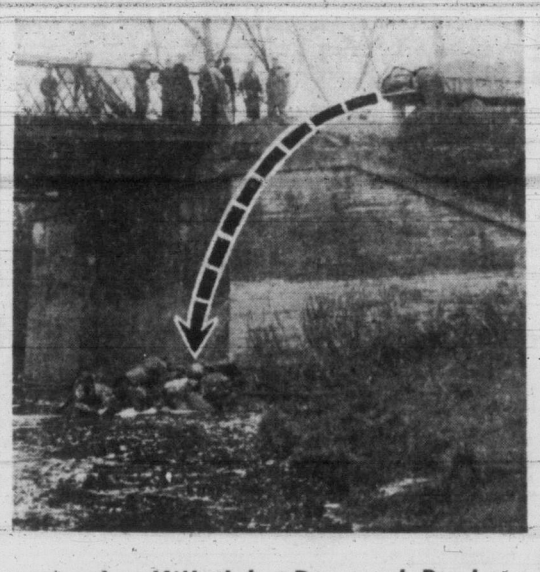
On the other hand, the government was "controlling upward" the prices of meat, bread, butter, cheese, potatoes, milk, wheat; farmers' associations were encouraged to meet and discuss prices; labor unions met to set price of services.

The government was doing "its best to persecute the businessman who provides more employment, bigger payrolls and more revenue to the government than any other source."

The brief went on: "We, as reputable businessmen, are tired of being treated as if we were profiteers, a public menace and undesirables in our economy."

If the government wanted prices more in line with those in the U.S., the brief suggested, it could eliminate the 10 and 15 per cent tax on the manufacturers' end, which tax doubled by the time it reached the consumer.

Monthly meeting of James Bay Community Association will be held in the association hall, Dallas Road and Pilot Street, at 8 p.m. Thursday.



Angler Killed by Dumped Rock

Fishing for trout on the shore of Otter River, Ernest Jarvis of Burford, Ont., 47, died instantly when workmen accidentally dumped two 200-pound rocks on him. Driver of truck, A. S. Blackmore, told police he had been dumping rock there all day to fill a washout beside the bridge and did not see fisherman.

HE OUGHT TO KNOW

Paddler Sure Flo Will Make It

Faith in Flo Chadwick's ability to complete her Port Angeles-Victoria swim is expressed by Walter H. Lambert, modest veteran of 30 Straits crossings by canoe, most of which never reached the light of publicity.

Lambert, director of Radio Electronics Centre in Vancouver, writes to the Victoria Times to express appreciation of a recent article which recalled one or two of his feats.

"May I state my conviction," he says in the course of the letter, "that only really rough water can possibly rob that magnificent swimmer, Miss Chadwick, of her thoroughly deserved triumph."

Stating the Victoria Times is infallible to many of his friends on Vancouver Island, the intrepid lone canoeist, in a friendly tone, points out reference was made in the article to one or two crossings. He has made 30 altogether besides three trips to Tatoosh Island off Flattery and his "graveyard run" from Port Alberni, via Ucluelet, Bamfield, Cape Beale, Clo-oose to Ladner.

He explains that he considered that because the "commonplace nature of these affairs" was so utterly out of proportion to the thrilling episodes of 1939 to 1945 he allowed no record of them to reach the press.

"As an instance both of real endurance and of brilliant seamanship, not to mention courage of the very highest order, may I be permitted to cite the epic ocean voyage in a tiny craft by a member of your own profession—Roy Murdock's voyage from New Zealand to Victoria."

Amalgamation Survey Funds May Be Asked

City and municipal councils will likely be approached soon for co-operation and financial support of a survey designed to ascertain feasibility of amalgamation.

A resolution to this effect was passed by the civic affairs group of the Chamber of Commerce Monday. Before any action is taken the resolution must first be ratified by the chamber board of directors.

M. A. Kent, chairman, said cost of such a survey would be "less than $5,000."

He said the survey would either "lead to amalgamation, or settle the question for years."

It was "ridiculous" that in the six-mile Greater Victoria circle "we are not one family," he said, pointing out that school and library boards were amalgamated now.

NEW YORK (AP)—A nude 30-year-old woman ran wounded into the street Tuesday night, followed by her equally nude estranged husband, who was waving a kitchen knife. Mrs. Evelyn Marziale was taken to hospital with stab wounds. The husband, Gerard Marziale, 42, was charged with assault.

STOCK EXCHANGE SUMMARIES

Pete Slips, Others Dip

TORONTO (CP)—Slowly falling prices, led by sharp declines in some western oils, continued to feature the stock market toward the close of today's trade.

Industrials firmed slightly from earlier weakness but base metals remained low. Manitouwadge, issues and uraniums were strong with penny gains and golds were firm.

Biggest western oil losers were Pacific Petroleum and Peace River Gas, both off more than $1. Their decline followed recommendation by counsel of the United States power commission that bids to supply natural gas to the U.S. Pacific northwest be rejected.

Industrial weakness was in utilities, papers, constructions, refining oils, and financial institutions.

Uraniums picked up sharply toward the close.

Van-Tor Active, Lower

Van-Tor Explorations—one of the companies interested in Peace River oil and gas acreage—topped the trading on Vancouver stock exchange this forenoon.

Transactions totaled 25,000 shares. Noon quotation was 34-37, about level with final sales Tuesday, and slightly better than the low point in yesterday's sharp decline.

Yankee Princess slipped another four cents to 65 on 18,000-share volume. Noon quotation was 65-67.

Mid-West Gas gained three cents when 8,000 shares moved at 1.68. Noon quotation was 1.67-1.68.

N.Y. Recoups Tuesday Loss; 2-Point Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced today and wiped out the biggest part of Tuesday's moderate losses.

Gains extended to around two points at the best. Losses were all small.

Most sections of the market joined in the rise, including rails, steels, chemicals, motors, oils, aircrafts and a long list of individual issues.

The Canadian stocks were mixed: Higher were International Nickel, up ¼, and Dome Mines and Distillers Seagram, both up ⅛. Hiram Walker was down ½ and Canadian Pacific fell ¼.

Canadian issues on the American stock exchange showed little change. Royalite Oil dropped ¼.

London Prices Firm After Cautious Start

LONDON (CP)—The London stock market took on a firmer appearance today after a cautious opening.

Buying in government securities brought about well-spread gains ranging up to 3/16.

Closing prices: Babcock & Wilcox 55s 4½d, Boots Pure Drug 24s 10½d, Canadian Pacific $42, Central Mining 29s 4½d, Courtaulds 28s 10½d, Hudson's Bay Co. 111s 6d, Imperial Chemical 60s 1½d, Imperial Tobacco 51s 9d, Metal Box 72s d, Mexican Eagle 18s 4½d, Rand Mines 68s 9d.

Bonds: British 2½s Consols £67¾, British 3½s War Loans £87 15/16, British Fundings 4s 1960-1990 £101⅝.

LONDON (AP)—Financial Times index of stocks: 147.4 (1954 high), up 0.1.

GRAIN

WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prices were fairly steady today on the Winnipeg grain exchange with the aid of upturns in U.S. markets. Trading was dull.

Overnight export loadings of Canadian wheat included Germany 1,150,000 bushels U.K. 405,000 and Brazil 300,000.

Lakehead prices for top grades of Class Two IWA and domestic wheat were up ⅛ cent except Class Two durums which were unchanged.

CHICAGO

CHICAGO (AP)—All garins except old crop soybean moved ahead for substantial gains in active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

Buying in wheat stemmed from a belief prices were attractive at their current big discount under the prospective U.S. government loan, and the same theory was behind demand for corn and oats.

Wheat closed 2 to 2¼ higher, May 1.98¼; corn 1¼-2¾ higher, May 1.54⅞; oats ¾ to 2 cents higher, May 74¼; rye 1½ to 2 cents higher, May 93½; soybeans 4⅞ lower to 5¼ higher, May 3.78-3.77¾.

Machinery Sales Rise In Northwest

Convention Here Told of Upsurge

Pacific Northwest sales in heavy logging, construction and farm equipment is expected to top last year's gross sales volume of $75,000,000, F. B. Collins, president, Collins Machinery Co. of Seattle, said here today.

Mr. Collins is chairman of the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Distributors' Association spring meeting being held at the Empress Hotel at which 18 companies—manufacturers and distributors—are represented.

Sales were off last year, he explained, due to poor weather and logging difficulties, but the outlook this year is excellent.

"We see no depression at all: Construction, road building and logging is building up throughout the area, including B.C."

The 60 delegates are here from throughout B.C., northern California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah and Alaska.

$2,436,000 Estate Left by Richardson

WINNIPEG (BUP)—The late John B. Richardson, a leading Winnipeg grain merchant who died March 28, left an estate of more than $2,436,000 to his widow and four children.

Mrs. Richardson received $100,000 plus a lifetime annuity of $10,000 and various properties. The rest of the estate was divided equally between Richardson's three sons and one daughter, and has been placed in a trust fund until they reach the age of 25.

Decision Due In MSL Rail Proxy Battle

NEW YORK—The winner of a bitter proxy fight for control of the $38,000,000 Minneapolis & St. Louis Railway Co. may be announced today.

Chairman Lucian C. Sprague, who is leading management's fight to retain control of the line, recessed the annual meeting after a stormy three-hour session Tuesday to give election inspectors time to count votes cast by shareholders.

Ben W. Heineman, Chicago attorney and model railroader who is leading the opposition, predicted after the recess that his board of directors would be elected by an "overwhelming margin."

The railroad has a total of 589,229 common shares outstanding. Simple majority of all outstanding shares is 294,615.

Capital Estates' New $1 Shares To Trade Monday

New $1 par value shares of Capital Estates Ltd. will be posted for trading on Vancouver stock exchange next Monday. Trading in the existing $5 par shares will end Friday afternoon.

Rail-Truck Rate War Predicted for East

OTTAWA (CP) — Fear of a rate war between the railways and trucks in Ontario and Quebec was expressed today by the chief spokesman for Canada's trucking industry.

G. M. Parke, of Toronto, president of Canadian Trucking Associations, accused the railways of undermining the trucks' interprovincial rate structure by recent drastic cuts.

He said the truckers will have to take retaliatory measures.

Mr. Parke's statement was prompted by what he described as "drastic" rate cuts on rail merchandise moving between Montreal and Toronto and Montreal and Hamilton.

A CTA spokesman said later the reductions undercut the truck rates sharply.

Mr. Parke admitted that the railway action had been preceded by truck reductions on some merchandise in the two runs, but he said the bulk of rates on all commodities was maintained.

Mr. Parke said the railways and truckers have been "eyeing each other uneasily" in recent months as the result of a decline in freight tonnage experienced by both.

He said that with very few more examples of "irresponsibility" on the part of both industries, a general rate war could break out that would shatter any hope of favorable 1954 operating results for the trucking industry and the two big railways.

BOAC Profit Best Yet Despite Comet Trouble

LONDON (AP)—The government-owned British Overseas Airways Corporation turned in its best-yet profit in 1953-54 despite the grounding of its Comet jetliners, chairman Sir Miles Thomas announced today.

He said gross profit for the year will be just over £2,000,000 and the net surplus after interest payments just over £1,000,000.

You'll discover a world of difference in a

DODGE

—take a 5-MILE TRIAL and see!

Pick the road . . . pick the time . . . then slip behind the wheel of a brilliant new Dodge for 5 miles of fun and facts.

You'll find driving Dodge an eye-opening experience — one that might save you plenty when it comes time to buy a new car.

So put the dependable Dodge to the test, mile by mile . . . and see the difference. A 'phone call to your Dodge-De Soto dealer will bring a Dodge to your doorstep.

USED CARS DEPENDABLE USED TRUCKS

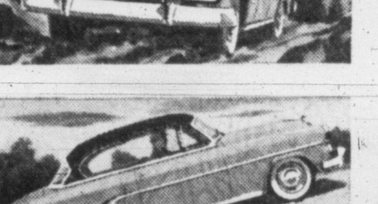
Before you buy anywhere, ask your Dodge-De Soto dealer what extra value he can offer on a dependable new or used car.

1ST MILE

Notice the visibility and comfort you get in Dodge. Seats are soft and restful and chair-high so you command a better view of the road down in front. Notice the extra headroom and legroom, too.

2ND MILE

Try it for handling ease. Big brakes with rivetless Cyclebond linings make stopping easy. High steering gear ratio makes turning easier. And Dodge Full Power Steering* gives safe control with finger-tip pressure. These are advantages to remember particularly during May, which is Safety Month.

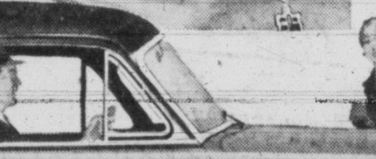


3RD MILE

Check its "big-car" ride over bumps you usually avoid. You'll find the Dodge ride smooth and sure-footed on any road, thanks to Oriflow shock absorbers, easy-action springs and lower centre of gravity.

4TH MILE

Test Dodge power on hills or on the open highway. Enjoy its quick, easy getaway. There's plenty of reserve power to hurry you safely out of tight spots. And Dodge provides this zip without requiring premium gasoline.



5TH MILE

Ask about the extras you get at no extra cost. Things like luxurious upholstery fabrics with vinyl trim . . . electric windshield wipers . . . oil-bath air cleaner. Then check the price, and see why the Dependable Dodge is your best buy.

*Available at moderate cost.

Damage Suit Follows City Traffic Death

A civil suit arising out of a traffic death in Victoria on September 30, 1953, is being heard today in Supreme Court before Mr. Justice A. D. MacFarlane.

Percy D. Gill, 1179 Fort Street, and the Gutta Percha and Rubber Co. Ltd. are jointly being sued for damages by Polish-born Mrs. Nicholas Seginowich, 3170 Gamma Street, whose husband was killed when he was struck by a car driven by Gill.

The accident occurred on Douglas Street near the Market Street intersection at about 7.30 in the evening. Gill, driving a company car, came into collision with Mr. Seginowich who died from injuries the next day in the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Joseph McKenna, KC, is acting as counsel for the plaintiff. Roy Manzer represents the defendants.

First Night Raiders At Chevron Banquet

By ROY THORSEN

Two of Victoria's older soldiers seated at the Red Chevron banquet table last week, both quiet, undemonstrative types but who love a reunion with old comrades, were leaders in a strategy that revolutionized front-line warfare in the First World War.

They are J. Ray McIllree, lawyer, of 1562 Richardson, and William Merston, 1159 Beach, retired former hotel owner.

Both members of the old "Fighting Seventh" Battalion (CEF), they engineered the first daring night raid ever attempted by Empire troops on the enemy trenches in France and with great success. It had such a profound effect that the army made it a blanket operation. Raid was executed on a night in November, 1915.

CREDIT TO SCOUTS

Mr. Merston was sergeant in charge of the scouts. "He is chiefly credited with the success of the operation," said Mr. McIllree, a lieutenant and leader of the raiding bomber group. "The artillery failed to cut the barbed-wire protecting the Germans but four of his scouts crawled to within feet of the enemy and cut a path through it. The job took nearly four hours. If it wasn't for the scouts we couldn't have made the raid," said Mr. McIllree.

As a result of the tactical manoeuvre both were decorated, Mr. Mertson the DCM and Mr. McIllree the DSO. "Victoria's Lieut. "Wildy" Holmes (brother of Major Cuthbert Holmes) also received the DSO in that operation," Mr. McIllree reported. They both finished the war with the rank of captain, also served in the Second World War.

Leslie G. Scott called the roll. Members stood up as he read off the long list of units in Canada's First Contingent to the overseas front. Old Royal Navy veterans and British "Old Contemptibles" are also qualified as Chevron Association members.

CALL FOR SERVICE

If you want to get the boys of khaki of 35-40 years ago in a rollicking song mood introduce a couple of pretty ladies into the picture. The Chevrons did and singers Bette Ellis and Irene McAllister soon had everyone in full voice. And that included Rev. William Hills, former naval padre, who during the evening called for all-out conscription of Canadian youth for military training.

Gathering included some of the old 5th B.C. Coast Regiment members who were on the first draft to leave Victoria bound for "over there." They were Gunners Howdy Carter, Jimmy Watson, Jack Armstrong, Charlie Clare (second vice-president), Vic Robbey, Bert Warren and Capt Berkeley (Monty) Monteith.

Well-known Louis Glazen tipped us off on the Merston-McIllree story.

Other members attending the Red Chevron dinner included:

Walter Fish, T. F. C. Salt, Walter J. Simpson, F. Abrahams, B. J. Rands, D. Lavender (Milnes Landing), Capt. A. C. Cruchley, Frank Curtis, N. P. Kelly, Stuart G. Stoddart, Jack Davey, Len Foster, Joe Leatham (secretary-treasurer), C. E. Sherwin, A. K. Steel, H. J. Dorrance, R. L. Hamilton, Eric Pepler, Col. H. C. Greer (president), Lieut.-Col. J. H. Edgar, G. Dugdale, W. Alsdorf, Fred Knill.

One Succeeds As 2 Appeal In Drug Case

The B.C. Court of Appeal Tuesday allowed the appeal of a Vancouver man from a conviction of being in the possession of narcotics. There was no evidence to show that the accused was physically in the possession of the drugs at the time of his arrest, the court held.

In allowing the appeal the court quashed the conviction of Albert Earl Martin, who was sentenced by Judge Bruce Boyd in Vancouver to three years' imprisonment with a fine of $200. Martin was relased from penitentiary today.

Martin's friend, Harvey Priddle, convicted on the same charge, lost a similar appeal. Priddle was sentenced to four years.

Trial evidence showed that RCMP found a cache of drugs hidden in a depression in a telephone pole in Vancouver. The cache contained five capsules of morphine wrapped in a piece of paper.

Police in a car stationed near the pole saw Priddle get out of the car and pick up the small parcel. Martin, according to the evidence, was the driver of the car.

Martin, had claimed in lower court that he was only driving the car for Priddle and was teaching Priddle to drive.

Logging Operator Jailed, Fined $500

A sentence of one year imprisonment and a $500 fine were imposed by Judge J. B. Clearihue in County Court Tuesday upon Harold Getson of Victoria, operator of the Falcon Logging Co. Ltd., who was found guilty of receiving logs belonging to Kapoor Sawmills and Phillip Whittaker of Duncan.

Organizational Changes Studied By City Nurses

Organization of the Canadian Nurses' Association and proposed revisions were discussed by Miss Eshter Paulson, RN, at a Victoria chapter meeting of the Registered Nurses' Association of BC. Tuesday night.

Miss Paulson is past president of the RNABC and a committee member of the national body. She is director of nursing, division of tuberculosis control, at the Willow Chest Centre in Vancouver.

The Canadian Nurses' Association was formed in 1908, she said, and proposed changes in the organization are in keeping with political, social and nursing changes since that time.

The structure study recommendations will be voted on by delegates to CNA's biennial convention in June at Banff.

Miss Mary Richmond, educational director of the School of Nursing at Royal Jubilee Hospital, introduced Miss Paulson.

GALLUP POLL OF CANADA

Early to Bed Is General Habit Except on Saturday

Canadians like to go to bed early. Around this time of year, says the Gallup Poll, just about as many go to bed before 9 o'clock as stay up beyond midnight. That's the story for weekdays. And that's the story for young people, as well as those who are 50 or over.

But on Saturday night, four times as many people are up and about between midnight and 2 a.m. "Party Night" in Canada keeps well over a third of the people up later than 12.

The Inquiring Interviewers for the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion put this question to a sample of adult Canadians:

"At this time of the year what hour do you usually go to bed on week-days? On Saturdays? On Sundays?"

	Weekdays	Saturdays	Sundays
Before 9 p.m.	8%	3%	6%
9-12 p.m.	82	55	80
12-2 a.m.	9	36	12
After 2 a.m.	*	5	1
No answer	1	1	1
	100%	100%	100%

*Less than 1%.

There's a big contrast between the hours of night-hawks in large cities and those down on the farm. In rural areas, almost one person in five (19 per cent) is tucked away by 9 o'clock on week-days. Only one in 25 can match this in the largest cities. But the proportion of people who retire between 9 p.m. and midnight is just about the same in the country as in the city. Late retirement habits contrasts as sharply as do early, with large-city dwellers showing a far greater propensity for post-midnight "turning in."

Looking at Canadians and their bedtime hours from the point of view of age only shows that less than half (46 per cent) of those in their 20s are in bed before midnight on Saturdays. About the same number (44 per cent) are up between midnight and 2 a.m. on this day. On week-days, however, only eight in every 100 in the 20-year-old group are up until beyond 12 o'clock.

Among this youngest group of adults, Sunday means a late night, too, for 19 per cent of them, as compared to only 10 per cent of those who are 50 and over who stay up after midnight.

The following table gives a graphic picture of Saturday Saturday night bedtime hours on the farm, as compared to the smaller and largest cities:

	Farm	Small Towns	Big Cities
Before 9 p.m.	9%	3%	2%
9-12 p.m.	70	61	41
12-2 p.m.	21	33	46
After 2 p.m.	-	3	9
No answer	-	-	2
	100%	100%	100%

Cat Licenses Denied

VANCOUVER (CP)—The feline population of Vancouver can rest a little easier. A proposal by SPCA director David Ricardo that they be licensed has been rejected by city council. And Earle Adams called the move "another instance of bureaucratic control of people and freedom," and added "next, it will be canaries."

Big 'O' Sailors Still Untraced

CANBERRA (Reuters) — Three of 10 sailors AWOL from the Canadian cruiser Ontario on her visit to Australia still are untraced.

Seven of the men have surrendered "in dribs and drabs," A. J. Hicks, first secretary of the Canadian high commissioner's office said Tuesday.

Farm Council Seeks Cereal Floor Prices

OTTAWA (CP) — Floor prices for cereal grains were urged Tuesday by the Interprovincial Farm Union Council.

In a submission to the Commons agriculture committee, the council asked that the federal treasury support prices for the next crop year at these minimums: Wheat, $1.50 a bushel; barley, 90 cents; oats, 60 cents.

HEY, FELLERS, THAT DAILY BATH IS BAD

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Clean living is fine, says Dr. Earl D. Osborn of Buffalo, N.Y., a skin specialist, but "daily bathing is the worst thing you can do to your skin, especially when you use soap."

He said statistics show that countries where people seldom take baths have the least number of skin infections and diseases.

Potters, Painters Join In Distinctive Display

BY GWLADYS DOWNES

This week and next the Arts Centre is showing the majority of works displayed recently in Vancouver at the B.C. Potters' sixth annual exhibition, a professional and amateur event sponsored by the regional committee of the Federation of Canadian Artists.

Both the judges of the show and the makers of the objects have obviously been guided above all, by considerations of form. Although there is a delightful variety in the shapes of bowls, plates, jugs and jars, few artists have departed from the essential principles of simple and pleasing design.

It is a singularly restful and uncluttered exhibition, for in most cases the potters have allowed the pure lines of the shapes to speak for themselves. What ornament one finds is integral to the design and is in many cases part of the surface texture. Within the range of the rather subdued, earthy colors displayed, there are a great number of different tones, combined of course with different types of glazing.

FEATURED IN MAGAZINE

The work of A. T. Makovin, Rex Mason, and Hilda Ross is particularly outstanding. It is interesting to note that some of this work is featured in the current issue of "Canadian Art."

Mollie and Bruno Bobak, Vancouver artists whose work is being displayed concurrently with the pottery exhibition, are both very important, both as teachers and artists, in the B.C. scene. But the present exhibition does neither of them justice. Although a very enjoyable show, it does not contain really outstanding examples of their recent work.

It does, however, indicate clearly the progress made by Bruno since 1946, the date of a realistic water-color, "Army Trucks". He has been interested in exploring tree-forms, leaves, and rock formations, both separately and in combination. There is a precision, tough and delicate at the same time, in his water-color studies, which are sensitive and honest presentations of his B.C. environment, although they have been influenced by the English painter, Graham Sutherland.

DIFFERENCE SEEN

There is a clear cut demarcation between the Bobaks work in subject matter, style, and choice of colors, except in one large oil by Mollie whose tonal values are more reminiscent of her husband's painting than her own. Her scenes and landscapes usually contain human figures, and although her still-life paintings can be lyrical and fresh, it is in compositions of the first type that she seems particularly successful.

There are four French street scenes whose effect depends not simply on aesthetic values but on the sympathetic insight of the painter who has seen people as essential parts of the moment her vision has seized.

LAWYER ATTACKS AUTHOR

—Columnist Westbrook Pegler's lawyer lit into writer Quentin Reynolds, Tuesday, in New York, as "a yellow coward . . . an absentee war correspondent." The attack was made before a federal court jury sitting on the Reynolds' $500,000 libel suit against the Hearst newspapers' columnist. As the first witness, Reynolds testified that as a Second World War correspondent he was under bomb attack many times, was under Nazi shellfire in France, voyaged aboard a British ship that sought to decoy Nazi planes within range of its guns, and was the last American correspondent out of Paris before it fell to the Germans. The case arose out of a Pegler column written Nov. 29, 1949, which attacked Reynolds' bravery.

No Allied Planes On Denmark Bases

LONDON (AP) — Foreign Minister Hans Christian Hansen Tuesday ruled out any chance that Allied air force will be based in Denmark in peacetime "despite the risks we are facing." The Danish Socialist told the Foreign Press Association that public opinion in his country would turn against the Atlantic alliance if foreign forces were brought there at this time.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar class). BB (Worthwhile).
A (Don't miss). B (For rainy days).
C (To put in time).

(OSCAR CLASS) "JULIUS CAESAR" (Fox) — Shakespeare! The superb challenge of an actor; the best demanding the best. Here is the ultimate, lines that range the facets of the art—raillery, sarcasm, sadness, wit, innuendo, bravado, madness, cunning, love and hate; lines written more than 350 years ago and yet, which, in the hands of a master, can glow as vividly today as when they were penned.

Shakespeare done well is something that draws the thoughtful theatre-goer to the edge of his seat, lost in wonder of the magic born during the reign of the first Elizabeth. And over the years and over the centuries there have been many memorable companies who have caught the spirit of The Bard, meeting the challenge great as it was, and carrying the day.

But, peculiarly enough, Shakespeare, so great on the legitimate stage, has failed miserably before the movie cameras. Two films and two only have been made that could be truthfully classified as in "the grand tradition." Both of these were English and starred Sir Laurence Olivier. The first was the magnificent "Henry V," and the second was "Hamlet," for which Olivier won Hollywood's "Academy Award."

Credit to Director

Now comes the third, an American production of "Julius Caesar," by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, that can justly take its place alongside the other two and suffer nothing by the comparison.

Indeed — still remembering some glorious evenings watching some of the very finest Shakespearian companies perform on the legitimate stage —rarely, if ever, have we seen "Caesar" performed so well.

Credit here must go to Director Joseph Mankiewicz, who interprets "Caesar" as no doubt Shakespeare meant it to be interpreted. The lines are spoken as men speak lines in life, moving about, often off-handedly, with a casualness and naturalness that makes the play "live," something all too rare these days. And Shakespeare was meant to live and not to be "acted." Shakespeare is not the background for great speeches made for the glory of the actor rather than the unification and impact of the play itself.

Mankiewicz' handling of the camera also added much that could not be had on the legitimate stage. Such scenes as Marc Antony addressing the crowds of Rome, who have gathered upon hearing of Caesar's assassination; the street scenes; the mighty battle at Philippi were but a few that took "Caesar" of-stage, so to speak, to give it a vitality and scope that will not soon be forgotten by those fortunate enough to witness it.

Cast Superb

However, all these things are but the projections, the garnishings. The greatness of M-GM's "Caesar" lives where all great plays must live finally—in the art of the actors.

The cast, in all, was superb, well-matched and with few "weak links." There was James Mason as the tragic Brutus who loved his Caesar yet assassinated him; there was "lean and hungry" Cassius, played by John Gielgud; Mark Antony, played by Marion Brando; Louis Calhern as Julius Caesar, Edmond O'Brien as the blunt-spoken Casca; Deborah Kerr as Brutus' wife, Portia, and Greer Garson as Calpurnia, Caesar's wife.

It was for his role in "Julius Caesar" that Brando won his Academy Award nomination this year ("Julius Caesar" was one of the five films nominated as the best picture of the year but lost out to "From Here to Eternity") and the nomination was justified. His famed funeral oration and particularly his "let slip the dogs of war" soliloquy mark him as the fine actor he is.

Although he didn't quite look as one imagined Caesar looked Calhern was quite satisfactory particularly in the death scene in the senate—one of the many highlights of the play; Mason was admirable as Brutus; but it was Gielgud's portrayal of Cassius that caught our eye as one of the greatest we remember. The man was enchanted.

Plaudits for Deborah

On the distaff side Miss Kerr, academy award winner for her role in "From Here to Eternity," proves that she is one of America's finest actresses as Portia. Her touching scene with Brutus, striving to get him to share her troubles with his wife, is tender and poignant. Miss Garson's Calpurnia, on the other hand, was less satisfying.

In conclusion: M-G-M's "Julius Caesar" is Shakespeare pure and unadulterated. The lines and the play are exactly as The Bard wrote them. We urge everyone who is interested, particularly teachers and their pupils, to see this film. For what a wonderful privilege it is that those who are about to study, or have studied "Julius Caesar" can make their work all the more interesting and certainly more understandable. It will fire the mind with imagination.

73% N.Z. Adults Wear False Teeth

WELLINGTON (Reuters) — New Zealanders are said to have the worst teeth in the world and dentists blame this condition on a lack of fluorine in the diet.

Seventy-three per cent of New Zealand's adult population wear false teeth.

Dentists have recommended that fluorine be added to the drinking water to help rectify the deficiency, but their pleas have met stiff opposition.

Opening lead—♥ 4

When today's hand was played, South bid five clubs as a sacrifice. He thought his opponents could make four hearts, and he expected to be defeated at five clubs.

Both opinions happened to be wrong. West would have been defeated at four hearts, but South made five clubs. South was afraid that his club suit would provide only one defensive trick, and he therefore preferred to risk a small loss rather than allow the opponents to score a vulnerable game.

West opened the four of hearts, East put up the ace, and South ruffed. Declarer next led a low diamond towards dummy's jack, and West hopped up immediately with the queen.

West switched immediately to spades, leading low to East's ace. East returned the jack of spades and South won with the king.

South now drew trumps in two rounds, and discovered that he could make the contract if he could set up the diamonds with just one ruff. He would then be able to discard a losing spade on one of his good diamonds, and dummy would still have a trump to ruff out South's own losing spade.

With this thought in mind, South next laid down the ace of diamonds. When the ten of diamonds dropped from the East hand, South had to decide who held the king of diamonds.

The play had already indicated that East had started with the ace-queen of hearts. The play of the ace at the first trick denied the king; and if West had held the king-queen, he would have led the king to begin with instead of a low heart.

It was apparent also, from the play of the spades, that West's best spade was the queen. Was it likely that West would have bid freely twice if he held only the king of hearts and two side queens?

South decided against this supposition. He expected West to hold the king of diamonds as well.

After taking the ace of diamonds, therefore, South led the nine of diamonds through West. West played his low diamond, hoping that South would guess wrong, but South had already made up his mind. He discarded the last spade from the dummy on his nine of diamonds.

When this held, the rest was easy. South could ruff a diamond in dummy, return by ruffing a heart, and run his remaining diamond. Dummy's last trump would then take care of South's last low spade.

IN TUNE WITH THE TIMES

BY BILL PARKER

Fisherman's paradise . . . that's the phrase for CBC Wednesday night this week.

CBU will feature two programs devoted to sport fishing.

At 7.30 tonight, Roderick Haig-Brown, one of Vancouver Island's foremost exponents of the art of angling, will give a half-hour talk on his experiences as a sports-fisherman.

At 8, the CBC will present a dramatized radio version of Izaak Walton's famous book "The Compleat Angler."

Puplished first in 1653, Walton's book has become almost a "bible" for fishermen the world over. It describes the best methods for catching almost all kinds of fish, tells how to make fishing lines, tie flies, and explains methods of angling.

Later in the evening, at 9, Jean Beaudet will conduct an orchestra in a series of Czechoslovakian melodies commemorating the deaths of Bedrich Smetana and Antonin Dvorak. The program, which will be carried over CBU will be rebroadcast to Europe on Sunday by the CBC International Service.

HIGHLIGHTS FOR TONIGHT

ON CBU:
Haig-Brown at 7.30.
"The Compleat Angler" at 8.
Czech Music at 9.

ON CBUT:
"The Sins of the Father" at 9.
Dixieland Jazz at 10.30.

ON KOMO-TV:
Crown Theatre at 11.

ON KING-TV:
Liberace at 9.30.

ON KTNT-TV:
Red Skelton at 8.

(These program listings are as supplied by the stations themselves and The Times is not responsible for last minute changes or other alterations.) Pacific Daylight Time.

BUILDERS SASH & DOOR LIMITED

SUMMER TIME

Screen door time—we will make screen doors and windows—made to fit your windows—delivered—did you know that for screening material nylon is recommended unbreakable and does not cut if any ragged edges wear. Also copper screening, metal black, red and green painted—just any way that you desire.

RUSTPROOF METAL WINDOWS

A hot-dipped galvanized metal window—used in many homes all over Victoria—easily cleaned from the inside—no stains on your woodwork, easiest of all the windows to install—costs no more than the average wooden sash of the same size—comes in all sizes for modern homes. No painting needed—winder opens window—and a latch.

BUY ON CREDIT

Your charge account is welcome here and items purchased at your convenience in any one month can be paid on the 15th of the following month. If you need extended terms to suit mortgage payments or budget terms for 12 to 18 months on instalments. We will be glad to serve your needs. Builders Sash and Door do not have any outside financing, assuring you of fast, confidential credit.

DE WALT-RADIAL-POWER SHOP

NOW—that you have attended the B.C. Products Fair last week, you undoubtedly saw the crowd gathering around the Stewart & Hudson booth. On looking closer you noticed the demonstration of a power shop—the DE WALT. After watching the saw change—from router, to saw, then to a shaper, and again to a mitre cut, both right and left, you must have said (to yourself) "amazing!" It does better than any other home workshop, easier, faster, safer, with more power and with accuracy.

Remember though, $30.00 delivers this complete DE WALT workshop right to your home, and then you pay $17.75 for 18 months or $25.75 for 12 months. Total cost of this amazing 14-operation power shop is $298.00 delivered. Phone for a complete pamphlet on this truly all-round saw.

SAVE AT GRAY'S

Possibly some people wonder why all our ads are signed with the words "Thanks Folks." Well years ago we got the idea that many storekeepers said "thank you" to people when they bought something but didn't always do so on other occasions. The "Thanks Folks" in our ad. are first of all for reading the ad., and then its for all the people who are our customers and it's for all the folks and firms who send business our way. For those who come into our store or look in our windows, even if they don't buy, also it makes us feel good after a busy day to say—Thanks Folks.

CARROLL RICHTER'S ASTROLOGICAL FORECAST

THURSDAY, MAY 13, 1954

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)—You want to go to someone in authority and really blast them into seeing things your way, but all you would do is make unforgiving opponents. Instead, be gentle, kind, courteous.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)—Likelihood of damage, spoilage, rips, tears, accidents and arguments of all kinds with those with whom you are associated in daily life and with apparel, foods, cars, etc., suggests you double-check all before doing anything.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)—Urge to have good time with hard-earned assets, resources, requires real self-control to restrain, but by channeling in budgeting income, repairing property turns trouble to added revenue, possessions.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)—Someone or some condition at home has you nearly livid, but it's as much your fault as other fellow's if you analyze closely, so let your sense of humor work in refusing to be sarcastic, hurt or upset. Smile.

LEO (July 22 to August 21)—Confusion on how you stand about some obligation can cause you to worry, but remember, anxiety never solved any problem. Be mindful of some expert and get unbiased view from him, or her.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22)—Erratic or disturbed friend looks to you and your money as solution for some problem, but you will only weaken that individual if you aid now; be understanding but keep firm grip on your purse strings.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)—You really want to get some load off your chest, but actually only your pride has been hurt, so why peril the good name, reputation, opinion of others by endangering through indiscreet act or words now?

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)—You feel so restricted in some way you want to get out from under, to new scenes at all costs, but this is just the time to review, analyze, appraise where you are headed and tactfully get others' help.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)—You want to go off on an emotional or financial binge—and you also want to enjoy ardent supporter's, good friend's aid and friendship; you can't have both, so you'd better go along with earnest backer now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Take no chances where anyone with any power is concerned, for you can quickly lose some very desirable benefit that makes your life easier by any evidence of temper, inconsideration, vacillation. Be stalwart.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Replace that desire to show annoyance over frustration, irritating condition by seeking better methods for handling without giving offense to anyone concerned. Book, newspapers, etc., supply good data.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Keep clear of any heavy commitments or expenditures that could lessen your present good credit with others; instead, work energetically, conservatively to attain aims and ambitions.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN THURSDAY . . .

Thursday's child is one of those very forceful individuals who needs a firm rein on his, or her, temper and activities in conformity with systems and principles that have been found workable for a considerable period of time. However, this ingenious energy is wonderful in the right outlets, which your youngster has the right to follow. So early in life have construction sets, building games, and as maturity develops encourage occupations in which much force can be applied constructively, such as engineering, designing, etc.

Exporters Would Give U.K. Long-Term Credit

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Exporters' Association proposed today that Canada provide the United Kingdom and other overseas countries with long-term credit as a means to expand exports vital to Canadian prosperity.

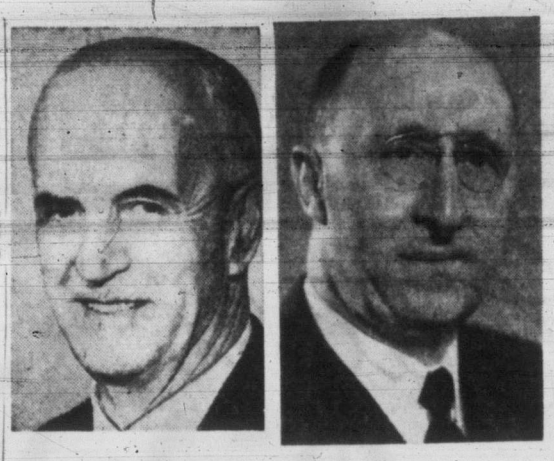
The association, whose members ship some $4,000,000,000 worth of goods a year, urged also that Canada and the United States promote commodity trade pacts, guaranteeing prices and markets for basic goods produced by underdeveloped countries.

These and such other proposals to provide tax-free goods for tourists, tax relief on foreign investment profits, lower freight charges to seaports and broader government insurance on export risks formed part of a seven-point program prepared for submission to the Senate trade relations committee.

The committee, investigating ways to strengthen the economic side of the North Atlantic treaty, received a five-man delegation headed by S. A. MacKay-Smith of Ottawa, association president.

At home, the big problem was to overcome mounting costs of labor and production which were pricing many Canadian goods out of world markets.

Government and trade bodies should strive to inform labor unions of the consequences of "constant wage increases" on production costs and to call attention to the importance of exports to the ecenomy — "an importance which seems to be entirely overlooked by our labor leaders."



To Industrial Board

A leading scientist and a top B.C. industrialist—Dr. C. J. Mackenzie, left, of Ottawa, and R. W. Diamond, right, of Trail—today were appointed members of Defense Research Board. Mr. Diamond is vice-president and general manager of Consolidated Mining and Smelting. Dr. Mackenzie retired last year as president of Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd.

U.S. Will Anticipate Red Action in Asia

United States Won't Wait for Crisis; Success of Venture in Greece Recalled

By ALAN HARVEY

GENEVA (CP)—The United States is believed to be working on a long-term plan for checking the spread of communism in southeast Asia, whatever happens in Indo-China.

This was one of the interpretations placed on the series of recent statements about U.S. policy in Asia, including Tuesday's declaration by State Secretary Dulles. Dulles said in Washington he thinks southeast Asia can be defended without Indo-China.

What the U.S. has in mind, some delegates suggest, is a military and political system, linked if possible with the United Nations charter, in which associated countries would come to the help of any member of the group requiring it.

The plan might be so loose that aid would be afforded any country which felt it needed protection from Communism. Thus Thailand, for instance, might be given military support by the Americans in advance of any aggression.

Conditioning U.S. thinking is the conviction, firmly held by many top U.S. officials, that any appreciable spread of Communism in Asia will seriously endanger countries like Japan. At the worst, all Asia might succumb, placing two-thirds of the world under Communist control.

DETERMINED TO RESIST

This the United States is determined to resist through a grouping of friendly countries, possibly including Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and perhaps Burma.

Thus, it is felt, U.S. thinking now has passed beyond the "crisis" phase of two weeks ago, when immediate military intervention in Indo-China was considered. Now the emphasis is on saving what can be saved through long-term planning.

U.S. planning is probably based on an analogy of the experience in Greece. There the U.S. moved in when Britain could no longer hold on, and the action, Americans would say, saved Greece from communism.

If the long-term plan applies to parts of Indo-China, the Americans would be taking over from France. This would almost certainly cause resentment in that country.

Every effort would be made to associate as many Asian countries as possible with the mooted defensive bloc. It is recognized that many obstacles will have to be overcome. One of the great difficulties in Asia, independent commentators stress, is that broadly speaking Asian Communists are active and Asian non-Communists passive.

CRUSADE UNPOPULAR

A crusade against communism, as such, will be difficult to sell in Asia. The predominant emotions among neutral countries in the Far East are nationalism and anti-colonialism, creating a climate of opinion in which communism is regarded as a secondary danger.

Some delegates feel, nevertheless, that the presence of the U.S. might be less unwelcome than that of Britain and France, which tend to be regarded as the old colonial oppressors.

It is unlikely Canada would be asked to join any Far East defensive group such as that now planned.

She may, however, be less opposed in principle to the idea of long-term planning to resist aggression than she almost certainly was to last month's short-term proposals for an air bombardment of Dien Bien Phu.

United Church Opens Meeting

CONFERENCE HEARS CHAIRMAN

Children Leading Parents Back to Church Says Ennals

A new swing toward religion is noticeable in Canada, and many adults are being led back to church by their children, Rev. B. F. Ennals, president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada, told delegates to the 13th annual meeting which opened today at Metropolitan United Church.

"People today are witnessing a children's crusade in the church," he said.

"Children are flocking to our Sunday schools, and bringing their parents with them."

Rival philosophies such as humanism and naturalism have left many people unsatisfied, he said. Troubled times have led people to seek the solace which religion can provide.

He outlined for the 400 clergymen and lay delegates participating in the conference the general situation of the United Church in B.C., and described some of the work needing to be done by local churches.

The president's report was delivered this afternoon. This morning, late arrivals to the week-long conference were registered, a communion and memorial service was held, and delegates met in a fellowship hour.

During the week, representatives of different church committees will deliver reports, conference members will hold numerous workshop periods, church officers will be elected and graduates of Union College will be ordained in a special service Friday night.

Chief speaker will be Bishop Gerald Kennedy of the Methodist Church in Los Angeles.

He will address a public meeting Thursday night at 7.30 and will conduct noon day devotional periods throughout the conference.

Members of the United Church of Canada general council attending the conference include Rev. George Dorey, secretary of the board of home missions; Rev. W. G. Berry, associate secretary of the board of evangelism and social service; and Rev. R. S. Christie, assistant secretary of the evangelism board.

Conference secretary is Rev. Franck G. Patterson and his assistant is Rev. S. L. G. Berridge. Rev. J. Lyn Clerihue is treasurer.

MAINLAND LAKES OPEN ON YEAR-ROUND BASIS

VANCOUVER (CP)—British Columbia has enhanced its position as a sportsman's paradise by putting lake fishing on a year-round basis.

The provincial game branch announced today that a properly-licensed angler would be allowed to fish any lake on the B.C. mainland at any time of the year provided that the lake is not covered with ice. The liberalization of sport fishing regulations does not apply on the mainland to streams nor is it applicable to lakes or streams on Vancouver Island.

At the same time the game branch announced that the legal size limit for trout is being reduced to six inches instead of eight inches in a number of specified fishing waters.

Overdue Ocean Yacht Turned Away Here

Refused Berth After 42 Days at Sea; 2-Man Crew Hadn't Cleared Quarantine

By TONY DICKASON

A sleek 40-foot sloop of the North Sea lifeboat type, which had weathered nine months of Pacific cruising from New Zealand, sailed into the bay by Fisherman's Wharf today—and couldn't berth.

Canadian customs said the two men aboard would have to sail her to William Head to be cleared by the quarantine station.

The sloop Skyline, with her two-man crew aboard canted into harbor shortly before noon, white sides glistening in the sun. The men jumped immediately to furling sails once anchor was cast 100 yards offshore.

A reporter on the wharfside to greet the vessel and crew couldn't shout questions into the wind from that distance.

Fortunately the fishing ketch White Hart was anchored there. Her master, Tony Reeve, was equally curious about the new arrival.

"Let's loose the scow," he said. . . . Minutes later we chugged quietly towards the vessel.

The White Hart got close enough to fire a couple of questions and get a look at the occupants of the Skyline.

They were bare-footed, in denims, one with a jolly-roger red beard and the other with full black whiskers.

"Names?" we bellowed.

"Dennis Ryan, from Calgary," hollered one.

"Rod Helmer, from Auckland," shouted the other.

"Where from originally?"

"New Zealand."

"Where arrive from now?"

"Honolulu . . . 42 days ago, we left."

The yellow quarantine flag was up on the mast, cracking in the stiff breeze.

The pair yelled they had also stopped in at Neah Bay, Washington, for a day's rest after the gruelling crossing.

Back at the wharf, Tony Reeve 'phoned customs about clearing the men. Customs replied they would have to go to William Head, a distance of about 20 miles, both ways another four hours' sailing.

"Is that the best Canada can do for them?" inquired Mr. Reeve over the 'phone, quiet but determined. The answer was "yes."

Dr. John Evans, aboard a yacht anchored nearby, said he had been cleared by quarantine on arrival from Honolulu without necessity of sailing on to William Head. He took the trouble to go up to customs atop the rise near the wharf to see what could be done.

"They'll have to go to William Head," said the customs official present.

Dr. Evans epxlained after, that a doctor arrives at Fishermen's Wharf Tuesday and Friday. It was unfortunate for the vagabonds of sail that they arrived on a Wednesday, instead.

Socred Mathew Wants BCHIS Investigated

VANCOUVER (SP) — A. S. Mathew, Social Credit member of the Legislature for Vancouver Centre, told a constituency meeting Tuesday night that "a thorough investigation is imperative" into the hospital set-up in B.C.

He suggested a three-man board, consisting of a chartered accountant, a businessman and a medical representative conduct the inquiry.

"The difference in hospital costs between B.C. and Alberta is alarming," said Mr. Mathew. "They are double or more here. We should know whether this cost is due to overlapping of duties, waste, or any other cause."

Mossadegh Loses

TEHRAN (UP) — An Appeals Court today rejected an appeal by former premier Mohammed Mossadegh from his conviction on treason charges. It confirmed his sentence of three years in solitary confinement.

EMERGENCY SESSION FOR BIG 3

Far East Talks Hold Pearson

GENEVA (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, today postponed his departure from the Geneva conference.

GENEVA (UP)—The western Big Three called an emergency strategy meeting today to discuss the Indo-China talks and the critical situation in the Far East.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith conferred at 1 p.m., two hours before resumption of Indo-China negotiations.

The three statesmen were confroted with these developments in the fast changing Far Eastern picture:

1. A French decision, supported by the U.S. to try to confine the Indo-China negotiations at this stage to ways of stopping the fighting and avoid getting bogged down in political discussions.

2. A scheduled vote of confidence in the French chamber of deputies on Premier Joseph Laniel's Indo-China policy.

3. Conflicting reports from Washington over a decision by the Eisenhower administration on southeast Asian policy. (See page 2.)

SAME POLICY

Smith assured Bidault Tuesday night, after urgent telephone conversations with Washington, that U.S. policy on Indo-China had not changed.

French delegates to the Geneva conference had misinterpreted remarks made by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday to mean that America might write off Indo-China as a failure.

Former UDL Directors Must Give Answers

Mrs. Nat Bell Wins Appeal Against Vancouver Trio in $3 Million Suit

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal has ruled that three Vancouver men, former directors in a distillery here, must answer pre-trial questions in the $3,000,000 suit of Mrs. Nat Bell of Calgary.

Mrs. Bell, widow of Nat Bell, one of the founders of United Distillers of Canada Ltd., is suing George Norgan, Albert McLennan and Isidore J. Klein, alleging fraud in the sale of shares.

The three were indicted in New York on Tuesday on charges of failing to pay $17,000,000 in taxes on profits made from the sale of Canadian whisky in the United States.

In the Vancouver case, the court ruled that the pre-trial questions of Mrs. Bell must be answered and that they must disclose documents needed in the case.

The court upheld the appeal of Mrs. Bell from a judgment of Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne in Supreme Court. He had ruled the men did not need to disclose the documents or answer pre-trial questions.

Counsel for Norgan, McLennan and Klein claimed the answers might incriminate them.

SLOAN DISSENTS

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan dissented from the majority judgment allowing the appeal.

The Bell suit has been in the courts two years. Associated in the suit with Mrs. Bell are her son, Jack, and daughter, Angela.

The Bells seek an accounting and a share of huge profits alleged to have been made in the U.S. dealing of the distillery men. They seek $2,500,000 or, alternatively, ask for the return of 60,760 shares of UDL stock they sold to the directors in 1945 at $8.33 a share, and also seek $500,000 for dividends on the shares. They claimed the shares were actually worth $50 each.

UDL was sold last year to a subsidiary of Distillers Corporation-Seagrams.

Greek Earthquake

ATHENS (AP)—An earthquake rocked four villages in the Peloponnesus area today, killing at least one person and destroying more than 60 houses, according to reports.

BIGGER BOYS GRABBED ALL BUT FOUR

Youngsters Find Treasure Trove of Old Gold Coins

CLEVELAND (AP) — A group of youngsters hunting their ball in a Cleveland sewer Tuesday stumbled upon a treasure trove of gold coins.

John Schott, 11, Billy Dembie, 8, and John Cooper, 12, weren't dismayed when their ball rolled through a grating and into a catch basin. They crawled right down after it.

On top of a layer of mud in the bottom of the basin they found 13 gold coins. Under six inches of mud were many more.

The youngsters started digging excitedly, but before they could get away with their find, bigger boys heard their shouts, pushed them away and grabbed all but four coins John Schott clutched in his hands.

John's mother showed the coins, all $20 pieces, to Dr. John Gluck, a collector. They were dated 1860, 1880 and 1889. Gluck paid Johnny $36 each for them.

Police had no idea how the coins got in the sewer. The last gold coins were minted in 1933, the year they were withdrawn from circulation.

Mr. Dulles has got Russia guessin' now. Th' U.S. too.

* * *

Hope somewhere amongst all them things th' college youngsters are studyin' is how t' handle th' atomic age.

Rebels Within 6 Miles of Hanoi

Reds Step Up New Phase of 'Victory Drive' In Indo-China; Acts of Sabotage Feared

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—French bombers struck at Communist forces infiltrating the Red River "rice bowl" around Hanoi today and French troops strung barbed wire and dug trenches to protect delta cities against the second phase of the Red "victory drive."

A French military spokesman described the Communist threat to the delta—stepped up since the fall of Dien Bien Phu—as "serious but not desperate."

Hanoi observers placed an ominous interpretation on the spokesman's description, because it was in almost the same terms that Dien Bien Phu was described shortly before it fell.

American-supplied bombers and fighters operating off heavily guarded delta airfields smashed Red supply bases tunneled beneath ricefield villages within the delta itself.

At one point the Communists had closed to within six miles of Hanoi.

Twenty-six bombers struck at troop concentrations along the Red River southeast of Hanoi.

Extra sentries armed with submachine guns were posted by road and rail bridges to block attemtps at sabotage, particularly along the Hanoi-Haiphon road and railroad which funnel nearly all French war supplies into the delta, which is the key to northern Indo-China.

The 58-mile double artery has been the target of intensified Communist Viet Minh raids ever since the battle for Dien Bien Phu began two months ago.

The rebels command an estimated 100,000 regulars and "provincial" (guerrilla) troops within the delta. French and Viet Nam forces now total about 64,000 men, but many of these are scattered in isolated outposts, virtually encircled by territory under Red political control.

Plans to Evacuate Wounded From Fort

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The French high command ordered a French liaison mission today to prepare to fly to Dien Bien Phu for a dramatic meeting with the Communists to arrange the evacuation of 1,300 wounded French and Viet Namese soldiers.

The mercy mission will include doctors to look over the wounded, engineers to survey the wrecked airfield where ambulance planes must land and staff officers to work out actual details of the operations with the Reds.

Military sources said the group probably would leave by helicopter Thursday. Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap specified that the French use helicopters in the initial meeting and asked that the French high command give 24-hour notice of the flight.

The Communists reported earlier they had authorized "French medical services, from the nurses to the commander," to stay on at Dien Bien Phu and care for the wounded. The French dropped food and medical supplies earlier into the ruins, marked by a huge red cross made from red silk parachutes.

VIET NAM HEARD

GENEVA (UP)—The anti-Communist government of Vietnam, Indo-China, today demanded a halt to the Indo-Chinese fighting under international safeguards, acceptance by the Reds of Emperor Bao Dai as the national leader and eventual free elections under UN supervision.

Vietnam also served notice it will never accept partition as a way to end the fighting and bring peace to the war-torn country.

The plan put forward by the Vietnam delegation strongly stressed the requirement for international supervision of any settlement reached and of any elections held.

In this position it was reported to be backed by the French cabinet which earlier today instructed its delegates that there must be international supervision of any settlement, rather than the local supervision proposed by the Communists.

Eisenhower to Sign Seaway Bill Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told his press conference today he will sign the St. Lawrence Seaway bill Thursday.

The bill authorizes United States participation with Canada in building a waterway to carry ocean shipping from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes.

VANCOUVER (BUP)—British Columbia's unpredictable flood situation appeared worse today following sporadic reports of flooding from the province's interior.

Steady warm rains falling over much of the province added a new worry to residents of low-lying valleys, and key highways were reported flooded at two points in the interior.

Rising water in the Moyie River flooded part of the southern trans-provincial highway south of Cranbrook, and flooding creeks in the Monashee Pass forced closure of the Vernon-Slocan highway between Vernon and Needles. The trans-provincial highway was kept open when bulldozers were used to erect a gravel and dirt rampart.

RIVERS RISING

The interior mining centre of Kimberley, which suffered $500,000 damage when the mill creek went on a rampage in 1948, set up an emergency flood committee to map plans to meet a threatened outburst.

A similar committee was set up at New Westminster, where Mayor Fred Jackson was empowered to take steps to help protect Lulu Island at the mouth of the Fraser should the river overflow its banks.

Steady rises also were reported on the Columbia, Kootenay, Thompson and Similkameen rivers. Officials warned that either prolonged heat or heavy rains will worsen the situation.

The rain, however, temporarily eased the forest fire picture—only two fires burned Tuesday in the Vancouver forest district.

Ont. Minister Of Highways Under Fire

MLA Says He Has 'New Evidence'

TORONTO (CP)—Albert Wren, Liberal-Labor member of the provincial legislature for Kenora, said today he has uncovered new evidence of irregularities in the provincial highways department and urged that Highways Minister George Doucett be called to give evidence under oath.

He said in a statement he will seek to have Mr. Doucett called as a sworn witness before the legislature's select committee investigating highway contracts.

Mr. Wren said he has uncovered "even more evidence of irregularities in the highway divisions outside of Fort William and Huntsville" where 11 men and three companies are now facing conspiracy charges.

He said he wished to swear in Mr. Doucett "because I've a lot of embarrassing questions ready for him to answer."

'DEATH BLOW' TO KOREA PEACE?

Rhee Rejects U.S. Vote Plan

GENEVA (Reuters)—The rejection today by South Korean President Syngman Rhee of a United States plan for all-Korean elections was regarded by many delegates at the 19-nation talks as almost a death blow to an already deadlocked conference.

Non-Communist delegations expressed immediate disappointment and concern at Rhee's action, announced at a press conference in Seoul by South Korean Premier Paik Too Chin.

Both United States and other non-Communist delegations here had understood that South Korea agreed last week in principle to new elections throughout Korea under United Nations supervision.

It had been believed by other delegations that this principle, involving a significant South Korean concession, was settled in talks here between Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, head of the United States delegation, and South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai.

FEAR PROPAGANDA

Non-Communist delegates said they feared the propaganda effect of Rhee's refusal to compromise. They said the only firm proposals on Korea at the conference to date have come from Gen. Nam Il, the North Korean foreign minister, who suggested that both Korean governments appoint a joint commission to plan all-Korean elections.

This has been opposed by speakers on the UN side, who have criticized the fact that North Korea, with only one-seventh of the southern population, would have equal representation and the apparent right of veto on the commission.

Ottawa to Pay $400,000 on Marpole Span

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to pay up to $400,000 of the cost of a new bridge between Vancouver and Sea Island, site of the Vancouver Airport.

Works Minister Winters, making the announcement in the Commons today, said the amount will be one-third of the estimated cost of $1,200,000 for a span to replace the present Marpole bridge, which he said is inadequate.

Mr. Winters made his announcement after Tom Goode (L, Burnaby-Richmond) asked whether federal aid for the bridge will be given now that the Vancouver city council has agreed to sell Sea Island airport to the federal government.

U.S. Lawyer Recommends Gas Pipe Line Should Be Scrapped

Provincial government officials say they are not disturbed over a U.S. Federal Power Commission counsel's recommendation that the $130,000,000 Westcoast Transmission gas pipeline be scrapped.

Lands and Forests Minister R. E. Sommers, who contacted officials of the pipeline firm in Washington, said they are "not worried" about the rejection recommendation.

The counsel advised rejection of both Westcoast and its rival applicant, Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp., on grounds neither has proven sufficient natural gas reserves or finances.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett said he is satisfied that Westcoast will be able to answer the objections raised by the counsel when it delivers its rebuttal brief before the federal commission on May 26.

The premier said the objections were not unusual.

Mr. Sommers said "the situation doesn't appear too bad at all." He said that according to Westcoast officials, "there is no question of gas reserves."

Last August, the company estimated reserves in the Peace River area gas fields at 3.5 trillion cubic feet.

Mr. Sommers said also that the firm is not worried about financing, but that this factor hinges on a "technical point." He said it was a matter of providing "equity."

The Westcoast has been hailed as the answer to any recession problems B.C. might encounter in the next few years. In addition to its initial $130,000,000 cost, it would spur industrial development throughout the entire province.

Final oral arguments on the power commission hearing will be heard on June 1, and then the commission will decide whether the pipeline is to be given the go-ahead.

Bear Raids on B.C. Oil Shares End Quickly

VANCOUVER (CP)—Panic selling of so-called Peace River gas shares dried up after an hour of heavy trading on the Vancouver stock exchange today.

Reds Step Up New Phase of 'Victory Drive' In Indo-China; Acts of Sabotage Feared

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—French bombers struck at Communist forces infiltrating the Red River "rice bowl" around Hanoi today and French troops strung barbed wire and dug trenches to protect delta cities against the second phase of the Red "victory drive."

A French military spokesman described the Communist threat to the delta—stepped up since the fall of Dien Bien Phu—as "serious but not desperate."

Hanoi observers placed an ominous interpretation on the spokesman's description, because it was in almost the same terms that Dien Bien Phu was described shortly before it fell.

American-supplied bombers and fighters operating off heavily guarded delta airfields smashed Red supply bases tunneled beneath ricefield villages within the delta itself.

At one point the Communists had closed to within six miles of Hanoi.

Twenty-six bombers struck at troop concentrations along the Red River southeast of Hanoi.

Extra sentries armed with submachine guns were posted by road and rail bridges to block attemtps at sabotage, particularly along the Hanoi-Haiphon road and railroad which funnel nearly all French war supplies into the delta, which is the key to northern Indo-China.

The 58-mile double artery has been the target of intensified Communist Viet Minh raids ever since the battle for Dien Bien Phu began two months ago.

The rebels command an estimated 100,000 regulars and "provincial" (guerrilla) troops within the delta. French and Viet Nam forces now total about 64,000 men, but many of these are scattered in isolated outposts, virtually encircled by territory under Red political control.

EMERGENCY SESSION FOR BIG 3

GENEVA (CP)—L. B. Pearson, Canada's external affairs minister, today postponed his departure from the Geneva conference.

GENEVA (UP)—The western Big Three called an emergency strategy meeting today to discuss the Indo-China talks and the critical situation in the Far East.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith conferred at 1 p.m., two hours before resumption of Indo-China negotiations.

The three statesmen were confronted with these developments in the fast changing Far Eastern picture:

1. A French decision, supported by the U.S. to try to confine the Indo-China negotiations at this stage to ways of stopping the fighting and avoid getting bogged down in political discussions.

2. A scheduled vote of confidence in the French chamber of deputies on Premier Joseph Laniel's Indo-China policy.

3. Conflicting reports from Washington over a decision by the Eisenhower administration on southeast Asian policy.

Smith assured Bidault Tuesday night, after urgent telephone conversations with Washington, that U.S. policy on Indo-China had not changed.

French delegates to the Geneva conference had misinterpreted remarks made by U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles Tuesday to mean that America might write off Indo-China as a failure.

Overdue Ocean Yacht Arrives in Harbor

40-Foot Sloop 42 Days at Sea on Voyage From Honolulu; Handled by 2-Man Crew

Customs reported at mid-afternoon that a doctor from the Quarantine Station at William Head had agreed to board the Skyline for clearance purposes here without necessity of her sailing to William Head.

By TONY DICKASON

A sleek 40-foot sloop of the North Sea lifeboat type, which had weathered nine months of Pacific cruising from New Zealand, sailed into the bay by Fisherman's Wharf today—and couldn't berth.

Canadian customs said the two men aboard would have to sail her to William Head to be cleared by the quarantine station.

The sloop Skyline, with her two-man crew aboard sailed into harbor shortly before noon, white sides glistening in the sun. The men jumped immediately to furling sails once anchor was cast 100 yards offshore.

A reporter on the wharfside to greet the vessel and crew couldn't shout questions into the wind from that distance.

Fortunately the fishing ketch White Hart was anchored there. Her master, Tony Reeve, was equally curious about the new arrival.

"Let's loose the scow," he said. . . . Minutes later we chugged quietly towards the vessel.

The White Hart got close enough to fire a couple of questions and get a look at the occupants of the Skyline.

They were bare-footed, in denims, one with a Jolly-Roger red beard and the other with full black whiskers.

"Names?" we bellowed.

"Dennis Ryan, from Calgary," hollered one.

"Rod Helmer, from Auckland," shouted the other.

"Where from originally?"

"New Zealand."

"Where arrive from now?"

"Honolulu . . . 42 days ago, we left."

The yellow quarantine flag was up on the mast, cracking in the stiff breeze.

The pair yelled they had also stopped in at Neah Bay, Washington, for a day's rest after the gruelling crossing.

Back at the wharf, Tony Reeve 'phoned customs about clearing the men. Customs replied they would have to go to William Head, a distance of about 20 miles, both ways another four hours' sailing.

"Is that the best Canada can do for them?" inquired Mr. Reeve over the 'phone, quiet but determined. The answer was "yes."

Dr. John Evans, aboard a yacht anchored nearby, said he had been cleared by quarantine on arrival from Honolulu without necessity of sailing on to William Head. He took the trouble to go up to customs atop the rise near the wharf to see what could be done.

"They'll have to go to William Head," said the customs official present.

Ottawa to Pay $400,000 on Marpole Span

OTTAWA (CP)—The federal government has decided to pay up to $400,000 of the cost of a new bridge between Vancouver and Sea Island, site of the Vancouver Airport.

Works Minister Winters, making the announcement in the Commons today, said the amount will be one-third of the estimated cost of $1,200,000 for a span to replace the present Marpole bridge, which he said is inadequate.

Mr. Winters made his announcement after Tom Goode (L, Burnaby-Richmond) asked whether federal aid for the bridge will be given now that the Vancouver city council has agreed to sell Sea Island airport to the federal government.

Swelling streams have cut through four highways in B.C. today.

● Rising water in the Moyie River flooded part of the southern transprovincial highway south of Cranbrook. Bulldozers were used to erect a gravel and dirt rampart.

● Flooding creeks in the Monashee Pass forced closure of the Vernon-Slocan Highway between Vernon and Needles.

● The Trans-Canada Highway has been cut by a washout near Revelstoke, but a temporary by-pass was completed by works department crews today.

● Stream crossing on the Lardeau-Girrard Road have overflowed bridges. Motorists were being urged to use caution.

LEVELS CLIMB

Levels of British Columbia's major rivers were climbing steadily, but were still ominously below normal height.

In view of the heavy snow pack on the Fraser and Columbia watersheds, flood control officials watched gauges with increasing apprehension.

Steady warm rains falling over much of the province added a new worry to residents of low-lying valleys, and two highways were reported flooded at two points in the interior.

RIVERS RISING

The interior mining centre of Kimberley, which suffered $500,000 damage when Mark creek went on a rampage in 1948, set up an emergency flood committee to map plans to meet a threatened outburst.

A similar committee was set up at New Westminster, where Mayor Fred Jackson was empowered to take steps to help protect Lulu Island at the mouth of the Fraser should the river overflow its banks.

Ont. Minister Of Highways Under Fire

TORONTO (CP)—Albert Wren, Liberal-Labor member of the provincial legislature for Kenora, said today he has uncovered new evidence of irregularities in the provincial highways department and urged that Highways Minister George Doucett be called to give evidence under oath.

He said in a statement he will seek to have Mr. Doucett called as a sworn witness before the legislature's select committee investigating highway contracts.

Mr. Wren said he has uncovered "even more evidence of irregularities in the highway divisions outside of Fort William and Huntsville" where 11 men and three companies are now facing conspiracy charges.

He said he wished to swear in Mr. Doucett "because I've a lot of embarrassing questions ready for him to answer."

Former UDL Directors Must Give Answers

Mrs. Nat Bell Wins Appeal Against Vancouver Trio in $3 Million Suit

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Court of Appeal has ruled that three Vancouver men, former directors in a distillery here, must answer pre-trial questions in the $3,000,000 suit of Mrs. Nat Bell of Calgary.

Mrs. Bell, widow of Nat Bell, one of the founders of United Distillers of Canada Ltd., is suing George Norgan, Albert McLennan and Isidore J. Klein, alleging fraud in the sale of shares.

The three were indicted in New York on Tuesday on charges of failing to pay $17,000,000 in taxes on profits made from the sale of Canadian whisky in the United States.

In the Vancouver case, the court ruled that the pre-trial questions of Mrs. Bell must be answered and that they must disclose documents needed in the case.

The court upheld the appeal of Mrs. Bell from a judgment of Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne in Supreme Court. He had ruled the men did not need to disclose the documents or answer pre-trial questions.

Counsel for Norgan, McLennan and Klein claimed the answers might incriminate them.

SLOAN DISSENTS

The Bell suit has been in the courts two years. Associated in the suit with Mrs. Bell are her son, Jack, and daughter, Angela.

The Bells seek an accounting and a share of huge profits alleged to have been made in the U.S. dealing of the distillery men. They seek $2,500,000 or, alternatively, ask for the return of 60,760 shares of UDL stock they sold to the directors in 1945 at $8.33 a share, and also seek $500,000 for dividends on the shares. They claimed the shares were actually worth $50 each.

UDL was sold last year to a subsidiary of Distillers Corporation-Seagrams.
